Joseph M. Fowler, 73, Dies; One of TB Hospital Founders

JOSEPH M. FOWLER

Attorney Also Served as County Judge 12 Years; Was Ill Several Months

Joseph M. Fowler, 73, leading member of the Ulster County Bar Association and one of the most prominent residents of Kingston, died Wednesday afternoon at the Orthmann Sanitarium in this city where he had been a patient. Judge Fowler, who served as Ulster county judge and judge of the Children's Court from 1918 to 1930, had been in ill health for several months. Judge and Mrs. Fowler had made their residence at the Governor Clinton Hotel for several years.

Throughout his lifetime Judge Fowler devoted himself to public service. As a young man he served with the armed forces during the Spanish-American war and on his return to Kingston he interested himself in numerous public movements, among them the matter of eradication of tuberculosis. He was one of the founders 40 years ago of the original tuberculosis camp which functioned until the county erected the present Tuberculosis Hospital on Golden Hill and the original tuberculosis camp was merged with the county unit.

Served as TB President

For 35 years Judge Fowler served as president of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association. From 1906 to 1910 Judge Fowler was a member of the New York State Assembly from what was then the first district of the county. This district included the city of Kingston and the towns of Hurley, Saugerties, Shandaken, Kingston, Ulster and Woodstock.

During the time he served as county judge many important matters came before that court and Judge Fowler earned a reputation for ability in handling those matters which at all times tempered justice with mercy. It was always his firm belief that while the law should be upheld, those who had committed minor offense, or those who because of their youth may have become involved with the law, should be given an opportunity to make good and his faith in those unfortunate persons was frequently affirmed.

Funeral service will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. in the First Dutch Reformed Church, of which Judge Fowler was a member. Burial will be in Wallkill Valley Cemetery, Walden.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler was born at Walden, N. Y., on July 15, 1873, a son of Nicholas Jansen and Elizabeth (Millspaugh) Fowler. He received his education in the Walden public schools, at New Paltz Normal School and then attended Rutgers College where he received his M.A. degree. He attended the Academic and Law Departments of Cornell University where in 1895 he received his B.L. degree. Judge Fowler was admitted to the Bar in 1897 and since that date has practiced law in Kingston with the exception of 1898 when at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, he enlisted in Company M, First New York Volunteer Infantry, serving as corporal and later being promoted during service to the office of second lieutenant.

At the conclusion of the war he returned to Kingston to begin a very distinguished law career which led to his serving as county judge of Ulster county from 1919 to 1930. From 1905 until 1910 he served as member of the New York State Assembly, being elected as representative from the First Assembly district in 1905 by a very handsome majority. He was re-elected on the Republican ticket in 1906 and continued to represent this district until 1910.

In April 1902 he married Catherine Frear of Kingston and they have one son, Nicholas Jansen Fowler, who now practices law in this city. During World War II, Nicholas Jansen Fowler served with the navy, being discharged as Lieutenant Commander.

His Associations

Judge Fowler was a member of the Ulster County Bar Association, New York State Bar Association, the Kingston and Albany Clubs; Wiltwyck Hose Company; a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., since 1898; Cyprus Temple of Shriners; United Order American Mechanics, Cornell University Club of New York,

Car Is Found Wrecked Near Wiltwyck Course

Deputies from the sheriff's office, called to investigate an auto accident on Route 209, near the Wiltwyck Golf course at 7:20 this morning, found that a 1934 Chevrolet coach had left the road and struck a telephone pole. The car was badly damaged, with the windshield, door glass and window on the left side shattered.

They reported no signs of any personal injuries. The license plate showed that the car had been registered in the name of Signorino Carro of 395 Foxhall avenue, Kingston.

Judge Watkins Will Give Sentence Today; Jury Recommends Men Receive 'Utmost Clemency'

New York, March 27 (AP)—Three men were convicted late yesterday of a bribery conspiracy involving wartime sugar rationing and Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins set this afternoon for imposing their sentences.

The jury deliberated for three hours and 42 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty against the three men, Joseph Forman, former corporation counsel of Kingston, N. Y., and current Democratic leader of Ulster county; Harold Gottfried, former president of the Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation of Ellenville, N. Y., and William T. Stanton of Kingston, former O.P.A. investigator.

They were accused of conspiring to influence Stanton's report of an investigation of the corporation's 1941 sugar consumption, to be used as a base for wartime allotments.

In addition, Gottfried and the corporation were found guilty of filing false statements with the O.P.A. concerning the 1941 sugar use.

Gregory Noonan, counsel for the bottling firm, said he would seek an immediate appeal from the conviction, which he termed "unjust and unwarranted."

Clemency Recommended

The jury recommended "utmost clemency," and one of the jurors said the "interests of justice would not be served if these men were sent to prison."

Under the conviction, maximum penalties that could be assessed were two years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine for Forman and Stanton and 22 years imprisonment and a $30,000 fine for Gottfried.

During the trial that began February 4, the government presented evidence to show that

Job of Widening Uptown Street to Start on April 7

Will Add Two Feet to Road on North Front Street; Project to Begin at Washington Avenue

Work on the widening of North Front street is tentatively scheduled to start Monday, April 7, Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of streets announced today.

A full discussion of plans was scheduled to be held at 2 p. m., today in the city hall so that all details of the project might be ironed out to the satisfaction of the Board of Public works and the various other city departments and public service companies involved.

Scheduled to be represented at the hearing were the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company, the New York Telephone Company, the fire and police departments, Western Union and John H. Matthews, plumbing contractor, who was awarded the contract for relocating the water system curb cocks along the street.

Street Superintendent Steuding said he plans to start at Washington avenue and North Front street and work up the street toward Clinton avenue.

Representatives of the public service companies were asked to attend the conference today to discuss the construction work of their companies on the street. The plans will be outlined by City Engineer Arthur Hallinan and the street superintendent.

The street will be widened by two feet on each side and the curb cocks will be moved approximately that distance.

The police and fire departments will discuss problems arising of the project and affecting their departments.

County Red Cross Total Is Reported Now to Be $28,000

A total of $24,250 has been subscribed to date toward the Red Cross campaign to raise a quota of $28,000 in Ulster county, it was reported at the local Red Cross office this morning.

The report showed that two more towns have exceeded their quota in the present drive. The town of Lloyd, with William Upright and Albert Lester serving as co-chairmen, reports contributions of $1040 against a quota of $1,000. Kenneth Davenport, chairman for the town of Marbletown, reports $1,005 received, which is well in excess of its quota of $800.

Analyst Doubts Major War Will Fall on World Now

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(A.P.) Foreign Affairs Analyst)

If your correspondent had a dollar for every time he has been asked whether a major war seems likely to grow out of the Greco-Turkish crisis, he would be able to retire and quit crystal gazing.

However, while these questions have kept pouring in I've been greatly impressed by the absence of any expressions of "fear" in connection with such inquiries. My observation is that the general public is not "afraid" in the accepted sense of the term.

The American people are confident that their country can handle any emergency. Still, that doesn't alter the fact that peace loving folk have a very natural anxiety over any possibility of another world conflict.

General Eisenhower assures us that no country at present "would deliberately provoke war." He warned, though, that there always exists the possibility of an incident being precipitated by some "immature nation." While the general didn't pin this specifically to the Balkan imbroglio, we are safe in assuming that it covers this situation.

Washington has stated categorically that America's proposed aid to Greece and Turkey won't include any troops. A lot of people, however, are wondering whether Soviet Russia might intervene with soldiers to help the Greek Communists overthrow the Athens Government and seize control of the country.

There's no indication this far that any such move by Moscow is at all likely. On the contrary that's about the last thing one would expect the Soviet Union to attempt, because it would be an open-and-shut invitation for World War—and the signs are tha Russia definitely doesn't want war.

If that were the whole story we could sit back and take it easy. But there's this fly in the ointment: Russia doesn't have to make a direct move in order to get military aid in the form of soldiers to the Greek Reds. Moscow's satellites along the Greek frontier—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—can take care of that and, of course, are accused of so doing not only by Athens but by the United States and Britain.

Greece says that her civil war is being engineered and supported by her Communistic neighbors. Former President Hoover declared a couple of days ago that a large part of the chaos in Greece could be lifted by one man if he were willing, and added:

"That man is Marshal Joseph Stalin. It is within his power to stop the aggressive war in the form of guerilla raids from Yugoslavia, Bulgarian and Albanian territory—that would bring peace to Greece. Then American aid could be devoted to restoring productivity of the Greek people in-

VFW Asks Army Get Atom Hold

Would Warn All

Military Control in His Opinion Would Show Our Feelings

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars asked Congress today to restore atomic energy control to military authorities, interpreting President Truman's proposal to halt Communism in Greece and Turkey as an admission of international difficulties.

Louis E. Starr, V.F.W. commander-in-chief, told the House Committee on Un-American Activities the proposal to aid Greece and Turkey is a "frank admission that all is not well on the international scene and that a challenge to democracy and freedom has again reared its ugly head."

He urged military control of atomic power "to warn the challengers of democracy everywhere that we mean business."

Starr's suggestion is in line with views of some members of Congress. Rep. Landis (R.-Ind.) has introduced a bill to give direction of atomic power development back to military officials.

The committee is considering legislation to outlaw the Communist party. Star presented two prepared statements to the members, one dealing with international phases of Communism and one with domestic.

The V.F.W. head differed with demands by the American Legion and Amvets that the Communist party in this country be erased.

He said the V.F.W. voted in 1946 for exclusion of Communists from the ballot by law. He said the V.F.W. staff since has weighed the implications that this might violate the constitution or drive Communism underground.

'Offensive Campaign'

So he suggested for the present an "offensive campaign" of public education directed at Communism.

Starr said a well-directed and well-conceived "plot is in progress to destroy our present form of government," and questioned whether Congress is playing politics instead of meeting the challenge.

Starr made four suggestions for striking at Communism:

1. That all kinds of organizations, industry and state and local governments apply the same loyalty tests President Truman has ordered for federal workers;

2. That laws be strengthened to forbid use of funds coming directly or indirectly from a foreign government for influencing political activity;

3. That a thorough screening of text books and courses in schools be required by law;

4. That a government authority representing all phases of American life draw up a program to expose subversive activities and re-

Two Persons Hurt Near Marbletown

H. J. Spitzer and Sister of Ellenville Taken to Local Hospital

Harold J. Spitzer, field officer in charge of the Veterans Service Agency office at Ellenville and his sister, Miss Dorothy Spitzer, reported injuries following a collision Wednesday between the car in which they were riding and a truck being driven by John B. King of East Hampton, Mass.

The accident happened on Route 209, in the town of Marbletown, the highway being very slippery as a result of the snow and sleet storm Tuesday night.

King was on his way with a load of goods for Forest City, Pa., when, according to the information secured by County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg, a car just ahead of him stopped, a state highway truck being parked along the road while its crew were at work.

King stopped his truck, but it slid on the icy pavement toward the center of the road and there was a collision between the truck and Spitzer's coupe, which was coming from the opposite direction.

Rescue Leader Doubts Chances of 76 Still Underground in Deep Pits

By CHARLES WHALEN

Centralia, Ill., March 27 (AP)—Fears that the death toll of Tuesday's mine explosion ultimately would reach 111 were intensified today as the bodies of 18 more miners were brought up the shaft of the Centralia Coal Company's No. 5 mine.

The recovery of these victims brought to 35 the number of known dead and left 76 still trapped below. A rescue squad leader gave those pinned underground "no chance at all."

A heavy snow fell over the grim setting as rescue squads, after working through the early morning hours, brought the second group of dead miners from 540 feet below the ground. There were only a few persons at the pit as the bodies were placed in ambulances and taken to a temporary morgue in a nearby bus garage. Last night 16 bodies were removed to the garage. Earlier one miner removed from the mine on Tuesday died.

Twisted and Bruised

An unidentified rescue worker said that the bodies of the 16 brought from the pit today were twisted and bruised and clothing on some were burned, indicating they had been nearer to the explosion than the 16 miners who were found last night.

As the death toll mounted, with a rescue leader predicting it would reach 111, company officials said rescue attempts would be pushed, "we're not going to give up."

The toll of 111 dead predicted by William J. Rowekamp, rescue leader and recording secretary of the Centralia local of the A.F.L. United Mine Workers whose members worked the mine, would rank the disaster as the greatest in the nation's coal fields since 195 lost their lives in 1928 at Mather, Pa.

Total Is Revised

The company presented a revised total of the number of miners who had been in the mine at the time of the blast. Vice President W. P. Young said 142 men had been in the mine and 31 had been removed alive. Earlier he said 151 had been below and 30 had been rescued alive.

Driscoll O. Scanlan, an Illinois state mine inspector, said because of slow progress it might take a week to probe to the end of the 3½ miles seven-foot high tunnel in which the men were trapped. Mule power was being used in preference to machinery for fear of electrical sparks detonating gases collected in the workings.

Other Developments

Meanwhile there were these other developments:

Du Mond Urges Three-Way Cooperation to Aid Economy

Cooperation of agriculture, labor and industry to assure "each segment of the American economy" of a satisfactory return for services was urged today by C. Chester DuMond, state commissioner of agriculture, of Ulster Park.

In a prepared radio address, DuMond declared that he was "convinced that the cooperation between these groups" was "not idealistic nonsense."

"The farmer is dependent on the prosperity of industry and labor if his production of food and fibre is to be disposed of at a profit," DuMond said, according to the Associated Press and added:

"Industry certainly depends upon the farmer and the rural population, whose welfare depends directly on the farmer, for a market for its products. It has been claimed, and I think properly, that industry cannot long survive if farm prices are so depressed that agriculture is prevented by lack of income from purchasing its needs.

"Labor, on the other hand, must depend for its welfare on an uninterrupted flow of manufactured goods through our factories and industries. * * * this group has a vital interest, whether or not they realize it, in where their food comes from and what they must pay for the products of industry which they must use in their homes."

DuMond said the common goal was "to see that each segment of our American economy receives, in return for worthwhile services performed, a price that will allow each of them to derive contentment and satisfaction from their chosen way of making a living."

He cited what he termed "encouraging efforts" being made to bring various groups together for "consideration of over-all problems which are common to them."

"We will never reach the ideal," DuMond continued, "but good common sense thinking by the leaders of each group can bring about a condition where each segment can work and be content side by side. Until this can be achieved we cannot rightfully claim that we have found the formula by which we can survive over the centuries as a republic."

Proposals For Limits AreGrowing

George Says He Will Demand Program Be Directed by U. S. Commission

Deplores Talking

Secretary Says Moscow Parley Is Not Enough on Action Side

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson asserted today that the administration's $400,000,000 measure to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism "is not in the direction of war—but away from it."

His opinion was expressed to the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is conducting hearings on the proposal to send "limited" military missions, as well as money, to the two Mediterranean countries.

Patterson was asked by Rep. Vorys (R.-Ohio) what the term "limited" meant in numbers.

"Anywhere from 10 to 40," Patterson replied. "That is our present estimate. It is based on the assumption that the British military mission will continue (in Greece) for the time being at least."

Vorys: "And Turkey."

Patterson: "Comparable."

Rep. Mundt (R.-S.D.) observed: "It would be very comfortable to the American people if we could spell that out because this legislation is sort of blank checkish."

Mundt added that he "had in mind" offering an amendment limiting the military missions to 100 in each country. He asked:

"Would you have any objection?"

Patterson: "No, sir."

Mundt's suggestion is one of a growing crop of proposals in Congress to write limitations into the bill. As prepared by the administration, the measure would give President Truman broad general authority to lend or give up to $400,000,000 to the Turks and Greeks and send American military men and civilian government employes to help those countries.

George Asks U. S. Control

Senator George (D.-Ga.) told reporters he will demand that the whole program be directed by an American commission and that the Senate pass on Mr. Truman's choice of the men to head the commission.

George is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also currently conducting hearings on the measure.

That group received from Clark Eichelberger, representing the American Association for United Nations, a suggestion today that the international organization be asked to establish a permanent mission on Greece's frontiers to prevent military encroachment from without.

Eichelberger endorsed Mr. Truman's proposal, saying:

"I think this program of immediate unilateral aid is necessary, but the United Nations should be kept fully informed of developments."

Mark R. Shaw, representing the National Council for the Prevention of War, opposed the President's program in testimony to the Senate group.

"We propose to stop Russia all over the world—by force, if necessary—and it will lead to disaster," Shaw asserted.

Observing that the measure will

Taxi Caller at Alarm Box Got Free Ride

Louis Johnson, 155 Abeel street, discovered today that it does not pay to pull the pendant of a fire alarm box when a fellow wants a taxi.

Johnson was sentenced to five days in jail by City Judge Matthew V. Cahill for sounding an alarm from box 1611, Washington avenue and North Front street at 10:43 p. m., Wednesday.

Someone told him, Johnson explained, that a cab could be summoned from a box in the neighborhood, and he thought the fire box was it.

Thomas Cantine, 157 Abeel street, who was with Johnson at the time, was discharged in court this morning. The two were arrested at 11:40 p. m., Wednesday by Officers Kenneth Hyatt and Leonard J. Ellsworth on disorderly conduct charges.

Matthews, plumbing contractor, who was awarded the contract for relocating the water system curb cocks along the street.

Street Superintendent Steuding said he plans to start at Washington avenue and North Front street and work up the street toward Clinton avenue.

Representatives of the public service companies were asked to attend the conferenc today to discuss the construction work of their companies on the street. The plans will be outlined by City Engineer Arthur Hallinan and the street superintendent.

The street will be widened by two feet on each side and the curb cocks will be moved approximately that distance.

County Red Cross Total Is Reported Now to Be $28,000

A total of $24,250 has been subscribed to date toward the Red Cross campaign to raise a quota of $28,000 in Ulster county. it was reported at the local Red Cross office this morning.

The report showed that two more towns have exceeded their quota in the present drive. The town of Lloyd, with William Upright and Albert Lester serving as co-chairmen, reports contributions of $1040 against a quota of $1,000. Kenneth Davenport, chairman for the town of Marbletown, reports $1,005 received, which is well in excess of its quota of $800.

Analyst Doubts Major War Will Fall on World Now

(A.P.) Foreign Affairs Analyst)

If your correspondent had a dollar for every time he has been asked whether a major war seems likely to grow out of the Greco-Turkish crisis, he would be able to retire and quit crystal gazing.

However, while these questions have kept pouring in I've been greatly impressed by the absence of any expressions of "fear" in connection with such inquiries. My observation is that the general public is not "afraid" in the accepted sense of the term.

The American people are confident that their country can handle any emergency. Still, that doesn't alter the fact that peace loving folk have a very natural anxiety over any possibility of another world conflict.

General Eisenhower assures us that no country at present "would deliberately provoke war." He warned, though, that there always exists the possibility of an incident being precipitated by some "immature nation." While the general didn't pin this specifically to the Balkan imbroglio, we are safe in assuming that it covers this situation.

Washington has stated categorically that America's proposed aid to Greece and Turkey won't include any troops. A lot of people, however, are wondering whether Soviet Russia might intervene with soldiers to help the Greek Communists overthrow the Athens Government and seize control of the country.

There's no indication thus far that any such move by Moscow is at all likely. On the contrary that's about the last thing one would expect the Soviet Union to attempt, because it would be an open-and-shut invitation for World War—and the signs are that Russia definitely doesn't want war.

If that were the whole story we could sit back and take it easy. But there's this fly in the ointment: Russia doesn't have to make a direct move in order to get military aid in the form of soldiers to the Greek Reds. Moscow's satellites along the Greek frontier—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—can take care of that and, of course, are accused of so doing not only by Athens but by the United States and Britain.

Greece says that her civil war is being engineered and supported by her Communistic neighbors. Former President Hoover declared a couple of days ago that a large part of the chaos in Greece could be lifted by one man if he were willing, and added:

"That man is Marshal Joseph Stalin. It is within his power to stop the aggressive war in the form of guerilla raids from Yugoslavia, Bulgarian and Albanian territory—that would bring peace to Greece. Then American aid could be devoted to restoring productivity of the Greek people in-

VFW Asks Army Get Atom Hold

Would Warn All

Military Control in His Opinion Would Show Our Feelings

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars asked Congress today to restore atomic energy control to military authorities, interpreting President Truman's proposal to halt Communism in Greece and Turkey as an admission of international difficulties.

Louis E. Starr, V.F.W. commander-in-chief, told the House Committee on Un-American Activities the proposal to aid Greece and Turkey is a "frank admission that all is not well on the international scene and that a challenge to democracy and freedom has again reared its ugly head."

He urged military control of atomic power "to warn the challengers of democracy everywhere that we mean business."

Starr's suggestion is in line with views of some members of Congress. Rep. Landis (R.-Ind.) has introduced a bill to give direction of atomic power development back to military officials.

The committee is considering legislation to outlaw the Communist party. Star presented two prepared statements to the members, one dealing with international phases of Communism and one with domestic.

The V.F.W. head differed with demands by the American Legion and Amvets that the Communist party in this country be erased.

He said the V.F.W. voted in 1946 for exclusion of Communists from the ballot by law. He said the V.F.W. staff since has weighed the implications that this might violate the constitution or drive Communism underground.

'Offensive Campaign'

So he suggested for the present an "offensive campaign" of public education directed at Communism.

Starr said a well-directed and well-conceived "plot is in progress to destroy our present form of government," and questioned whether Congress is playing politics instead of meeting the challenge.

Starr made four suggestions for striking at Communism:

1. That all kinds of organizations, industry and state and local governments apply the same loyalty tests President Truman has ordered for federal workers;

2. That laws be strengthened to forbid use of funds coming directly or indirectly from a foreign government for influencing political activity;

3. That a thorough screening of text books and courses in schools be required by law;

4. That a government authority representing all phases of American life draw up a program to expose subversive activities and re-

H. J. Spitzer and Sister of Ellenville Taken to Local Hospital

Harold J. Spitzer, field officer in charge of the Veterans Service Agency office at Ellenville and his sister, Miss Dorothy Spitzer, reported injuries following a collision Wednesday between the car in which they were riding and a truck being driven by John B. King of East Hampton, Mass.

The accident happened on Route 209, in the town of Marbletown, the highway being very slippery as a result of the snow and sleet storm Tuesday night.

King was on his way with a load of goods for Forest City, Pa., when, according to the information secured by County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg, a car just ahead of him stopped, a state highway truck being parked along the road while its crew were at work.

King stopped his truck, but it slid on the icy pavement toward the center of the road and there was a collision between the truck and Spitzer's coupe, which was coming from the opposite direction.

Rescue Leader Doubts Chances of 76 Still Underground in Deep Pits

By CHARLES WHALEN

Centralia, Il., March 27 (AP)—Fears that the death toll of Tuesday's mine explosion ultimately would reach 111 were intensified today as the bodies of 18 more miners were brought up the shaft of the Centralia Coal Company's No. 5 mine.

The recovery of these victims brought to 35 the number of known dead and left 76 still trapped below. A rescue squad leader gave those pinned underground "no chance at all."

A heavy snow fell over the grim setting as rescue squads, after working through the early morning hours, brought the second group of dead miners from 540 feet below the ground. There were only a few persons at the pit as the bodies were placed in ambulances and taken to a temporary morgue in a nearby bus garage. Last night 16 bodies were removed to the garage. Earlier one miner removed from the mine on Tuesday died.

Twisted and Bruised

An unidentified rescue worker said that the bodies of the 16 brought from the pit today were twisted and bruised and clothing on some were burned, indicating they had been nearer to the explosion than the 16 miners who were found last night.

As the death toll mounted, with a rescue leader predicting it would reach 111, company officials said rescue attempts would be pushed, "we're not going to give up."

The toll of 111 dead predicted by William J. Rowekamp, rescue leader and recording secretary of the Centralia local of the A.F.L. United Mine Workers whose members worked the mine, would rank the disaster as the greatest in the nation's coal fields since 195 lost their lives in 1928 at Mather, Pa.

Total Is Revised

The company presented a revised total of the number of miners who had been in the mine at the time of the blast. Vice President W. P. Young said 142 men had been in the mine and 31 had been removed alive. Earlier he said 151 had been below and 30 had been rescued alive.

Driscoll O. Scanlan, an Illinois state mine inspector, said because of slow progress it might take a week to probe to the end of the 3½ miles seven-foot high tunnel in which the men were trapped. Mule power was being used in preference to machinery for fear of electrical sparks detonating gases collected in the workings.

Other Developments

Meanwhile there were these other developments:

Du Mond Urges Three-Way Cooperation to Aid Economy

Cooperation of agriculture, labor and industry to assure "each segment of the American economy" of a satisfactory return for services was urged today by C. Chester DuMond, state commissioner of agriculture, of Ulster Park.

In a prepared radio address, DuMond declared that he was "convinced that the cooperation between these groups" was "not idealistic nonsense."

"The farmer is dependent on the prosperity of industry and labor if his production of food and fibre is to be disposed of at a profit," DuMond said, according to the Associated Press and added:

"Industry certainly depends upon the farmer and the rural population, whose welfare depends directly on the farmer, for a market for its products. It has been claimed, and I think properly, that industry cannot long survive if farm prices are so depressed that agriculture is prevented by lack of income from purchasing its needs.

"Labor, on the other hand, must depend for its welfare on an uninterrupted flow of manufactured goods through our factories and industries. * * * this group has a vital interest, whether or not they realize it, in where their food comes from and what they must pay for the products of industry which they must use in their homes."

DuMond said the common goal was "to see that each segment of our American economy receives, in return for worthwhile services performed, a price that will allow each of them to derive contentment and satisfaction from their chosen way of making a living."

He cited what he termed "encouraging efforts" being made to bring various groups together for "consideration of over-all problems which are common to them."

"We will never reach the ideal," DuMond continued, "but good common sense thinking by the leaders of each group can bring about a condition where each segment can work and be content side by side. Until this can be achieved we cannot rightfully claim that we have found the formula by which we can survive over the centuries as a republic."

Proposals For Limits AreGrowing

George Says He Will Demand Program Be Directed by U. S. Commission

Secretary Says Moscow Parley Is Not Enough on Action Side

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson asserted today that the administration's $400,000,000 measure to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism "is not in the direction of war—but away from it."

His opinion was expressed to the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is conducting hearings on the proposal to send "limited" military missions, as well as money, to the two Mediterranean countries.

Patterson was asked by Rep. Vorys (R.-Ohio) what the term "limited" meant in numbers.

"Anywhere from 10 to 40," Patterson replied. "That is our present estimate. It is based on the assumption that the British military mission will continue (in Greece) for the time being at least."

Vorys: "And Turkey."

Patterson: "Comparable."

Rep. Mundt (R.-S.D.) observed: "It would be very comfortable to the American people if we could spell that out because this legislation is sort of blank checkish."

Mundt added that he "had in mind" offering an amendment limiting the military missions to 100 in each country. He asked:

"Would you have any objection?"

Patterson: "No, sir."

Mundt's suggestion is one of a growing crop of proposals in Congress to write limitations into the bill. As prepared by the administration, the measure would give President Truman broad general authority to lend or give up to $400,000,000 to the Turks and Greeks and send American military men and civilian government employes to help those countries.

George Asks U. S. Control

Senator George (D.-Ga.) told reporters he will demand that the whole program be directed by an American commission and that the Senate pass on Mr. Truman's choice of the men to head the commission.

George is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also currently conducting hearings on the measure.

That group received from Clark Eichelberger, representing the American Association for United Nations, a suggestion today that the international organization be asked to establish a permanent mission on Greece's frontiers to prevent military encroachment from without.

Eichelberger endorsed Mr. Truman's proposal, saying:

"I think this program of immediate unilateral aid is necessary, but the United Nations should be kept fully informed of developments."

Mark R. Shaw, representing the National Council for the Prevention of War, opposed the President's program in testimony to the Senate group.

"We propose to stop Russia all over the world—by force, if necessary—and it will lead to disaster," Shaw asserted.

Observing that the measure will

Taxi Caller at Alarm Box Got Free Ride

Louis Johnson, 155 Abeel street, discovered today that it does not pay to pull the pendant of a fire alarm box when a fellow wants a taxi.

Johnson was sentenced to five days in jail by City Judge Matthew V. Cahill for sounding an alarm from box 1611, Washington avenue and North Front street at 10:43 p. m., Wednesday.

Someone told him, Johnson explained, that a cab could be summoned from a box in the neighborhood, and he thought the fire box was it.

Thomas Cantine, 157 Abeel street, who was with Johnson at the time, was discharged in court this morning. The two were arrested at 11:40 p. m., Wednesday by Officers Kenneth Hyatt and Leonard J. Ellsworth on disorderly conduct charges.

'Spring Cleaning' Will Be Resumed

Spring cleaning by the Board of Public Works was interrupted by the habits of March which became suddenly violent and wintry earlier this week, but will be resumed in full next week, Street Superintendent Ernest A. Steuding said today.

Ice conditions on the street and the need for an emergency clean-up project because of the high winds, cut short a well-planned street cleaning project, the street superintendent reported.

Meanwhile, six sanding crews, which function on a systematic schedule have been reducing the hazards of ice on hills intersections and along the length of several streets. They started work 11 p. m. Wednesday and have been functioning in all areas of the city.

Other crews have been clearing up fallen limbs and removing trees felled by the high winds. One tree fell near 98 Wall street and another on Wilbur avenue near the city incinerator.

The spring cleaning of the streets had already been in full swing in the business districts when the winds came. It was scheduled to start in residential areas by at least Tuesday, the day on which March decided upon a leonine exit.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, March 26 — The Rev. and Mrs. John W. Tysse, Mrs. Clifford Hotaling, Mrs. Wilbur J. VanWyck and Miss Bertha Sutton attended a missionary meeting in the American Reformed Church, Newburgh, last week. Miss Ruth Ransom was the speaker.

A number of local residents went to New York last Wednesday and attended the flower show at Madison Square Garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton called on their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Dusinberre and son at Modena Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jhn C. Cocks and son, John Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Grill and daughter, Jacqueline of New York spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Cocks.

Several from here attended the union Lenten service at the Brick Reformed Church at Montgomery Sunday evening and heard the Rev. Justin Vander Kolk, professor of theology in the New Brunswick Seminary.

A large number from here attended the G.L.F. dinner at the Hasbrouck Hall in Modena Thursday and enjoyed a turkey dinner prepared by the Modena ladies.

Holy communion will be observed in the New Hurley Church Sunday at 11 a. m. New members will be received and also those who desire to unite by letter. Union Lenten service will be held in the Walden Reformed Church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be the Rev. Franklin Hinkamp of Poughkeepsie.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker, Tuesday afternoon, April 1, at 2:30 o'clock.

The annual congregational meeting of the New Hurley Church will be held at the church hall at Sherwood Corners Wednesday evening, April 2, at 7 o'clock with a pot luck lunch.

The choir of the New Hurley Church will render an Easter Cantata in the church Sunday evening, April 13.

Fred Heidke attended the funeral of his cousin at Tuxedo.

Your Formal Wedding

Do you know the difference between a formal, semiformal and informal wedding? It has nothing to do with where the ceremony takes place—all three types may be held in church, at home in a hotel or club.

It's the bride's dress that sets the tone for the wedding. The members of the wedding party and the other guests must take their costume cues from her.

Traditional satin with sweeping train and veil calls for formal dress all around. A wedding dress with no train, or a short sweep, and a short veil is worn at the semiformal wedding.

At an informal wedding the bride wears a floor or street-length dress with a hat or a headdress, without a veil.

To be radiant on that day of days, iron out all your little problems in advance. Our new Reader Service booklet No. 204 helps you plan wedding of all types, from the simple to the formal. Helpful advice on types of invitations and announcements; budgeting the wedding expenses; guide to wedding attire; duties of the attendants; procedure at ceremony and reception; what to serve.

New York State Looks Forward to Relief From Gale

Predictions Are Made for Snow in Some Areas; Travel About Normal

Buffalo, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—Aside from predictions of snow and cold for some sections, New York today looked forward to full relief from the raging March gale which had spread confusion and hardship for 48 hours throughout the Empire state.

The weather bureau promised a gradual slackening of wind to speeds of 15-25 miles an hour with freezing temperatures and snow squalls up to an inch or so in some areas.

Severe low temperatures were expected to rise somewhat after bringing drastic curtailment of gas service to industrial and private consumers and setting a 76-year record in New York city. The New York city low yesterday was 22 degrees, lowest on an average basis for March 26 since 1871.

Meanwhile in Lyons, Palmyra and Newark home-owners continued conserving natural gas in cooperation with a request from the New York Gas & Electric Corporation.

Outside of Watertown and its outlying districts, the state's roads seemed to be nearing normal. Rail and air transportation was functioning with little delay.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, March 26 — The Rev. and Mrs. John W. Tysse, Mrs. Clifford Hotaling, Mrs. Wilbur J. VanWyck and Miss Bertha Sutton attended a missionary meeting in the American Reformed Church, Newburgh, last week. Miss Ruth Ransom was the speaker.

A number of local residents went to New York last Wednesday and attended the flower show at Madison Square Garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton called on their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Dusinberre and son at Modena Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jhn C. Cocks and son, John Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Grill and daughter, Jacqueline of New York spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Cocks.

Several from here attended the union Lenten service at the Brick Reformed Church at Montgomery Sunday evening and heard the Rev. Justin Vander Kolk, professor of theology in the New Brunswick Seminary.

A large number from here attended the G.L.F. dinner at the Hasbrouck Hall in Modena Thursday and enjoyed a turkey dinner prepared by the Modena ladies.

Holy communion will be observed in the New Hurley Church Sunday at 11 a. m. New members will be received and also those who desire to unite by letter. Union Lenten service will be held in the Walden Reformed Church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be the Rev. Franklin Hinkamp of Poughkeepsie.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker, Tuesday afternoon, April 1, at 2:30 o'clock.

The annual congregational meeting of the New Hurley Church will be held at the church hall at Sherwood Corners Wednesday evening, April 2, at 7 o'clock with a pot luck lunch.

The choir of the New Hurley Church will render an Easter Cantata in the church Sunday evening, April 13.

Fred Heidke attended the funeral of his cousin at Tuxedo.

Your Formal Wedding

Do you know the difference between a formal, semiformal and informal wedding? It has nothing to do with where the ceremony takes place—all three types may be held in church, at home in a hotel or club.

It's the bride's dress that sets the tone for the wedding. The members of the wedding party and the other guests must take their costume cues from her.

Traditional satin with sweeping train and veil calls for formal dress all around. A wedding dress with no train, or a short sweep, and a short veil is worn at the semiformal wedding.

At an informal wedding the bride wears a floor or street-length dress with a hat or a headdress, without a veil.

To be radiant on that day of days, iron out all your little problems in advance. Our new Reader Service booklet No. 204 helps you plan wedding of all types, from the simple to the formal. Helpful advice on types of invitations and announcements; budgeting the wedding expenses; guide to wedding attire; duties of the attendants; procedure at ceremony and reception; what to serve.

Send 25 cents (coin) for "How to Plan Your Wedding" to Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, booklet title and No. 204.

New York State Looks Forward to Relief From Gale

Predictions Are Made for Snow in Some Areas; Travel About Normal

Buffalo, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—Aside from predictions of snow and cold for some sections, New York today looked forward to full relief from the raging March gale which had spread confusion and hardship for 48 hours throughout the Empire state.

The weather bureau promised a gradual slackening of wind to speeds of 15-25 miles an hour with freezing temperatures and snow squalls up to an inch or so in some areas.

Severe low temperatures were expected to rise somewhat after bringing drastic curtailment of gas service to industrial and private consumers and setting a 76-year record in New York city. The New York city low yesterday was 22 degrees, lowest on an average basis for March 26 since 1871.

Meanwhile in Lyons, Palmyra and Newark home-owners continued conserving natural gas in cooperation with a request from the New York Gas & Electric Corporation.

Outside of Watertown and its outlying districts, the state's roads seemed to be nearing normal. Rail and air transportation was functioning with little delay.

BUYING HEALTH INSURANCE

If you operate an automobile in New York State chances are nineteen to one that you carry insurance. If you have a family, chances are better than two to one that you have some form of accident insurance. You probably pay a small sum monthly for group hospital insurance.

You may never cash in on these policies. In fact, you probably hope you won't.

This year, as in years past, you again have an opportunity to invest in some life insurance for yourself, your family and your neighbor.

The American Cancer Society's 1947 drive for funds is now on. Unless we act, statistics show that one in eight persons will be stricken by cancer. That is a terrible thing to contemplate.

Each of us is asked to cooperate with our local committee by contributing whatever we can afford. We are not asked to make large contributions. It will not hurt any of us to make the small contribution requested. It may, indeed, hurt us not to join this fight to eradicate cancer.

The money which each of us gives cannot do very much by itself, but together with the contributions of our next door neighbor and all of our neighbors in the city and county, our dollars become a powerful weapon to help wipe out this great scourge.

Your contribution truly is an investment in insurance, for, if through education and research cancer is decreased the chance you or a member of your family will be stricken is lessened.

Ulster County's quota in this financial drive to be conducted during the month of April is $7,500. There seems to be a lot of money around for various purposes. Here is a cause that we cannot afford to neglect.

AROUSED BRITISH WOMEN

Britons who can remember as far back as the days of the redoubtable Emmeline Pankhurst and her brick-hurling, window-smashing cohorts may take heart and look for improvement in the regulations which effect the daily life of the householder. For British women are once more on the warpath and are organizing resistance to the fuel and food programs now being carried out. They insist that Strachey, food administrator, and Shinwell, who takes care of fuel, must go.

The women are tired of regulations which fail to take into account the practical problems of daily living, and claim that the government is being run by men for men. Perhaps the government would be well-advised to follow the example of the wage-earner who turns over his pay envelope, unopened, to the little woman for disbursement.

Seriously, however, a competent housewife on the ration board might be worth her weight in coupons to government and household both.

TREND IN RETAILING

A number of retailers' associations recently have held their annual conventions. Experts in various phases of merchandising have thoroughly discussed consumer preferences, dealings with manufacturers, the price situation and other problems involved in the complicated business of turning raw materials into goods on store shelves. And the general tenor of feeling is that the consumer will be offered more and better goods and that further price advances must be opposed.

Pricing of goods, as one resolution observed, is the joint responsibility of manufacturer and retailer with the consumer making the ultimate decision on whether the price is right. It does no one any good to produce commodities which people won't buy because they think they are overpriced. And retailers are working to see that goods in the category disappear from the channels of trade.

The effort of retail business to improve quality is an important, and often overlooked, service to the consumer. It is bearing fruit now. The shoddy merchandise which was unavoidable during the war years is going rapidly into limbo. Retail buyers are insisting that manufacturers provide the best possible article for money and they are refusing to buy when they think that isn't being done.

Spring clean-up this year can bring greater safety to numerous homes. Accidents and fires in homes take a heavy toll every year. Fires alone claim six thousand lives in American homes annually. Most of these causes of fire are correctible.

THE MORGENTHAU PLAN

As long as JCS 1067 remains the controlling document of the American occupation of Germany, the Morgenthau Plan prevails. Herbert Hoover's third report to the President of the United States is a direct attack on the Morgenthau Plan as a self-defeating proposal designed to subject the people of Central Europe to total absorption in the Soviet Empire.

Certain features of this Morgenthau Plan have attracted too little attention, but in a document, published in the former Secretary of the Treasury's book outlining the plan, it is obvious that it was not a design for permanent peace, nor was it in harmony with the Atlantic Charter, nor did it serve the United States. It was a proposal for a Carthaginian peace in the interest of Soviet Russia. In his 'Program to Prevent Germany from Starting a World War III' Morgenthau proposes 'the total destruction of the whole German armament industry, and —and this is the gist of it— 'the removal or destruction of other key industries which are basic to military strength.' Our own experience in the last war proves that this means all industry.

He then proposes the starvation of the German people, which has worked out to mean that the American taxpayer has to feed the German people. This he accomplishes by giving about 25 percent of Germany's agricultural production to Soviet Russia and Poland by annexations.

I wish particularly to call attention to Section 11 of the Morgenthau Plan.

'11 United States Responsibility.

"Although the United States would have full military and civilian representation on whatever international commission or commissions may be established for the execution of the whole German program, the primary responsibility for the policing of Germany and for civil administration in Germany should be assumed by the military forces of Germany's continental neighbors. Specifically, these should include Russian, French, Polish, Czech, Greek, Yugoslav, Norwegian, Dutch and Belgian soldiers.

'Under this program United States troops could be withdrawn within a relatively short time.'

Under this plan, the United States was to have been removed effectively from German as swiftly as possible, and the German people were to be placed at the disposal of an army consisting of their 'continental' neighbors. It is to be noted that the British also were to be removed. Of the nine "continental' neighbors, four consist of Russia and three satellites. Against these four were to be pitted five countries that practically have no armies, are dependent nations and live in terror of Russian expansion. Of these five, only the Dutch and the Belgians maintain any real independence. Had this phase of the plan succeeded, Soviet Russia would today have been on the Rhine if not on the English Channel. For it was only the continued presence of an American Army in Germany that prevented Soviet Russia from consolidating Europe into a single state under her control.

Now, we come to Chapter XV of Mr. Morgenthau's book, a chapter which is entitled, "Bring the Men Home." Dealing with such subjects as the American affinity for German girls and the incidence of venereal disease, it is designed to frighten American parents.

Morgenthau comes to this conclusion:

'. . . The duties of an army of occupation in Germany are not the role Americans are best suited to act. Europeans readily understand that, and will be quite satisfied to provide the men, if our cooperation is indicated by membership on the commissions which set policy, on the technical staffs which try to carry it out and on the high military command.

'It is no aspersion on the American soldier to adjudge him too inexperienced in the ways of international banditry to serve as a guard in the German reformatory. The misfortunes of Europe have put its soldiers through the cruel and bitter course of training which fits them to serve most efficiently in the surveillance of Germany. They are willing and able to do the job. Americans can be content with the honor their men have won in the incomparable fight they have fought—and bring them home."

Morgenthau proposed his plan in September, 1944, at Quebec and his book was published in 1945. And everything about the plan has proved disastrous to world peace and to the United States.

SHOCK TREATMENT

As men and women grow older they find that their memory is not quite as good as it was and that they do more foolish things. For this reason most of us may feel that doing unusual or foolish things is just a part of growing old and that there is nothing that can be done about it.

For several years we have been reading of the new specialist, the geriatrician, who treats diseases of old people just as pediatricians treat the diseases of infancy and childhood. But few of us realize that old people have mental ailments that can be treated just as are physical ailments. That is, periods of depression or day dreaming are not necessarily because they are growing old.

You have been reading and hearing much about electric shock treatment for mental and emotional ailments and our mental specialists (psychiatrists) now state that these shock treatments are helpful in elderly patients and should be used under certain conditions.

In Archives of Psychiatry, Chicago, Drs. F Feldman S Susselman, B Lipetz and S E Barrera present observations on 53 patients over 63 years of age who were subjected to shock treatment at the Albany Hospital. Before giving the shock treatment these physicians carefully studied mental patients suffering with heart disease in terms of what the future holds for the patient with and without treatment. When the mental disease was not due to old age (senile dementia) in a patient over 65 especially with symptoms of depression, mania or day dreaming, electric shock treatment was given unless there were serious heart or blood pressure diseases present. The value of the treatment is seen in the high proportion of patients returned to their homes as either recovered or much improved. "The figures for improvement compare favorably with those obtained in the treatment of younger patients with similar conditions especially the depressions."

The above should be reassuring to old people and their families because little slips in memory and depression and day dreaming should they become worse, can be helped by electric shock treatment.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Until a few days ago our Supreme Court held that a person could cooperate with the Communists or any other group committed to the violent overthrow of our government, associate with them and enlist their help and still be no Communist, provided we could not prove that he personally advocated that final purpose of such enemies. The American people had to prove that a person so accused had this final purpose in his own mind. The people did prove it in this case to the satisfaction of the lower courts, but the Supreme Court wouldn't believe it.

But now look.

The same court now tells us that a man may be adjudged a Communist if he just changes his mind on a given question.

This came down in the case of a New York lawyer who was fired from an important job with the War Manpower Commission because he had been active in a thing called the American Peace Mobilization. This was one of those letterhead and propaganda outfits which sprouted in New York when Hitler and Stalin became allies in their noble joint resistance to the foul aggression of imperial Poland. It carried on, opposing our own military and industrial preparations for war and Roosevelt's policy of assistance to Great Britain and France until suddenly, in June, 194 , Hitler, that double-crossing, bloody-handed despot, jumped on Stalin and the peace-loving Soviet government. Then within a few days it changed its name to the American Peoples Mobilization and hollered for help for Russia and Great Britain. The war ceased to be a Polish and British imperialistic war and became a people's war. Curiously, throughout the life of the American Peace Mobilization, it found itself on the side of those vehement Americans such as Charles Lindbergh who were called fascists because they also thought we ought to keep out of the mess, and continued to say so right down to the hour of Pearl Harbor.

A long time after Pearl Harbor, Elmer Davis, our own director of war propaganda, said he had divised his own personal method of deciding whether a person was a Communist or pro-Communist. Anyone who switched over on the war issue when Russia was attacked was. Now that test has become law. The United States Civil Service Commission adopted it and invoked it as a reason to fire this lawyer, the two lower Federal Courts approved it and now the Supreme Court has refused to consider the fellow's appeal. This means in very practical effect that the Supreme Court, as of this moment, recognizes the Davis test and regards the decisions of the commission, the District Court and the Court of Appeals as legal and just. However, the thing was done under a special wartime regulation of the Civil Service Commission, so perhaps the same fellow would be vindicated in time of peace. I thought Davis' test was all right long before he propounded it. I applied it to Mrs. Roosevelt's friend, Joe Curran, the president of the National Maritime Union, and to other friends of herself while he and Mr. Big were giving them plenty of character. But I always thought it was weak law because I meant that a person couldn't change his mind. My way would have been to keep the Communists out of the government way back there and the fellow in this case got in in 1935 and hung on until 1944. You can do it without violating any law or anybody's rights if you have a mind to. You may have noticed that those people whom Roosevelt wanted to keep out were kept out such as Herbert Hoover, Jim Farley, Robert Moses and Lindbergh. So don't tell me he and she didn't want Communists in our government.

Now we would be in a terrible fix if we all could be adjudged Communists and traitors just because we agreed with the Communists on some one issue or a number of propositions. Forgive me if you can, but I agree with the Communists and Henry Wallace, who agrees with them almost entirely as well as I can judge, that we don't belong in that mess in Greece and ought to get out of Europe as fast as we can. My reasons seem not to be the same, but we do agree on the proposition. The Communists and Wallace think President Truman's proposal is a step toward war. So do I. But I think also that war is inevitable with Russia because it is so written in the book of Lenin and the book of Stalin and I figure that we ought to reorganize our country and our strength instead of sprawling all over a lot of no-account outposts and squandering our efforts on debilitated nations and peoples whom we can't support anyway. Yes, squandering our efforts. Squandering the work of our people. This venture and others that would surely follow take money. Our government puts up the money. Where does it come from? From our income taxes. Where do the taxes come from? They come off the pay which you earn by working.

But I never knowingly associate or have any truck with Communists. They are enemies of my country and therefore my enemies and I say our Constitution should not be invoked to protect persons who know what they are up to and 'cooperate' with them in activities which are merely preparatory to the bloody insurrection of the future. All their activities are bent to that final purpose and I say anyone who helps them in the preparatory work is one of them by intentional association. A pick-and-shovel man is paid off and gone away by the time the roof is finished but you wouldn't say he didn't knowingly take part in the building of a house.

Of course, you can read in the majority opinions in the Harry Bridges deportation or habeas corpus case that they were determined to absolve him and let him stay here.

But you might get a few crooked laughs out of some of the language used in the majority opinion by Douglas to justify the result.

One place he writes that deportation may visit upon a man as great a hardship as the deprivation of the right to pursue a vocation." How do you like that from a fellow who has sat there and watched native Americans not only deprived of their right to pursue their vocations by some of the most brutal and despicable thugs in history but robbed, slugged and forbidden to protest, all with the general approval of this court?

And again he says Bridges is okay because he opposed the Communist tactics of fomenting strikes, believed in arbitration and direct negotiation with the strike reserved only as a last resort."

That might seem to be an official dictum of the court against the fomentation of strikes and refusal to arbitrate and negotiate, but don't rely on that interpretation. They will pull the rug from under you, sure.

Legislative Sabotage Is Term Used to Discuss What Is Happening to U. S. Marine Corps

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 27—The Marine Corps is again fighting for its life. Despite the wonderful record made by the marines in World Wars I and II and the sacrifices made by its officers and men in some of the toughest fighting that troops have ever faced, a program of legislative sabotage is under way to undermine the future of the Marine Corps.

Marine Corps officers from top to bottom are disturbed over what is happening and are calling on their friends everywhere to become informed on what is going on.

The problem lies in the utter vagueness of the proposed bill which is supposed to merge the armed services. Almost everything is left to executive order. The Marine Corps, which has hitherto enjoyed the protection of a statutory definition of its role and mission, could be abolished overnight if the pending bill is passed.

The bill before Congress which is supposed to reflect the administration point of view gives the new secretary of defense authority to modify or redistribute functions in the future as he sees fit. As the bill is now written, marine officers are excluded from serving on the joint chiefs of staff or as aides or assistants to the secretary of defense. The reference in the present bill is to 'officers of the navy.'

This phrasing, according to legal experts, would not include Marine Corps officers. Also the secretary of defense has absolute power over the budget and could decline to recommend funds for the Marine Corps any time he wished to do so.

Senator Byrd of Virginia, Democrat, has already announced that he will not vote for the merger bill unless functions are more specifically defined in the statute than is done in the pending bill.

It is significant that President Truman in his message to Congress on June 15 last did include a clear and satisfactory definition of the roles and missions which he favored for the Marine Corps, so the President can hardly blame the Marine Corps for being disturbed by the sins of omission in the present bill. Mr. Truman recommended in identical letters to the Senate and House committees that roles and missions such as he outlined be enacted into legislation.

It is puzzling that the commandant of the Marine Corps should not be given the right to participate in conferences of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff. He was not even put on the list of witnesses in connection with the hearings, though individual members insisted on calling him for next week.

When General Vandegrift, the hero of Gundalcanal, testified the last year he referred to secret papers in the War Department general staff containing discussions looking toward the crippling of the Marine Corps. It seems certain that publication of these will be forced and this will bring into the open something which the public has a right to know—the deliberate effort to wipe out the Marine Corps as it has been previously known.

The Marines, it appears, would be relegated to the status of light units of the commando type. This would be a blow to the security of the United States. For experience teaches that the Marines are the finest kind of troops. They are, in fact, an intelligent variety of 'suicide troops,' for they take objectives such as were faced in Saipan and Iwo Jima in a manner that has won the admiration of fighting men the world over.

It isn't that other American troops are any less brave. On the contrary, it is not a matter of bravery merely but of specialized training and corps spirit. To make a merger on paper which disregards America of the Marines—who have been fighting especially in amphibious operations since 1789—is to ignore specialization and set the clock back in amphibious warfare.

BUYING HEALTH INSURANCE

If you operate an automobile in New York State chances are nineteen to one that you carry insurance. If you have a family, chances are better than two to one that you have some form of accident insurance. You probably pay a small sum monthly for group hospital insurance.

You may never cash in on these policies. In fact, you probably hope you won't.

This year, as in years past, you again have an opportunity to invest in some life insurance for yourself, your family and your neighbor.

The American Cancer Society's 1947 drive for funds is now on. Unless we act, statistics show that one in eight persons will be sticken by cancer. That is a terrible thing to contemplate.

Each of us is asked to cooperate with our local committee by contributing whatever we can afford. We are not asked to make large contributions. It will not hurt any of us to make the small contribution requested. It may, indeed, hurt us not to join this fight to eradicate cancer.

The money which each of us gives cannot do very much by itself, but together with the contributions of our next door neighbor and all of our neighbors in the city and county, our dollars become a powerful weapon to help wipe out this great scourge.

Your contribution truly is an investment in insurance, for, if through education and research cancer is decreased the chance you or a member of your family will be stricken is lessened.

Ulster County's quota in this financial drive to be conducted during the month of April is $7,500. There seems to be a lot of money around for various purposes. Here is a cause that we cannot afford to neglect.

AROUSED BRITISH WOMEN

Britons who can remember as far back as the days of the redoubtable Emmeline Pankhurst and her brick-hurling, window-smashing cohorts may take heart and look for improvement in the regulations which effect the daily life of the householder. For British women are once more on the warpath and are organizing resistance to the fuel and food programs now being carried out. They insist that Strachey, food administrator, and Shinwell, who takes care of fuel, must go.

The women are tired of regulations which fail to take into account the practical problems of daily living, and claim that the government is being run by men for men. Perhaps the government would be well-advised to follow the example of the wage-earner who turns over his pay envelope, unopened, to the little woman for disbursement.

Seriously, however, a competent housewife on the ration board might be worth her weight in coupons to government and household both.

TREND IN RETAILING

A number of retailers' associations recently have held their annual conventions. Experts in various phases of merchandising have thoroughly discussed consumer preferences, dealings with manufacturers, the price situation and other problems involved in the complicated business of turning raw materials into goods on store shelves. And the general tenor of feeling is that the consumer will be offered more and better goods and that further price advances must be opposed.

Pricing of goods, as one resolution observed, is the joint responsibility of manufacturer and retailer with the consumer making the ultimate decision on whether the price is right. It does no one any good to produce commodities which people won't buy because they think they are overpriced. And retailers are working to see that goods in the category disappear from the channels of trade.

The effort of retail business to improve quality is an important, and often overlooked, service to the consumer. It is bearing fruit now. The shoddy merchandise which was unavoidable during the war years is going rapidly into limbo. Retail buyers are insisting that manufacturers provide the best possible article for money and they are refusing to buy when they think that isn't being done.

Spring clean-up this year can bring greater safety to numerous homes. Accidents and fires in homes take a heavy toll every year. Fires alone claim six thousand lives in American homes annually. Most of these causes of fire are correctible.

THE MORGENTHAU PLAN

As long as JCS 1067 remains the controlling document of the American occupation of Germany, the Morgenthau Plan prevails. Herbert Hoover's third report to the President of the United States is a direct attack on the Morgenthau Plan as a self-defeating proposal designed to subject the people of Central Europe to total absorption in the Soviet Empire.

Certain features of this Morgenthau Plan have attracted too little attention, but in a document, published in the former Secretary of the Treasury's book, outlining the plan, it is obvious that it was not a design for permanent peace, nor was it in harmony with the Atlantic Charter, nor did it serve the United States. It was a proposal for a Carthaginian peace in the interest of Soviet Russia. In his "Program to Prevent Germany from starting a World War III," Morgenthau proposes "the total destruction of the whole German armament industry, and"—and this is the gist of it—"the removal or destruction of other key industries which are basic to military strength." Our own experience in the last war proves that this means all industry.

He then proposes the starvation of the German people, which has worked out to mean that the American taxpayer has to feed the German people. This he accomplishes by giving about 25 percent of Germany's agricultural production to Soviet Russia and Poland by annexations.

I wish particularly to call attention to Section 14 of the Morgenthau Plan:

"14. United States Responsibility.

"Although the United States would have full military and civilian representation on whatever international commission or commissions may be established for the execution of the whole German program, the primary responsibility for the policing of Germany and for civil administration in Germany should be assumed by the military forces of Germany's continental neighbors. Specifically, these should include Russian, French, Polish, Czech, Greek, Yugoslav, Norwegian, Dutch and Belgian soldiers.

"Under this program United States troops could be withdrawn within a relatively short time."

Under this plan, the United States was to have been removed effectively from German as swiftly as possible, and the German people were to be placed at the disposal of an army consisting of their "continental" neighbors. It is to be noted that the British also were to be removed. Of the nine "continental" neighbors, four consist of Russia and three satellites. Against these four were to be pitted five countries that practically have no armies, are dependent nations and live in terror of Russian expansion. Of these five, only the Dutch and the Belgians maintain any real independence. Had this phase of the plan succeeded, Soviet Russia would today have been on the Rhine if not on the English Channel. For it was only the continued presence of an American Army in Germany that prevented Soviet Russia from consolidating Europe into a single state under her control.

Now, we come to Chapter XV of Mr. Morgenthau's book, a chapter which is entitled, "Bring the Men Home." Dealing with such subjects as the American affinity for German girls and the incidence of venereal disease, it is designed to frighten American parents.

Morgenthau comes to this conclusion:

". . . The duties of an army of occupation in Germany are not the role Americans are best suited to act. Europeans readily understand that, and will be quite satisfied to provide the men, if our cooperation is indicated by membership on the commissions which set policy, on the technical staffs which try to carry it out and on the high military command.

"It is no aspersion on the American soldier to adjudge him too inexperienced in the ways of international banditry to serve as a guard in the German reformatory. The misfortunes of Europe have put its soldiers through the cruel and bitter course of training which fits them to serve most efficiently in the surveillance of Germany. They are willing and able to do the job. Americans can be content with the honor their men have won in the incomparable fight they have fought—and bring them home."

Morgenthau proposed his plan in September, 1944, at Quebec and his book was published in 1945. And everything about the plan has proved disastrous to world peace and to the United States.

SHOCK TREATMENT

As men and women grow older they find that their memory is not quite as good as it was and that they do more foolish things. For this reason most of us may feel that doing unusual or foolish things is just a part of growing old and that there is nothing that can be done about it.

For several years we have been reading of the new specialist, the geriatrician, who treats diseases of old people just as pediatricians treat the diseases of infancy and childhood. But few of us realize that old people have mental ailments that can be treated just as are physical ailments. That is, periods of depression or day dreaming are not necessarily because they are growing old.

You have been reading and hearing much about electric shock treatment for mental and emotional ailments and our mental specialists (psychiatrists) now state that these shock treatments are helpful in elderly patients and should be used under certain conditions.

In Archives of Psychiatry, Chicago, Drs. F. Feldman, S. Susselman, B. Lipetz and S. E. Barrera present observations on 53 patients over 63 years of age who were subjected to shock treatment at the Albany Hospital. Before giving the shock treatment these physicians carefully studied mental patients suffering with heart disease in terms of what the future holds for the patient with and without treatment. When the mental disease was not due to old age (senile dementia) in a patient over 65, especially with symptoms of depression, mania or day dreaming, electric shock treatment was given unless there were serious heart or blood pressure diseases present. The value of the treatment is seen in the high proportion of patients returned to their homes as either recovered or much improved. "The figures for improvement compare favorably with those obtained in the treatment of younger patients with similar conditions, especially the depressions."

The above should be reassuring to old people and their families because little slips in memory and depression and day dreaming, should they become worse, can be helped by electric shock treatment.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Until a few days ago our Supreme Court held that a person could cooperate with the Communists or any other group committed to the violent overthrow of our government, associate with them and enlist their help and still be no Communist provided we could not prove that he personally advocated that final purpose of such enemies. The American people had to prove that a person so accused had this final purpose in his own mind. The people did prove it in this case to the satisfaction of the lower courts, but the Supreme Court wouldn't believe it.

But now look.

The same court now tells us that a man may be adjudged a Communist if he just changes his mind on a given question.

This came down in the case of a New York lawyer who was fired from an important job with the War Manpower Commission because he had been active in a thing called the American Peace Mobilization. This was one of those letterhead and propaganda outfits which sprouted in New York when Hitler and Stalin became allies in their noble joint resistance to the foul aggression of imperial Poland. It carried on, opposing our own military and industrial preparations for war and Roosevelt's policy of assistance to Great Britain and France until suddenly, in June, 1941, Hitler, that double-crossing, bloody-handed despot, jumped on Stalin and the peace-loving Soviet government. Then, within a few days, it changed its name to the American People's Mobilization and hollored for help for Russia and Great Britain. The war ceased to be a Polish and British imperialistic war and became a people's war. Curiously, throughout the life of the American Peace Mobilization, it found itself on the side of those vehement Americans such as Charles Lindbergh who were called fascists because they also thought we ought to keep out of the mess, and continued to say so right down to the hour of Pearl Harbor.

A long time after Pearl Harbor, Elmer Davis, our own director of war propaganda, said he had divised his own personal method of deciding whether a person was a Communist or pro-Communist. Anyone who switched over on the war issue when Russia was attacked was. Now that test has become law. The United States Civil Service Commission adopted it and invoked it as a reason to fire this lawyer, the two lower Federal Courts approved it and now the Supreme Court has refused to consider the fellow's appeal. This means in very practical effect that the Supreme Court, as of this moment, recognizes the Davis test and regards the decisions of the commission, the District Court and the Court of Appeals as legal and just. However, this thing was done under a special wartime regulation of the Civil Service Commission, so perhaps the same fellow would be vindicated in time of peace. I thought Davis' test was all right long before he propounded it. I applied it to Mrs. Roosevelt's friend, Joe Curran, the president of the National Maritime Union, and to other friends of herself while she and Mr. Big were giving them plenty of character. But I always thought it was weak law because it meant that a person couldn't change his mind. My way would have been to keep the Communists out of the government way back there, and the fellow in this case got in in 1935 and hung on until 1944. You can do it without violating any law or anybody's rights if you have a mind to. You may have noticed that those people whom Roosevelt wanted to keep out were kept out, such as Herbert Hoover, Jim Farley, Robert Moses and Lindbergh. So don't tell me he and she didn't want Communists in our government.

Now we would be in a terrible fix if we all could be adjudged Communists and traitors just because we agreed with the Communists on some one issue or a number of propositions. Forgive me if you can, but I agree with the Communists and Henry Wallace, who agrees with them almost entirely as well as I can judge, that we don't belong in that mess in Greece and ought to get out of Europe as fast as we can. My reasons seem not to be the same, but we do agree on the proposition. The Communists and Wallace think President Truman's proposal is a step toward war. So do I. That might seem to be an official dictum of the court against the fomentation of strikes and refusal to arbitrate and negotiate, but don't rely on that interpretation. They will pull the rug from under you, sure.

When General Vandegrift, the hero of Guadalcanal, testified the last year he referred to secret papers in the War Department general staff containing discussions looking toward the crippling of the Marine Corps. It seems certain that publication of these will be forced, and this will bring into the open something which the public has a right to know—the deliberate effort to wipe out the Marine Corps as it has been previously known.

The Marines, it appears, would be relegated to the status of light units of the commando type. This would be a blow to the security of the United States. For experience teaches that the Marines are the finest kind of troops. They are, in fact, an intelligent variety of "suicide troops," for they take objectives, such as were faced in Saipan and Iwo Jima, in a manner that has won the admiration of fighting men the world over.

It isn't that other American troops are any less brave. On the contrary, it is not a matter of bravery merely but of specialized training and corps spirit. To make a merger on paper which deprives America of the Marines—whose units have been fighting, especially in amphibious operations, since 1789—is to ignore specialization and set the clock back in amphibious warfare.

Dewey Signs Bill Boosting Increment of State Jobs

Albany, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—Emergency wartime increases of nearly $25,000,000 will be added permanently to the state payroll under a bill signed today by Governor Dewey that provides the most drastic revision of New York's wage and job structure in a decade.

The measure, effective April 1, affects the state's 50,000 Civil Service employes whose three combined wartime pay boosts ranged from 14 to 30 per cent.

No major salary increases are provided beyond making the temporary raises permanent but there will be some raises, averaging about $50 a year, to "round out inequalities."

Governor Dewey also signed legislation to provide:

1.—An additional $2,000,000 in state aid to central school districts for the year ending June 30, 1948.

2.—An additional $5,000,000 to expand temporary facilities at permanent and temporary colleges to accommodate record numbers of students, including thousands of ex-servicemen.

The state salary bill, approved by Dewey without comment, establishes a new scale of basic starting salaries ranging from $1,600 to $11,000 with increment-reached maximums of from $2,080 to $12,500.

Existing scales, excluding the wartime raises, run from $1,200 to $10,000 with ultimate maximums of from $1,600 to $11,000.

Dewey signed other bills:

Providing for construction of a connecting highway, costing an estimated $2,000,000 between Van Wyck Expressway and Grand Central Parkway in New York city as part of a state-financed arterial highway system.

Requiring that motor vehicles be equipped with windshield wipers or similar devices.

Continuing until April 1, 1948, provisions of the Soldiers and Sailor Civil Relief Act.

Providing that on resolution of a county board of supervisors, the state health commissioner may order all dogs over six months of age in a county to be vaccinated at county expenses to prevent rabies; establishing a $25 fine for owner refusing to submit dog for vaccination.

Continuing until January 1, 1950, authority of the Conservation Department to regulate taking of pheasants in all counties except on Long Island.

Allowing Nassau County Board of Supervisors' salaries be fixed by ordinance instead of at $5,000 annually.

British Floods Recede

London, March 27 (AP)—Flood waters receded slowly throughout England and Wales today but many hundreds remained in refugee centers or marooned in upper floors of their homes. Relief agencies prepared a nation-wide relief program and the lord mayor of London, Sir Bracewell Smith, appealed for donations. The national government had contributed $4,000,000. Thirty airplanes were due today bringing American Red Cross contributions of 50 tons of soap, 1,000 brushes and 1,000 gallons of disinfectant. The Air Ministry forecast generally fair weather.

More bituminous coal is moved by American railroads than any other type of freight.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Accord Homemaking

The regular monthly meeting of the Accord Homemaking 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. Davenport recently.

Mrs. Davenport demonstrated how to make different kinds of salads. A discussion also was made on the recent egg demonstration held at the Hurley school Saturday, March 22.

Natalie Davenport and Betty Countryman, Janet Dane and Margaret Davenport, Ruth Williams and Carol Countryman received red ribbons at the demonstration. Janet Dale and Margaret Davenport will attend the next meeting.

After the discussions, salads were served.

Rifton Unit

The Rifton 4-H Club will hold a card party at Rock's school house Thursday evening, March 27, at 8:30 o'clock.

At the regular weekly meeting of Anderson 4-H Homemaking Club Tuesday afternoon members held a surprise party for Ellen, Shirley, and Janet Benton, who are moving soon to Catskill. It was decided to hold a food sale in Card's store Saturday, March 29, to raise funds to finance the food projects. Subjects for demonstrations for County Demonstration Day in May were discussed. Next week at the regular meeting all members are to bring their aprons and will begin the cooking project, "Let's Have a Party." It was also decided to divide the group into an older girls group and a younger girls group. All girls over 12 will be members of the older group and will meet the first and third Wednesday evenings of the month at 7 o'clock at the home of the leader, Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth. Girls of those ages interested are invited to join. The younger group will continue to meet Tuesday afternoons after school at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth.

Walter Ellsworth was in Middletown on Tuesday where he competed in Southeastern New York 4-H Club Dairy Demonstrations.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Husband—Mary, here's a hair in this pie crust.

Wife—It looks like one of yours Henry. It must have come off the rolling pin.

"Now Robert," said the teacher, "can you tell me what human nature is?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied Robert. "It's people 'fore they get into society."

The ambitious wife went to her husband and informed him she was going to economize. "I'm going to cut out my dresses," she said.

"Oh, I wouldn't go as far as that," he replied. "Cutting out those high priced hats and cigarettes will be sufficient."

"What is your view of kissing?" I asked a flapper wise.

She said: "I haven't any. I always shut my eyes."

Her: "A pastry cook and a poet have asked me to marry them and I don't know which to accept."

She: "Well, as for as I can see it's a question of marrying for better or for verse."

"Is your new son-in-law a good provider?"

"He can just about keep my daughter in gloves. I pay for everything else."

"Then he deceived you as to his circumstances?"

"No, I remember he merely asked for her hand."

It was the day after graduation and the college graduate swaggered confidently into the big corporation and asked to see the president. He was told to wait in the anteroom, and while there he noticed a gum-chewing boy also waiting. "Maybe you could tell me, son," he inquired importantly, "if there is an opening for a college graduate here?" "There will be, bud," replied the boy, "if they don't come across with that $5 raise I'm gonna ask for."

"Tommy," said his mother, "be sure and come in early this afternoon to get your bath before going to the Browns for supper."

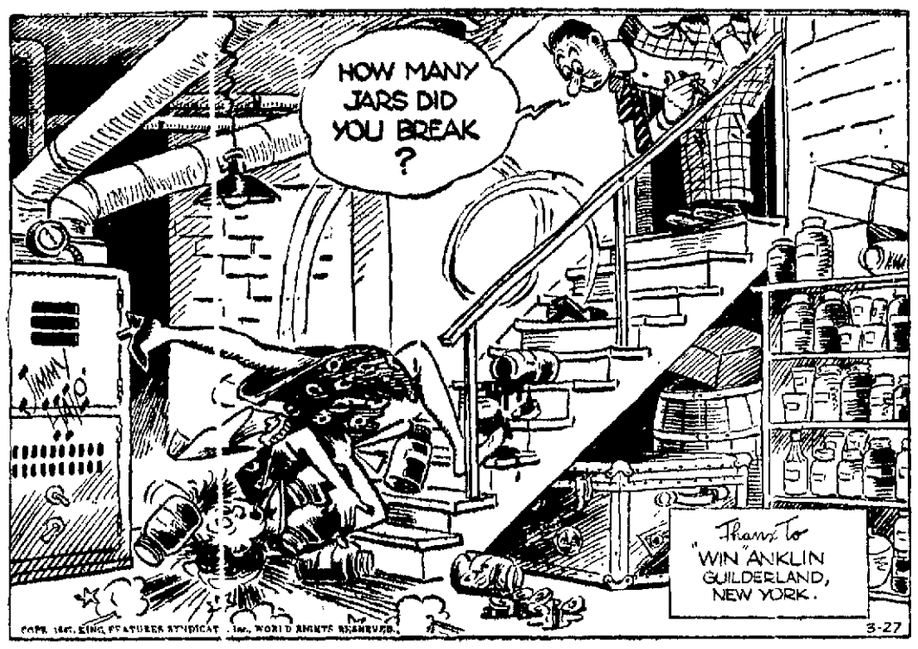

"But Mother," he protested, "I don't need a bath for that. They said it was going to be most informal."

The Ulster Park congregation is invited to attend the communion service in the Port Ewen Reformed Church Thursday evening, April 3.

The regular meeting of Ulster Grange, 969, will be held Wednesday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock. An Easter program will be held.

Ulster Juvenile Grange, 452, held its regular meeting last week. Mrs. Addie Graham, juvenile deputy of Stone Ridge installed the new officers. The next meeting will be held Thursday afternoon, April 3, at 4 o'clock in the grange hall.

Harry Gamson has returned to his home after spending the winter with his son in California.

Mails Elude Thieves

Cargo pilfaging has become so general on the New Zealand coast that an Auckland company making large shipments of clothing has adopted the postal service as the safest method of transportation.

OFFICE CAT

(TRADE MARK REG.) By Junius

Husband—Mary, here's a hair in this pie crust.

Wife—It looks like one of yours Henry. It must have come off the rolling pin.

"Now Robert," said the teacher, "can you tell me what human nature is?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied Robert. "It's people 'fore they get into society."

The ambitious wife went to her husband and informed him she was going to economize. "I'm going to cut out my dresses," she said.

"Oh, I wouldn't go as far as that," he replied. "Cutting out those high priced hats and cigarettes will be sufficient."

"What is your view of kissing?" I asked a flapper wise.

She said: "I haven't any. I always shut my eyes."

Her: "A pastry cook and a poet have asked me to marry them and I don't know which to accept."

She: "Well, as for as I can see it's a question of marrying for better or for verse."

"Is your new son-in-law a good provider?"

"He can just about keep my daughter in gloves. I pay for everything else."

"Then he deceived you as to his circumstances?"

"No, I remember he merely asked for her hand."

It was the day after graduation and the college graduate swaggered confidently into the big corporation and asked to see the president. He was told to wait in the anteroom, and while there he noticed a gum-chewing boy also waiting. "Maybe you could tell me, son," he inquired importantly, "if there is an opening for a college graduate here?" "There will be, bud," replied the boy, "if they don't come across with that $5 raise I'm gonna ask for."

"Tommy," said his mother, "be sure and come in early this afternoon to get your bath before going to the Browns for supper."

"But Mother," he protested. "I don't need a bath for that. They said it was going to be most informal."

Ceramic art attained a high degree of perfection during the reign of Nebuchadnezzar.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Parak, March 25—The Rev. John B. Steketee of Kingston will occupy the pulpit of the Reformed Church Palm Sunday. Service starts at 10 a. m.

The Ulster Park congregation is invited to attend the communion service in the Port Ewen Reformed Church Thursday evening, April 3.

The regular meeting of Ulster Grange, 969, will be held Wednesday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock. An Easter program will be held.

Ulster Juvenile Grange, 452, held its regular meeting last week. Mrs. Addie Graham, juvenile deputy of Stone Ridge installed the new officers. The next meeting will be held Thursday afternoon, April 3, at 4 o'clock in the grange hall.

Harry Gamson has returned to his home after spending the winter with his son in California.

Estimate Board Directs Agreement With Port Group

New York, March 27 (AP)—Without committing itself to approval the Board of Estimate has directed Corporation Counsel Charles E. Murphy to draw up a "definitive agreement" between the city and the Port of New York Authority embodying late changes made by the authority in its plans for developing and operating the city's airports.

The action was taken late yesterday after Murphy had reported to the board on the extent to which the authority had been willing to meet the revisions asked by the city. One change would reduce the lease period from 99 years to 50.

Final solution of the airport operation question, pending for 15 months, probably would not come until the board had approved both the "definitive agreement" and necessary leases. The New York City Airport Authority has offered a rival plan, and Mayor William O'Dwyer has considered continued operation by the city itself.

The Port Authority, a New York-New Jersey agency, has agreed to guarantee the city a rental of $350,000 a year to 1957, and $450,000 yearly thereafter, and jumped the city's share of profits from 50 per cent to 75 per cent when the authority's share of net revenue equals five per cent of remaining amortization and interest on outstanding bonds, Murphy said.

Another concession, he said, was the authority's agreement to spend not less than $100,000,000, based on current construction costs, for development during the first seven years of its operation. No time schedule for its $191,000,000 development program had been in the authority's original offer.

Murphy, in discussing the authority's concessions, called to the board's attention the fact that "it still will not be possible to get an enforceable agreement with the Port Authority until such time as the (New York and New Jersey) legislature is amended to embody the concessions the authority is now willing to give."

Bomb Damages Building

Nuernberg, March 27 (AP)—A bomb explosion last night rocked headquarters of the Bavarian commissioner for racial and political persecutees. The building was damaged but no persons were injured.

Boycott May Hit New Orleans Residents

New Orleans, March 27 (AP)—New Orleanians, their milk supply already drastically reduced by a strike of Florida parishes dairymen, were faced today with a boycott called by officers of the Teamsters Brotherhood (A.F.L.) against stores and other enterprises using milk from New Orleans dairies.

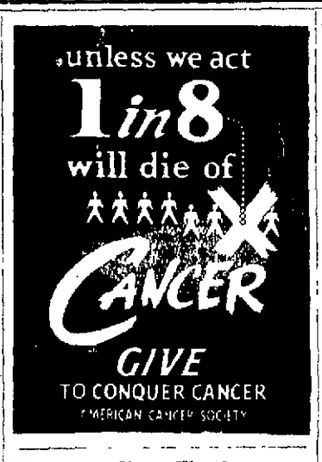

Brotherhood officers said the boycott would affect union locals in New Orleans, the state capital of Baton Rouge, Lake Charles in southwest Louisiana, and Amite and Franklinton in the strike area.

The strike already has cut this city's daily supply of 62,100 gallons of milk by 80 per cent, according to an estimate of Charles Ball, director of sanitation in New Orleans.

Meanwhile, despite orders to the state police to "keep the roads open," the striking dairymen from the Florida parishes (those east of the Mississippi river) continued to halt trucks and trains in their efforts to cut off the supply of milk from New Orleans.

Illinois Central Train No. 3 was stopped last night at Amite for the second time. There was no milk aboard and the farmers allowed the train to proceed. Trucks were halted there throughout the day but none was found to be carrying milk.

The strike was called Monday after New Orleans dairies had notified producers they were cutting the price of milk with four per cent butterfat from $5.75 per hundredweight to $5.20. Thousands of gallons of milk were dumped from truck and train shipments Tuesday.

Famous Dog Trainer Dies in New Hampshire

Wonalancet, N. H., March 26 (AP)—Arthur Walden, 76, famed dog team trainer for Admiral Byrd's polar expeditions, died today in a fire that destroyed his farm home.

Mrs. Walden, about 86, suffered severe burns when her clothing caught fire.

Fire Chief Almon Evans said Walden apparently aided his wife to safety, then went to the kitchen for a pail of water to throw on the fire which started, Evans said, from a living room fireplace.

Walden was found in the kitchen, and although he was severely burned, Dr. Robert Quimby said he died of a heart ailment.

Walden was chief dog driver for Admiral Richard E. Byrd's 1930 Antarctic expedition and had been breeding sled dogs since long before the Alaska gold rush of 1898.

Police Presume Collyer Is Dead

Search, However, Goes on in 3-Story House

New York, March 27 (AP)—Langley Collyer, the 61-year-old recluse whose disappearance after the death of his brother Homer, 65, led to a search of his junk-packed house, is presumed by police to be dead.

The presumption is largely a legal one, because the hunt for the younger brother still is under way in the jampacked rooms of the three-story brownstone house on once fashionable upper Fifth Avenue. Langley Collyer last was seen last Thursday, the day before his brother was found dead of heart disease at the house.

Police moved yesterday to clarify legal aspects of the search, which has necessitated removal of tons of junk from the house, after a Collyer relative protested that items of value were being discarded. Deputy Chief Inspector Conrad Rothengast submitted to Public Administrator Francis J. Mulligan an affidavit.

"The sum and substance of this report," Mulligan told reporters, "is that they (the police) believe Langley Collyer also is dead, and they ask the public administrator to take over."

Mulligan said his office could not petition Surrogate's Court for letters of administration until it had received such an affidavit.

Yesterday, third day of the search, the third floor of the mansion was inspected. On the basis of the relatives complaint, some items that had been removed were returned to the house.

A city rigger reported that the flooring was "so rotten I broke through and saved myself by straddling a beam."

Atop a mahogany cabinet the searchers found a small seven-shot .22 caliber revolver, two dozen shotgun shells and a dozen .32 caliber cartridges.

Taken Off Tanker

Lewes, Del., March 27 (AP)—James P. Shelton, ordinary seaman of 21 Park avenue, Babylon, N. Y., is a patient in Beebe General Hospital after being removed by the coast guard last night from the tanker S.S. Fort Erie, where he and a fellow seaman were injured. The coast guard reported the Fort Erie skipper asked removal of two men injured by heavy seas while they were cleaning tanks. A rescue boat met the tanker at Harbor of Refuge, Del., and took off Shelton. The other injured man, as yet unidentified, was kept aboard while a physician examined him to determine whether his spine was fractured.

Estimate Board Directs Agreement With Port Group

New York, March 27 (AP)—Without committing itself to approval the Board of Estimate has directed Corporation Counsel Charles E. Murphy to draw up a "definitive agreement" between the city and the Port of New York Authority embodying late changes made by the authority in its plans for developing and operating the city's airports.

The action was taken late yesterday after Murphy had reported to the board on the extent to which the authority had been willing to meet the revisions asked by the city. One change would reduce the lease period from 99 years to 50.

Final solution of the airport operation question, pending for 15 months, probably would not come until the board had approved both the "definitive agreement" and necessary leases. The New York City Airport Authority has offered a rival plan, and Mayor William O'Dwyer has considered continued operation by the city itself.

The Port Authority, a New York-New Jersey agency, has agreed to guarantee the city a rental of $350,000 a year to 1957, and $450,000 yearly thereafter, and jumped the city's share of profits from 50 per cent to 75 per cent when the authority's share of net revenue equals five per cent of remaining amortization and interest on outstanding bonds, Murphy said.

Another concession, he said, was the authority's agreement to spend not less than $100,000,000, based on current construction costs, for development during the first seven years of its operation. No time schedule for its $191,000,000 development program had been in the authority's original offer.

Murphy, in discussing the authority's concessions, called to the board's attention the fact that "it still will not be possible to get an enforceable agreement with the Port Authority until such time as the (New York and New Jersey) legislation is amended to embody the concessions the authority is now willing to give."

Bomb Damages Building

Nuernberg, March 27 (AP)—A bomb explosion last night rocked headquarters of the Bavarian commissioner for racial and political persecutees. The building was damaged but no persons were injured.

Boycott May Hit New Orleans Residents

New Orleans, March 27 (AP)—New Orleanians, their milk supply already drastically reduced by a strike of Florida parishes dairymen, were faced today with a boycott called by officers of the Teamsters Brotherhood (A.F.L.) against stores and other enterprises using milk from New Orleans dairies.

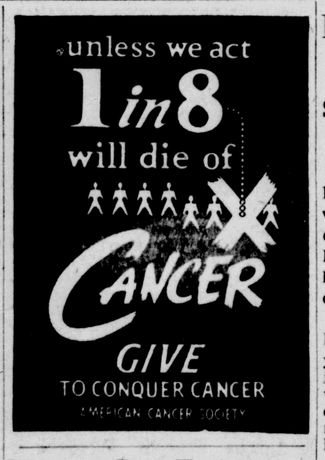

Brotherhood officers said the boycott would affect union locals in New Orleans, the state capital of Baton Rouge, Lake Charles in southwest Louisiana, and Amite and Franklinton in the strike area.

The strike already has cut this city's daily supply of 62,100 gallons of milk by 80 per cent, according to an estimate of Charles Ball, director of sanitation in New Orleans.

Meanwhile, despite orders to the state police to "keep the roads open," the striking dairymen from the Florida parishes (those east of the Mississippi river) continued to halt trucks and trains in their efforts to cut off the supply of milk from New Orleans.

Illinois Central Train No. 3 was stopped last night at Amite for the second time. There was no milk aboard and the farmers allowed the train to proceed. Trucks were halted there throughout the day but none was found to be carrying milk.

The strike was called Monday after New Orleans dairies had notified producers they were cutting the price of milk with four per cent butterfat from $5.75 per hundredweight to $5.20. Thousands of gallons of milk were dumped from truck and train shipments Tuesday.

Famous Dog Trainer Dies in New Hampshire

Wonalancet, N. H., March 26 (AP)—Arthur Walden, 76, famed dog team trainer for Admiral Byrd's polar expeditions, died today in a fire that destroyed his farm home.

Mrs. Walden, about 86, suffered severe burns when her clothing caught fire.

Fire Chief Almon Evans said Walden apparently aided his wife to safety, then went to the kitchen for a pail of water to throw on the fire which started, Evans said, from a living room fireplace.

Walden was found in the kitchen, and although he was severely burned, Dr. Robert Quimby said he died of a heart ailment.

Police Presume Collyer Is Dead

Search, However, Goes on in 3-Story House

New York, March 27 (AP)—Langley Collyer, the 61-year-old recluse whose disappearance after the death of his brother, Homer, 65, led to a search of his junk-packed house, is presumed by police to be dead.

The presumption is largely a legal one, because the hunt for the younger brother still is under way in the jampacked rooms of the three-story brownstone house on once fashionable upper Fifth Avenue. Langley Collyer last was seen last Thursday, the day before his brother was found dead of heart disease at the house.

Police moved yesterday to clarify legal aspects of the search, which has necessitated removal of tons of junk from the house, after a Collyer relative protested that items of value were being discarded. Deputy Chief Inspector Conrad Rothengast submitted to PublicA Administrator Francis J. Mulligan an affidavit.

"The sum and substance of this report," Mulligan told reporters, "is that they (the police) believe Langley Collyer also is dead, and they ask the public administrator to take over."

Mulligan said his office could not petition Surrogat's Court for letters of administration until it had received such an affidavit.

Yesterday, third day of the search, the third floor of the mansion was inspected. On the basis of the relatives complaint, some items that had been removed were returned to the house.

A city rigger reported that the flooring was "so rotten I broke through and saved myself by straddling a beam."

Taken Off Tanker

Lewes, Del., March 27 (AP)—James P. Shelton, ordinary seaman of 21 Park avenue, Babylon, N. Y., is a patient in Beebe General Hospital after being removed by the coast guard last night from the tanker S.S. Fort Erie, where he and a fellow seaman were injured. The coast guard reported the Fort Erie skipper asked removal of two men injured by heavy seas while they were cleaning tanks. A rescue boat met the tanker at Harbor of Refuge, Del., and took off Shelton. The other injured man, as yet unidentified, was kept aboard while a public physician examined him to determine whether his spine was fractured.

Auley Roosa Held For Grand Jury on 2nd Degree Assault

Bail of $500 was continued pending grand jury action following hearing Wednesday of Auley C. Roosa, Town of Ulster, before Peace Justice Percy Bush, on a second degree assault charge.

Roosa was brought before the justice on the charge which arises out of an altercation between Henri Rethier, proprietor of Les Pommiers and Roosa March 18 near another tavern on Route 9-W March 18.

According to the authorities, Rethier charges that Roosa, during one phase of the altercation, struck him with an instrument which he believed to be a stick. Rethier was hospitalized at a local hospital where he remained for several days.

Bail was fixed at $500 when Roosa was first arraigned and he demanded a hearing. The arrest was made by State Police on Rethier's complaint.

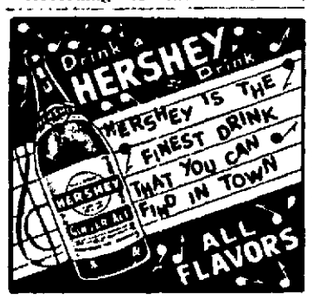

Raymond Mino appeared for the People and N. LeVan Haver for Roosa at the hearing last night.

Fires Are Checked

Local firemen checked two minor fires this morning. The first at 10:49 a. m., at 15 Newkirk avenue was caused by excessive oil in a kitchen range and the second at 10:39 a. m., originated in rope near a muffler on a truck of the Knaust Brothers mushroom company stopped at Wall and St. James streets. Neither caused damage.

O.P.A. to Fire 2,100

Washington, March 27 (AP)—O.P.A. prepared dismissal notices for more than 2,000 additional employes today as it sought to bring operating expenses into line with budget reductions ordered by Congress. Officials of the agency, which is to end activities by June 30, told newsmen O.P.A. personnel will be cut from 13,000 to approximately 10,900 by May 1.

New Jersey Linen Firm Plans Big Laundry in City

Ten Broeck Avenue Site Is Purchased; Will Build Addition, Employ 60

The large building and adjoining property located at 62-68 Ten Broeck avenue, known as the former National Biscuit Company property, has been sold by the Charles F. Gray Estate, owner, to the W. H. Linen Supply Company, Inc., of West New York, N. J., which plans to open a new laundry plant in Kingston that ultimately will employ between 50 and 60 people.

Joseph F. Saccoman, real estate broker of 259 Fair street through whom negotiations for the transfer was made, stated today that the Kingston branch will be known as the White Horse Linen Supply, Inc., and offices of the concern will be opened at 62-68 Ten Broeck avenue.

Marks the Builder

Plans are underway for erection of an addition to the present plant which will give an additional 5,000 square feet of floor space. The plans for this addition have been prepared by George E. Lowe, Kingston architect, and Mr. Saccoman will represent the new owners during the construction. All labor and construction will be under the supervision of John Marks, builder, of 58 Downs street.

Due to the fact that the new plan involves the installation of many tons of machinery and a large boiler system, the new plant in Kingston will not be placed in full operation at this time. It is planned to have the Kingston plant in complete operation by next spring season but service will be given this area this season through the Kingston office, with the actual work being done at the New Jersey plant.

Ten Trucks Bought

At the present time ten trucks have been ordered and several of them have already been delivered and are now having new bodies fitted at the Van Kleeck Garage on the By-Pass.

The concern will be engaged in a special type of laundry work, doing hotel and similar types of laundry work.

Several years ago the property was occupied by the National Biscuit Company and later was leased by the TenBroeck Dress Company which recently moved to the Reina building on lower Broadway where the Walcheraft picture frame company formerly operated.

Why not employ a Veteran?

Dewey, Edelmuth Endorse V.F.W. Drive

Mayors of twenty-one New York state cities, headed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Mayor William F. Edelmuth of Kingston recognizing the need for the work done by veterans organizations in the rehabilitation of veterans—have endorsed the campaign by the New York State Veterans of Foreign Wars to provide funds for expanded rehabilitation services to war veterans, their widows and orphans. As honorary chairmen and vice-chairmen of the drive, they have joined with former Governor Charles Poletti, executive chairman of the campaign, in helping the V.F.W. reach its goal of $300,000.

The raising of the fund, which will be climaxed by a "Command Performance" show at Madison Square Garden, New York, June 7, is necessary to keep pace with the rapid expansion of Veterans Administration facilities in this state. Already handling a top case-load of veterans claims and requests for various rehabilitation services, the V.F.W. is seeking funds to cover the additional costs that go with V.A. expansion.

Prices Slump as Hogs Held by Storm Arrive

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—Hog supplies, which had backed up on farms most of this week because of storm conditions, reached the Chicago terminal in large volume today and dropped prices $1.00 to $1.50 a hundred pounds live weight.

Total receipts of 18,000 head, evenly split between salables and those consigned direct to packing houses, were the largest since February 11. Prices promptly slumped at the opening to $26.75 and $27.000, the latter early top price comparing with a top of $28.50 yesterday.

Receipts at other terminals were about normal.

Called on Chimney Fire

29 Unemployment Insurance Cases Are Concluded

Philip F. Wexner of New York city, unemployment insurance referee, who this week has been holding hearings at the court house on appeals of persons who have been declared disqualified for further payments, concluded his present sittings today after having heard 29 such cases.

Joseph Mahar, assistant claims examiner, division of placement, represented the Kingston unemployment insurance office at the hearings.

None of the appeals heard this week, Mr. Wexner said, represented veterans whose readjustment allowance of $20 a week had been discontinued on the ground that they were working and at the same time continuing to draw the allowance. Such claims might eventually come to him on appeal, he said, but there had been none during the present hearings.

Cases heard by Mr. Wexner were appeals of persons formerly drawing unemployment insurance who had been dropped by the Kingston office for various reasons. These included refusal to accept jobs when offered, making no attempt to find work or quitting jobs without good cause.

Speaking of cases where veterans are receiving the $20 a week readjustment allowance, Mr. Wexner said that General Omar N. Bradley had issued instructions that after such veterans had received 10 weekly pay checks they were to be interviewed to find whether they had been making reasonable efforts to secure work.

If the local office finds that the veteran has not made such effort he is to be disqualified from receiving further payments. If he feels that he has been unjustly treated he may make an appeal from the decision.

In the case of veterans found to be working and also drawing allowance payments charges are made against them. If the charges are upheld the veteran is compelled to pay back the amount he has received under such circumstances.

Forman, Stanton

Gottfried paid $1,500 as a bribe, with $1,300 going to Forman and $200 to Stanton.

Stanton, the government contended, reported a larger consumption of sugar for 1941 than the corporation actually had, he then was an investigator for the O.P.A. office at Albany.

Gottfried and the corporation were charged with having filed inflated estimates of the corporation's 1941 sugar consumption to influence the Ration Board in Ellenville to grant an excess supply of sugar under rationing in 1942.

Before giving the case to the jury yesterday Judge Watkins excused Jury Foreman John G. Van Voorhis and substituted Mrs. Florence Prichard, who had served throughout the trial as an alternate.

The defendants were remanded to jail.

Radio Networks May Be Affected By Phone Strike

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The government, its wartime powers to seize strike-bound industries fast running out, found itself in the role of peacemaker today in the gathering telephone crisis.

A walkout by 287,000 members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers is scheduled for April 7, the day after Easter—and there are prospects that some radio network programs as well as many telephone services may feel the effect of the strike if it materializes.

Direct management-union negotiations are stalled over the principle of industry-wide bargaining.

The independent N.F.T.W. wants to negotiate its tend contract demands including a $12 weekly pay increase, on a nationwide basis. The American Telephone System, insists that it will bargain only through its various operating companies, with local conditions taken into account.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibbons conferred with A. T. & T. officials in New York yesterday. He was expected to meet here today with President Joseph A. Beirne and other N.F.T.W. leaders. Gibson was able to effect a last-minute settlement of a similar dispute a year ago.

But at that time, the government had recourse to two laws that would have permited seizure of the entire telephone industry.

One was the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act which went out the window so far as seizure is concerned when President Truman declared an end to hostilities last December 31.

The other was the Second War Powers Act which expires at midnight Monday, March 31.

While Mr. Truman has asked that some of his authority under that act be extended, he did not seek to keep the seizure power.

Auley Roosa Held For Grand Jury on 2nd Degree Assault

Bail of $500 was continued pending grand jury action following hearing Wednesday of Auley C. Roosa, Town of Ulster, before Peace Justice Percy Bush, on a second degree assault charge.

Roosa was brought before the justice on the charge which arises out of an altercation between Henri Rethier, proprietor of Les Pommiers and Roosa March 18 near another tavern on Route 9-W March 18.

According to the authorities, Rethier charges that Roosa, during one phase of the altercation, struck him with an instrument which he believed to be a stick. Rethier was hospitalized at a local hospital where he remained for several days.

Bail was fixed at $500 when Roosa was first arraigned and he demanded a hearing. The arrest was made by State Police on Rethier's complaint.

Raymond Mino appeared for the People and N. LeVan Haver for Roosa at the hearing last night.

Fires Are Checked

Local firemen checked two minor fires this morning. The first at 10:49 a. m., at 15 Newkirk avenue was caused by excessive oil in a kitchen range and the second at 10:39 a. m., originated in rope near a muffler on a truck of the Knaust Brothers mushroom company stopped at Wall and St. James streets. Neither caused damage.

O.P.A. to Fire 2,100

Washington, March 27 (AP)—O.P.A. prepared dismissal notices for more than 2,000 additional employes today as it sought to bring operating expenses into line with budget reductions ordered by Congress. Officials of the agency, which is to end activities by June 30, told newsmen O.P.A. personnel will be cut from 13,000 to approximately 10,900 by May 1.

Ten Broeck Avenue Site Is Purchased; Will Build Addition, Employ 60

The large building and adjoining property located at 62-68 Ten Broeck avenue, known as the former National Biscuit Company property, has been sold by the Charles F. Gray Estate, owner, to the W. H. Linen Supply Company, Inc., of West New York, N. J., which plans to open a new laundry plant in Kingston that ultimately will employ between 50 and 60 people.

Joseph F. Saccoman, real estate broker of 259 Fair street through whom negotiations for the transfer was made, stated today that the Kingston branch will be known as the White Horse Linen Supply, Inc., and offices of the concern will be opened at 62-68 Ten Broeck avenue.

Marks the Builder

Plans are underway for erection of an addition to the present plant which will give an additional 5,000 square feet of floor space. The plans for this addition have been prepared by George E. Lowe, Kingston architect, and Mr. Saccoman will represent the new owners during the construction. All labor and construction will be under the supervision of John Marks, builder, of 58 Downs street.

Due to the fact that the new plan involves the installation of many tons of machinery and a large boiler system, the new plant in Kingston will not be placed in full operation at this time. It is planned to have the Kingston plant in complete operation by next spring season but service will be given this area this season through the Kingston office, with the actual work being done at the New Jersey plant.

Ten Trucks Bought

At the present time ten trucks have been ordered and several of them have already been delivered and are now having new bodies fitted at the Van Kleeck Garage on the By-Pass.

The concern will be engaged in a special type of laundry work, doing hotel and similar types of laundry work.

Several years ago the property was occupied by the National Biscuit Company and later was leased by the TenBroeck Dress Company which recently moved to the Reina building on lower Broadway where the Walchcraft picture frame company formerly operated.

Dewey, Edelmuth Endorse V.F.W. Drive

Mayors of twenty-one New York state cities, headed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Mayor William F. Edelmuth of Kingston recognizing the need for the work done by veterans organizations in the rehabilitation of veterans—have endorsed the campaign by the New York State Veterans of Foreign Wars to provide funds for expanded rehabilitation services to war veterans, their widows and orphans. As honorary chairmen and vice-chairmen of the drive, they have joined with former Governor Charles Poletti, executive chairman of the campaign, in helping the V.F.W. reach its goal of $300,000.

The raising of the fund, which will be climaxed by a "Command Performance" show at Madison Square Garden, New York, June 7, is necessary to keep pace with the rapid expansion of Veterans Administration facilities in this state. Already handling a top case-load of veterans claims and requests for various rehabilitation services, the V.F.W. is seeking funds to cover the additional costs that go with V.A. expansion.

Prices Slump as Hogs Held by Storm Arrive

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—Hog supplies, which had backed up on farms most of this week because of storm conditions, reached the Chicago terminal in large volume today and dropped prices $1.00 to $1.50 a hundred pounds live weight.

Total receipts of 18,000 head, evenly split between salables and those consigned direct to packing houses, were the largest since February 11. Prices promptly slumped at the opening to $26.75 and $27.000, the latter early top price comparing with a top of $28.50 yesterday.

Receipts at other terminals were about normal.

Called on Chimney Fire

Hose 5 of the town of Ulster was called to the home of Harold Halwick at Lake Katrine at 6:30 Wednesday evening where they found a chimney fire. Chemicals were used and the fire was put out with little damage reported.

29 Unemployment Insurance Cases Are Concluded

Philip F. Wexner of New York city, unemployment insurance referee, who this week has been holding hearings at the court house on appeals of persons who have been declared disqualified for further payments, concluded his present sittings today after having heard 29 such cases.

Joseph Mahar, assistant claims examiner, division of placement, represented the Kingston unemployment insurance office at the hearings.

None of the appeals heard this week, Mr. Wexner said, represented veterans whose readjustment allowance of $20 a week had been discontinued on the ground that they were working and at the same time continuing to draw the allowance. Such claims might eventually come to him on appeal, he said, but there had been none during the present hearings.

Cases heard by Mr. Wexner were appeals of persons formerly drawing unemployment insurance who had been dropped by the Kingston office for various reasons. These included refusal to accept jobs when offered, making no attempt to find work or quitting jobs without good cause.

Speaking of cases where veterans are receiving the $20 a week readjustment allowance, Mr. Wexner said that General Omar N. Bradley had issued instructions that after such veterans had received 10 weekly pay checks they were to be interviewed to find whether they had been making reasonable efforts to secure work.

If the local office finds that the veteran has not made such effort he is to be disqualified from receiving further payments. If he feels that he has been unjustly treated he may make an appeal from the decision.

In the case of veterans found to be working and also drawing allowance payments charges are made against them. If the charges are upheld the veteran is compelled to pay back the amount he has received under such circumstances.

Forman, Stanton

Gottfried paid $1,500 as a bribe, with $1,300 going to Forman and $200 to Stanton.

Stanton, the government contended, reported a larger consumption of sugar for 1941 than the corporation actually had, he then was an investigator for the O.P.A. office at Albany.

Gottfried and the corporation were charged with having filed inflated estimates of the corporation's 1941 sugar consumption to influence the Ration Board in Ellenville to grant an excess supply of sugar under rationing in 1942.

Before giving the case to the jury yesterday Judge Watkins excused Jury Foreman John G. Van Voorhis and substituted Mrs. Florence Prichard, who had served throughout the trial as an alternate.

The defendants were remanded to jail.

Health for All

X-ray in TB Diagnosis

X-ray, a ray of light discovered 52 years ago in Germany by Professor W. K. Roentgen, has played a major role in the advance of medical knowledge of tuberculosis of the lungs. This is true because X-ray penetrates substances ordinary light cannot penetrate, making possible the process by which an image of the chest is photographed on a film for the physician's study.

The X-ray, therefore, has become a major aid to the doctor in diagnosing tuberculosis. Supplementary diagnostic measures consist of a thorough medical history of the patient, together with a physical examination, including examination of the chest, and laboratory analysis of the blood, and of the sputum for tubercle bacilli. Tubercle bacilli are the germs which cause tuberculosis. Since in many cases of early TB the tubercle bacilli are not present in the sputum, early cases which might be overlooked without chest X-ray are found when X-ray is used. Early diagnosis is especially important in tuberculosis, because the treatment consists in marshalling the forces of resistance against disease, and the sooner doctor and patient know of the invasion of the tubercle bacilli, the better able they are to fight the disease.

After serving its important part in diagnosis, X-ray continues to be a major aid to the doctor as he treats the disease. Before X-ray was put to use, knowledge of what happened to the lungs during TB had to be based mostly on what could be seen in post-mortem examinations. X-ray makes it easier for the physician to understand the disease in its early stages, watch its progression or regression, and adjust treatment accordingly.

When Roentgen discovered X-ray in 1895, he demonstrated its fluorescent and photographic properties, but it was not until the early 1930's that technical advances—the development of the photo-fluorographic process and the rapid roll film method—made extensive case-finding by X-ray financially feasible.

Knowing that tuberculosis is communicable and can be controlled best if cases are diagnosed early, more and more people are beginning to understand the value of periodic chest X-rays in fighting the disease which is the seventh cause of death in the United States.

In the next article, typhoid fever will be discussed.

New Housing Project

New York, March 27 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer and State Housing Commissioner Herman Stichman announced plans yesterday for a new $6,500,000 low-rent cooperative housing project, an extension to an existing housing development near Van Cortlandt Park in the Bronx. Plans for the project are sponsored by the Amalgamated Housing Corporation, the first private limited-dividend housing company organized in the state 20 years ago under the sponsorship of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (C.I.O.).

Rent Control Booklet Available at Offices

Numerous requests are being received for O.P.A.'s recently issued booklet, "Some Answers to Questions About O.P.A. Rent Control," Area Rent Director Charles C. Hoag reported today.

"Every landlord and tenant should read this booklet," he said. "It gives the answers to many questions about the way rent control works. It may save a trip to the rent office or save time in waiting for an interview."

Copies of the booklet may be obtained without charge at the Area Rent Office, 13 Washington street, Poughkeepsie or at the Rent Station, municipal building, Kingston.

X-ray in TB Diagnosis

X-ray, a ray of light discovered 52 years ago in Germany by Professor W. K. Roentgen, has played a major role in the advance of medical knowledge of tuberculosis of the lungs. ### Can't Pay Bodyguards

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Undersecretary of Treasury A. L. M. Wiggins testified today that "satisfactory protection" cannot be given the President and his family unless the Senate restores the House-approved cut in secret service funds.

Psychic Predicts Time Is Near for Phoning to Spirits

Says Cost of Sets to Be Within Means of All Talks to Bell and Marconi

London, March 27 (AP)—The day may be near, a leading psychic researcher said today, when you can pick up a telephone and call the dead in the spirit world.

The spirits of Alexander Graham Bell and Guglielmo Marconi have been telling him how, said John J. Williamson, founder and past president of the Society of Metaphysicians, Ltd.

Williamson, who gets his information through living mediums now, said Bell and Marconi seem tremendously excited about the idea and have poured across some 100,000 words of technical data.

They first told him and his research associates to use atom smashing machinery for mechanical communication with the other world, he said, but the cost seemed prohibitive. A cyclotron, even second hand, costs many, many thousands of pounds.

So Williamson began research at the society's research center, a big, hotel-like building in Hastings, Sussex, and developed what he called "far simpler" mechanical methods.

"If we can succeed in perfecting the simpler methods," he said, "there is no reason why anyone cannot have a 'spirit telephone' costing no more than five pounds ($20)."

That, said Williamson, would revolutionize the seance.

A good many agreed with Williamson's thesis that human mediums can't really be depended upon. Most of them unintentionally garble messages from the other world, the spiritualists say.

Williamson's research is backed by the society, which has membership in many walks of life. His principle associate is Ernest Smith. Both were radio instructors in the Royal Air Force during the war. They sold their homes to finance the purchase of the Hastings Center. The society finances most of their work.

instill basic American ideals in the people.

F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover's "grave doubts" of the wisdom of outlawing the Communist party all but clinched today a congressional committee decision on that hot, Red issue.

"I would hate," Hoover said, "to see a group not deserving the category of martyrs made martyrs by some law which might later be declared unconstitutional."

Rep. Nixon (R.-Calif.), told reporters later the House Committee on Un-American Activities must "give a great deal of weight" to Hoover's ideas. Nixon said legislation to outlaw the Communist party "won't be approved as it is presently written."

And he implied that no bill to outlaw the party will be approved.

The F.B.I. chief testified to the committee late yesterday on bills to wipe out the party.

Named Chairman

PHILIP T. SCHANTZ

Philip T. Schantz of Lloyd Post, 193, American Legion of Highland, has been named chairman for the dinner scheduled Saturday, May 10, in honor of Earl C. Hitchcock, commander, department of New York. The dinner will be held in Kingston.

Chairman Schantz will announce complete plans for the annual affair at a later date.

Albert Perks, Lamource-Hackett Post, 72, Saugerties; Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., Cook-Taylor Post, III, Ellenville; John McCourt, Charles W. Viebey Post, 124, Marlborough; Ernest A. Steuding, Kingston Post, 150; Curtis J. Richardson, Sullivan-Shafer Post, 176, New Paltz.

Also LeGrand Haviland, Lloyd Post, 193, Highland; Dr. F. H. Voss, Phoenicia Post 950; Paul Joyce, Woodstock Post, 1026; Edward Masten, Rose-Shenley Post, 1034, Wallkill; Peter F. LoBello, Jr., Rosendale-Tillson Post, 1219, Rosendale; Robert J. Henry, Town of Esopus Post, 1298, Port Ewen; Ernest S. Jansen, Town of Marbletown, 1512, High Falls; and Donald Bishop, Olive Memorial Post, 1627, Olive Bridge.

Legionnaire Schantz is expected to offer almost complete plans for the dinner at the Ulster county meeting in Sullivan Schafer Post 176, New Paltz, Friday at 8 p. m.

There will be discussion of planned ritualistic services for the installation of several hundred Legionnaires on a date in June at the Kingston armory. A famous American Legion ritualist team will conduct the ceremonies.

Another important item on the agenda of the county meeting is the report of the committee appointed to investigate the resignation of Harry Karnaghan as director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

County Commander Thomas Bohan urges all delegates to attend the session and cordially invites all Legion members to be present.

Patterson Says

"cost the taxpayers a lot of money," Rep. Richards (D.-S.C.) asked Patterson during the House committee hearings:

"Assuming that we are to try to stop aggression in Europe—to be perfectly frank, by Russia—is there any place where we could spend the money more advantageously" other than Greece and Turkey.

Patterson: "My opinion is that the area is of great importance. The money spent there will not be misdirected."

Asked again if there was any place where the money could be "more advantageously spent," he replied with flat: "No."

George said that when the Senate committee begins closed-door consideration of the measure he will formally advance his proposal for a Senate check-rein on a commission to administer the program.

Marshall Is Displeased

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall was reported today deeply displeased with the lack of progress in the council of foreign ministers deliberations on the German and Austrian treaties—and especially with last night's talk-filled session which accomplished nothing.

Criticisms in the American delegation were aimed as much at the work of the four-power coordinating committee as at the tangle within the council itself.

The committee was supposed to have completed listing council agreements and disagreements Tuesday. American and British sources blame the failure to meet that deadline on deliberate efforts by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to wring concessions from the western powers even in this purely technical group.

Hope for agreement on the treaties during this conference faded as the council split all along the line on minor issues as well as major ones.

Marshall, who is accustomed to getting things done in an orderly manner, was said by authoritative informants to feel strongly along the line of his comment that progress in the work here seemed "unfortunately remote."

While the western powers have set no deadline for their stay in Moscow, both British and American sources say they are hoping the windup of this first session of the council on the problem of Austria will come about April 15.

The foreign ministers' deputies working on the Austrian treaty, however, developed a disagreement today over arrangements for withdrawing Allied troops when the treaty becomes effective. Britain's deputy, Lord Hood, took the position that the Allied Control Council should be disbanded on the effective date of the treaty.

Howard H. Davis, of New York, executive vice chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, is assistant treasurer and has been a trustee for many years.

Mrs. Shirley C. Fisk, formerly Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of W. Averell Harriman, Secretary of Commerce, is a graduate of Bennington College, Vermont, and is deeply interested in the Bard program.

James L. Freeborn, of New York, has long been associated with the college and is a former chairman of the board. He is a member of the insurance firm of Freeborn & Co., 90 John street, New York.

Oren Root, Jr., of New York, besides being a member of the firm of Hatch, Root and Barrett, 25 Broad street, New York, is nationally known as the originator of the "Willkie-for-President Clubs." Mr. Root is high in the councils of the American Veterans Committee and is secretary of the Bard finance committee.

Dr. Elwyn H. Spear is a member of many years' standing. He is a priest of the Episcopal Church and is a member of the staff of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York. Dr. Spear's interest in the educational program and particularly in its religious aspect enables him to offer valuable service to Bard.

Milk Farmer Wounded

Independence, La., March 27 (AP)—A Louisiana farmer was wounded last night during a wild automobile chase through a section which is being patrolled by dairymen who are striking in protest against a cut in the wholesale price of milk. Otis Baham, 24-year-old dairy farmer of nearby Loranger, reported to State Police that a group of men, armed with shotguns and rifles, fired on automobile and chased him nearly a mile. Baham attributed the shooting to "jealousy." He is a board member of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative at Kentwood, La., but does not belong to the A.F.L. Dairymen's Local No. 22 (A.F.L.) which called the strike. He said there was no milk in his car.

Mine Blast Dead

ate ordered an investigation of the disaster after Senator Brooks (R.-Ill.) asserted there had been violations of safety codes under federal administration. Soft coal mines generally have been in government possession since last spring. At Centralia Vice President Young of the coal company withheld comment on the Senate investigation until he had been more fully informed.

2. Rowekamp made public a letter the union local had sent to Governor Dwight Green of Illinois a year ago asking the governor "to please save our lives, to please make the (State) Department of Mines and Minerals enforce the laws (at the mine) * * * before we have a dust explosion."

Governor Green's office said in a statement that such a letter had been received and that the governor had requested the department concerned to give it "full and complete consideration." The governor also released a report to him, from the committee named by the state department to investigate charges made in the letter, which related that "the complaint sounds a good deal worse than it really is."

To Ask Inquiry

3. Circuit Judge Ralph L. Maxwell said in a statement he would instruct the Washington county grand jury to conduct an inquiry to determine if any criminal negligence was involved in the explosion. The jury will meet next April 14.

4. A state inspection of the mine made a week before the disaster showed the mine was "not adequately rock dusted," that dirty haulage roads should be cleansed and sprinkled and ventilation increased at various points. The inspection report also stated recommendations of previous inspections had "not been complied with and should be complied with."

Young of the coal company said in answer to this that "we have been working on these recommendations. Some can be accomplished in a few days but others take several months, which accounts for their appearance in several reports."

Can't Pay Bodyguards

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Undersecretary of Treasury A. L. M. Wiggins testified today that "satisfactory protection" cannot be given the President and his family unless the Senate restores the House-approved cut in secret service funds.

Psychic Predicts Time Is Near for Phoning to Spirits

Says Cost of Sets to Be Within Means of All Talks to Bell and Marconi

London, March 27 (AP)—The day may be near, a leading psychic researcher said today, when you can pick up a telephone and call the dead in the spirit world.

The spirits of Alexander Graham Bell and Guglielmo Marconi have been telling him how, said John J. Williamson, founder and past president of the Society of Metaphysicians, Ltd.

Williamson, who gets his information through living mediums now, said Bell and Marconi, seem tremendously excited about the idea and have poured across some 100,000 words of technical data.

They first told him and his research associates to use atom smashing machinery for mechanical communication with the other world, he said, but the cost seemed prohibitive. A cyclotron, even second hand, costs many, many thousands of pounds.

So Williamson began research at the society's research center, a big, hotel-like building in Hastings, Sussex, and developed what he called "far simpler" mechanical methods.

"If we can succeed in perfecting the simpler methods," he said, "there is no reason why anyone cannot have a 'spirit telephone' costing no more than five pounds ($20)."

That, said Williamson, would revolutionize the seance.

A good many agreed with Williamson's thesis that human mediums can't really be depended upon. Most of them unintentionally garble messages from the other world, the spiritualists say.

Williamson's research is backed by the society, which has membership in many walks of life. His principle associate is Ernest Smith. Both were radio instructors in the Royal Air Force during the war. They sold their homes to finance the purchase of the Hastings Center. The society finances most of their work.

instill basic American ideals in the people.

F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover's "grave doubts" of the wisdom of outlawing the Communist party all but clinched today a congressional committee decision on that hot, Red issue.

"I would hate," Hoover said, "to see a group not deserving the category of martyrs made martyrs by some law which might later be declared unconstitutional."

Rep. Nixon (R.-Calif.), told reporters later the House Committee on Un-American Activities must "give a great deal of weight" to Hoover's ideas. Nixon said legislation to outlaw the Communist party "won't be approved as it is presently written."

And he implied that no bill to outlaw the party will be approved.

The F.B.I. chief testified to the committee late yesterday on bills to wipe out the party.

Named Chairman

PHILIP T. SCHANTZ

Philip T. Schantz of Lloyd Post, 193, American Legion of Highland, has been named chairman for the dinner scheduled Saturday, May 10, in honor of Earl C. Hitchcock, commander, department of New York. The dinner will be held in Kingston.

Chairman Schantz will announce complete plans for the annual affair at a later date.

Albert Perks, Lamource-Hackett Post, 72, Saugerties; Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., Cook-Taylor Post, III, Ellenville; John McCourt, Charles W. Viebey Post, 124, Marlborough; Ernest A. Steuding, Kingston Post, 150; Curtis J. Richardson, Sullivan-Shafer Post, 176, New Paltz.

Also LeGrand Haviland, Lloyd Post, 193, Highland; Dr. F. H. Voss, Phoenicia Post 950; Paul Joyce, Woodstock Post, 1026; Edward Masten, Rose-Sheeley Post, 1034, Wallkill; Peter F. LoBello, Jr., Rosendale-Tillson Post, 1219, Rosendale; Robert J. Henry, Town of Esopus Post, 1298, Port Ewen; Ernest S. Jansen, Town of Marbletown, 1512, High Falls; and Donald Bishop, Olive Memorial Post, 1627, Olive Bridge.

Legionnaire Schantz is expected to offer almost complete plans for the dinner at the Ulster county meeting in Sullivan Schafer Post 176, New Paltz, Friday at 8 p. m.

There will be discussion of planned ritualistic services for the installation of several hundred Legionnaires on a date in June at the Kingston armory. A famous American Legion ritualist team will conduct the ceremonies.

Another important item on the agenda of the county meeting is the report of the committee appointed to investigate the resignation of Harry Karnaghan as director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

County Commander Thomas Bohan urges all delegates to attend the session and cordially invites all Legion members to be present.

Patterson Says

"cost the taxpayers a lot of money," Rep. Richards (D.-S.C.) asked Patterson during the House committee hearings:

"Assuming that we are to try to stop aggression in Europe—to be perfectly frank, by Russia—is there any place where we could spend the money more advantageously" other than Greece and Turkey.

Patterson: "My opinion is that the area is of great importance. The money spent there will not be misdirected."

Asked again if there was any place where the money could be "more advantageously spent," he replied with flat: "No."

George said that when the Senate committee begins closed-door consideration of the measure he will formally advance his proposal for a Senate check-rein on a commission to administer the program.

Marshall Is Displeased

Moscow, March 27 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall was reported today deeply displeased with the lack of progress in the council of foreign ministers deliberations on the German and Austrian treaties—and especially with last night's talk-filled session which accomplished nothing.

Criticisms in the American delegation were aimed as much at the work of the four-power coordinating committee as at the tangle within the council itself.

The committee was supposed to have completed listing council agreements and disagreements Tuesday. American and British sources blame the failure to meet that deadline on deliberate efforts by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to wring concessions from the western powers even in this purely technical group.

Hope for agreement on the treaties during this conference faded as the council split all along the line on minor issues as well as major ones.

Marshall, who is accustomed to getting things done in an orderly manner, was said by authoritative informants to feel strongly along the line of his comment that progress in the work here seemed "unfortunately remote."

While the western powers have set no deadline for their stay in Moscow, both British and American sources say they are hoping the windup of this first session of the council on the problem of Austria will come about April 15.

The foreign ministers' deputies working on the Austrian treaty, however, developed a disagreement today over arrangements for withdrawing Allied troops when the treaty becomes effective. Britain's deputy, Lord Hood, took the position that the Allied Control Council should be disbanded on the effective date of the treaty.

years as a trustee and gave liberally to the college.

John B. Harris, Class of '39, is treasurer of the board. Mr. Harris is affiliated with the Chase National Bank of New York. During the war he was a major in Air Technical Services, Army Air Forces.

Howard H. Davis, of New York, executive vice chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, is assistant treasurer and has been a trustee for many years.

Mrs. Shirley C. Fisk, formerly Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of W. Averell Harriman, Secretary of Commerce, is a graduate of Bennington College, Vermont, and is deeply interested in the Bard program.

James L. Freeborn, of New York, has long been associated with the college and is a former chairman of the board. He is a member of the insurance firm of Freeborn & Co., 90 John street, New York.

Oren Root, Jr., of New York, besides being a member of the firm of Hatch, Root and Barrett, 25 Broad street, New York, is nationally known as the originator of the "Willkie-for-President Clubs." Mr. Root is high in the councils of the American Veterans Committee and is secretary of the Bard finance committee.

Dr Elwyn H. Spear is a member of many years' standing. He is a priest of the Episcopal Church and is a member of the staff of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York. Dr. Spear's interest in the educational program and particularly in its religious aspect enables him to offer valuable service to Bard.

William J. Walsh, an attorney with offices at Red Hook and Poughkeepsie, disposes of the important duties of chairman of the buildings and grounds committee.

and left side and Miss Spitzer was injured in her left side. They were taken to the Kingston Hospital by Deputy Vredenburg for X-ray examination and treatment.

Dr. C. B. VanGaasbeek, who treated Spitzer's injuries, found that he had sustained comminuted fractures of both bones of the right forearm. Miss Spitzer was discharged from the hospital after treatment for an injury to her side.

Milk Farmer Wounded

Independence, La., March 27 (AP)—A Louisiana farmer was wounded last night during a wild automobile chase through a section which is being patrolled by dairymen who are striking in protest against a cut in the wholesale price of milk. Otis Baham, 24-year-old dairy farmer of nearby Loranger, reported to State Police that a group of men, armed with shotguns and rifles, fired on automobile and chased him nearly a mile. Baham attributed the shooting to "jealousy." He is a board member of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative at Kentwood, La., but does not belong to the A.F.L. Dairymen's Local No. 22 (A.F.L.) which called the strike. He said there was no milk in his car.

Mine Blast Dead

ate ordered an investigation of the disaster after Senator Brooks (R.-Ill.) asserted there had been violations of safety codes under federal administration. Soft coal mines generally have been in government possession since last spring. At Centralia Vice President Young of the coal company withheld comment on the Senate investigation until he had been more fully informed.

2. Rowekamp made public a letter the union local had sent to Governor Dwight Green of Illinois a year ago asking the governor "to please save our lives, to please make the (State) Department of Mines and Minerals enforce the laws (at the mine) * * * before we have a dust explosion."

Governor Green's office said in a statement that such a letter had been received and that the governor had requested the department concerned to give it "full and complete consideration." The governor also released a report to him, from the committee named by the state department to investigate charges made in the letter, which related that "the complaint sounds a good deal worse than it really is."

To Ask Inquiry

3. Circuit Judge Ralph L. Maxwell said in a statement he would instruct the Washington county grand jury to conduct an inquiry to determine if any criminal negligence was involved in the explosion. The jury will meet next April 14.

4. A state inspection of the mine made a week before the disaster showed the mine was "not adequately rock dusted," that dirty haulage roads should be cleansed and sprinkled and ventilation increased at various points. The inspection report also stated recommendations of previous inspections had "not been complied with and should be complied with."

Young of the coal company said in answer to this that "we have been working on these recommendations. Some can be accomplished in a few days but others take several months, which accounts for their appearance in several reports."

Rock dust is finely ground rock spread in mines for the purpose of reducing explosion hazards.

Early Diagnosis Stressed in Talk On Cancer Drive

Early diagnosis, the abolishment of fear and a thorough knowledge of the symptoms of cancer were highlighted by Mrs. Kenneth Duncan, Ulster county commander of the American Cancer Society, in her recent address before the American Legion Auxiliary in Wallkill.

During the month of April throughout the nation, the American Cancer Society will conduct a financial drive. Ulster county's quota for this campaign is $7,500. Jay W. Rifenbary is the Ulster county campaign chairman and Mayor William F. Edelmuth is campaign chairman for the City of Kingston.

Speaking in behalf of the Society and its 1947 campaign for funds for research and the development of clinics, Mrs. Duncan appealed to her audience to assist in carrying on the present war against the disease which in 1946 caused 272,000 deaths in the United States. One-third to one-half of these deaths might have been prevented if it were not for the appalling lack of understanding on the part of the public.

Mrs. Duncan believes that if there were some way to "relieve the curse of the word cancer" in the minds of men and women, the disease itself could be dealt with more intelligently. She pointed out that the many superstitions regarding cancer have been a great deterrent in the treatment of malignant growths. Misinformation and "quack" cures have been directly responsible for many deaths.

Research has shown that "cancer is a cell gone mad" and that in early stages it may successfully be treated by surgery, X-ray and radium. Mrs. Duncan urged her listeners to acquaint themselves and others with the danger signals associated with cancer and to consult a physician whenever one of these symptoms develops.

Early Diagnosis Stressed in Talk On Cancer Drive

Early diagnosis, the abolishment of fear and a thorough knowledge of the symptoms of cancer were highlighted by Mrs. Kenneth Duncan, Ulster county commander of the American Cancer Society, in her recent address before the American Legion Auxiliary in Wallkill.

During the month of April throughout the nation, the American Cancer Society will conduct a financial drive. Ulster county's quota for this campaign is $7,500. Jay W. Rifenbary is the Ulster county campaign chairman and Mayor William F. Edelmuth is campaign chairman for the City of Kingston.

Speaking in behalf of the Society and its 1947 campaign for funds for research and the development of clinics, Mrs. Duncan appealed to her audience to assist in carrying on the present war against the disease which in 1946 caused 272,000 deaths in the United States. One-third to one-half of these deaths might have been prevented if it were not for the appalling lack of understanding on the part of the public.

Mrs. Duncan believes that if there were some way to "relieve the curse of the word cancer" in the minds of men and women, the disease itself could be dealt with more intelligently. She pointed out that the many superstitions regarding cancer have been a great deterrent in the treatment of malignant growths. Misinformation and "quack" cures have been directly responsible for many deaths.

Research has shown that "cancer is a cell gone mad" and that in early stages it may successfully be treated by surgery, X-ray and radium. Mrs. Duncan urged her listeners to acquaint themselves and others with the danger signals associated with cancer and to consult a physician whenever one of these symptoms develops.

Any sore that does not heal—particularly about the tongue, mouth or lip.

A painless lump or thickening, especially on the breast, lip or tongue.

Irregular bleeding or discharge from a natural body opening.

Progressive change in the color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.

Governor Vetoes Annulment Bill

Rejection Is Given Without Comment by Dewey

Albany, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—A bill described by its sponsors as designed to curb "easy annulments" by imposing a time limit of five years after marriage for bringing such actions on grounds of fraud was vetoed today by Governor Dewey.

Although Dewey disapproved the measure without comment, an administration source said the governor objected to imposition of a limit extending from the date of marriage rather than from the time the fraud was discovered.

The same objection was voiced by Democratic Senator Louis Friedman, Brooklyn, when the bill passed the senate two weeks ago.

He contended that the five-year limitation should extend from the time the fraud was discovered, rather than from the time of marriage.

Republican Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, who along with Assemblyman John R. Pillion, Erie Republican, sponsored the measure, replied that this would not halt the "so-called annulment racket."

Mahoney pointed to the alarm being voiced by jurists throughout the state over the flood of uncontested actions being brought and said there are 200 methods for obtaining annulments.

He gave two reasons for the heavy traffic in annulments—hasty war marriages, and "the difficulty some people find in inconveniencing their marital difficulties to the divorce laws of the state."

Adultery is the only ground for divorce in New York.

MODENA

Modena, March 26—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church will meet Thursday afternoon, April 3 at the home of Mrs. Hallock Harris.

The regular meeting of the Modena Fire Department will be held Thursday evening in the fire house.

Mrs. Ruth Enders and daughter, Barbara Phillips of Poughkeepsie, Carl Sebeth of Middletown, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wager and daughter, Edith Margaret, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ransel Wager Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DuBois and daughter, Marylou, visited Mrs. Martha Brandon and son, John, at Towners on Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Gerow of New Paltz visited relatives here Monday.

New York State, F.B.I. Reports, Had 400 Murders During 1946

Grisly Statistics Reveal Manhattan Murders Total 346

By JAMES C. MUNN
(AP Special Washington Service)

Washington, March 27 (AP)—New York—"the state that has everything"—also had 400 murders last year.

The total, 19 percent more than in 1945 when 334 persons met death in such fashion, was generally indicative of the major crime increases that took place not only in the Empire State but in the nation as well.

For instance, according to figures contained in the Federal Bureau of Investigation's annual crime report, New York experienced a major criminal violation every seven minutes of 1946.

In 1945 it was about one every eight minutes.

The F.B.I.'s report, based on figures from 160 of the State's largest cities, also showed that New York's 400 led the nation in the number of murders or "non-negligent manslaughters."

Texas, with only 35 cities reporting, was second to the Empire State in the grisly statistical parade with 394.

In other crime departments, New York's 1946 totals, with 1945 figures in brackets, included:

Manslaughter by negligence—546 (514); rape—977 (858); robbery—2,205 (1,733); aggravated assault—3,668 (3,207); burglary, breaking or entering—12,520 (10,605); larceny, theft—32,007 ((28,868) and auto theft—18,510 (17,346).

Or, to put it less statistically, the State's 1946 hour or "minute-rate" of crime was, roughly:

One murder every 22 hours; a rape every eight hours; robbery once every four hours; aggravated assault every two hours; burglary, breaking or entering once every 42 minutes; a larceny or theft every 16 minutes and, once every 28 minutes somebody stole somebody else's auto.

Seasons Are Factor

The F.B.I., in summarizing its conclusions, noted that seasons are a factor in the rise or fall of crime frequency.

During the summer months, for example, aggravated assaults and rapes occur more frequently than in cold months.

Murders rise toward the end of the year.

Solace for Upstate

The report also contains detailed reports from the State's 22 cities of 25,000 or more population. For the peace of mind of upstate points, the report discloses that 318 of the 400 murders in 1946 were committed in New York city.

In 1945 the city was the scene of 292 such deaths.

The F.B.I. breakdown of the crime totals for other New York cities, with murder, robbery, aggravated assault and burglary, breaking or entering, larceny-theft, and auto theft, listed in that order (and 1945 comparisons in brackets) included:

Albany—4 (0); 32 (27); 42 (31); (279) (226); 652 (583); 388 (376); Buffalo—16 (13); 104 (70); 173 (151); 851 (504); 1,528 (1,290); 1,037 (1,135).

Kingston—1 (0); 2 (1); 4 (6); 44 (31); 160 (138); 21 (23); Mount Vernon—3 (1); 8 (1); 16 (9); 131 (101); 191 (146); 79 (85); Newburgh—0 (0); 4 (6); 3 (4); 209 (127); 227 (176); 77 (48); New Rochelle—2 (0); 7 (7); 25 (14); 117 (100); 199 (176); 48 (77).

New York city—346 (292); 1,737 (1,415); 2,897 (2,579); 4,950 (4,348); 12,726 (11,981); 13,021 (12,226); Poughkeepsie—2 (0); 4 (1); 21 (15); 143 (93); 404 (466); 47 (71); White Plains—1 (0); 3 (7); 58 (7); 88 (88); 309 (272); 87 (137) and Yonkers—1 (1); 21 (10); 21 (18); 248 (272); 556 (411); 176 (121).

Veterans Seek Justice Department's Help

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The American veterans of World War II announced today it is asking the Justice Department for legal proceedings against three major league baseball clubs under the Selective Service Act.

The Amvets declared there has been "flagrant disregard for the reemployment rights" of Steve Sundra, former St. Louis Browns pitcher, Russell Kerns, former Detroit Tigers catcher, Benny McCoy, former Philadelphia Athletic infielder, and Bob Harris, former Athletics pitcher.

The Selective Service Act provides that individuals discharged from the armed services must be restored to their former jobs if they apply within 90 days, unless the employer's circumstances have so changed that reinstatement is unreasonable or impossible.

stead of our wasting our generosity on military equipment."

Certainly Moscow can do anything it wishes with the Red states of the Balkans, for it has them in a sack, although the fiction is maintained that they are sovereign countries. It's obvious that if the Soviet Union wanted to issue orders to them and then sit back and disclaim responsibility, it could do so. Or, as Mr. Hoover points out, Moscow could restrain them if it wished. As things now stand it seems likely that Russia will pursue the middle course of letting her dogs of war run off the leash sufficiently to keep on harrying the Greeks, short of producing an open Balkan war.

The situation on the Balkan peninsula naturally is in a highly explosive state. For that reason the Big Three—Russia on the one hand and the American-British pair on the other—will do everything to avoid becoming directly involved.

No, I think we may take it for granted that Russia won't make any move in the Balkans or elsewhere which might force somebody to reach for a gun. That is, the Muscovites won't do it now, or for a long time to come, because they aren't prepared for a major conflict.

Having said this, it must be remarked that the danger of smoking cigarettes in a powder factory is that accident may happen.

Realtors Opposed To Long-Range Housing Program

Prefer Abolishing Agency on National Housing and Cutting of Red Tape

Washington, March 27 (AP)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards declared today it is "violently opposed" to pending legislation which would set up a long-range housing program.

Herbert U. Nelson, the association's executive vice president, said in a statement prepared for the Senate Banking Committee that the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill is "dangerous, * * * misleading and fails to accomplish the purpose for which it was presented."

Instead of pushing such a program—designed to encourage construction of 15,000,000 homes by 1958—Nelson urged that Congress get rid of building controls and abolish the National Housing Agency.

Declaring that the industry "wants to, can and will" build homes, Nelson said:

"Just cut the red tape and watch us go."

Nelson hammered hardest at the public housing provisions of the bill, which is sponsored by Senators Wagner (D.-N.Y.), Ellender (D.-La.) and Taft (R.-Ohio).

The measure authorizes federal grants of $26,400,000 annually to states and communities to aid in construction of public-financed dwellings. The target for the first four years is 500,000 units.

Noting that Taft has stated that public housing should not exceed 10 per cent of total construction, Nelson said that after the first world war "British advocates of government homebuilding were also saying they wanted just a little public housing." He added:

"They got it, and they kept on getting more of it, and today in England, four out of every five dwellings that go up are being built by the government for ownership and operation by the government. Private homebuilding in England is dead."

As for proposed federal subsidies for aid in clearing slum areas, Nelson said:

"Now is certainly no time for multi-million dollar raids on the hard-pressed federal treasury for this purpose."

Apart from the financial consideration, Nelson said, "there is no likelihood of large-scale urban redevelopment while housing conditions are tight." He added that "we will have to wait for a housing surplus before we can begin to tear down occupied houses, no matter how bad they may be."

Electric Range Cooking School Well Attended

"Standing Room Only" has been the slogan at Montgomery Ward cooking school the last few days. The cooking school which has been held since March 19 from 2-3 p. m. will close with its final session, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The school, conducted by Miss Dorothy Rhodes, home service representative of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation assisted by Miss Kay Meddaugh of Central Hudson, has been featuring electric cooking with the Nesco Chef range and Ward's own electric range.

A record attendance has been the result of these demonstrations which have featured one dish surface meals, oven meals, Lenten suggestions, and sugar saving recipes. The closing session will be held Friday at 2 p. m.

Springfield Newspaper Plant Gutted by Fire

Springfield, Mo., March 27 (AP)—Fire, apparently starting in a storage room, swept through the mechanical department of the Springfield Newspapers, Inc., today.

The composing room and press room were gutted and some of the heavy equipment was saved.

Firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to the front offices, which were not damaged except for smoke and water.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

the Army and Navy Club of New York.

In 1918, Joseph M. Fowler was elected County Judge and Judge of the Children's Court of Ulster County and served in that capacity from 1919 through 1930. During his long practice of the law in Kingston Judge Fowler had been associated with many of the leading members of the Ulster County Bar as a law partner. For several years Judge Fowler and the late Arthur C. Connelly were in partnership under the firm of Fowler and Connelly and later Judge Fowler and Judge John T. Loughran, now chief judge of the court of appeals, formed a partnership which was continued until Judge Loughran was elected to the supreme court. When his son, Nicholas Jansen Fowler, was admitted to the bar they formed a partnership under the firm name of Fowler and Fowler.

Had Faith in Human Nature

During the terms Judge Fowler served as county judge he came to be known as one of the most efficient county judges who ever held office in the county. His knowledge of the law and his natural, kindly nature caused him to make deep investigations of every case which came before him for criminal prosecution and his faith in human nature many times caused him to give a defendant a chance which a less humane judge might not have extended to a defendant. As a result many defendants, particularly youthful offenders were given a chance which later proved by a return to useful citizenship, that the judgment of Judge Fowler had been well warranted.

Judge Fowler was known as a very skillful and well versed attorney and counselor and he numbered among his clients many who have sought his advice and counsel for long periods of years. In 1927 Judge Fowler was appointed counsel for the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, serving that financial institution well. Later N. J. Fowler was named counsel to serve with his father in that capacity.

In banking circles he was well known being a director of The National Ulster County Bank of Kingston.

Active in TB Fight

Among his numerous civic interests was the deep interest which he had always taken in the battle against tuberculosis. In 1908 when the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association was formed he was named president of that Association and has since served as its president. During the early days and prior to the erection of our present Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, Judge Fowler was very active in the erection and maintenance of the original tuberculosis hospital which was built and operated on the easterly side of Kingston off Flatbush avenue. Since the formation of the Board of Supervisors' Committee on Public Health, Judge Fowler has served as an honorary member of that committee which has in charge the public health activities of the county. He was recently renamed honorary member of the committee.

When the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation was formed and the Governor Clinton Hotel erected he took an active interest in that movement and has served as attorney for the corporation. During the past few years after N. J. Fowler was named counsel to succeed his father, and while N. J. Fowler was in the service, Judge Fowler again served as counsel but relinquished that duty at the annual meeting in 1945 when N. J. Fowler again resumed the duty.

ExSergeant Weds His Fraulein in Germany

Frankfurt, March 27 (AP)—Peter Rupeka, former U. S. army sergeant from Hempstead, New York, married fraulein Erika Schaefer today in the first officially approved American-German wedding in occupied Germany since the war.

The army's ban on marriage between Americans and Germans was lifted last December. The 27-year old Rupeka and his 21-year-old German bride were the first to complete the involved procedure still required for obtaining military government and State Department sanction for their nuptials.

Military government officials in Berlin recently predicted 6,000 other Americans would follow Rupeka's lead in marrying Germans within a year.

Rupeka, formerly in the 508th Parachute Battalion, has been overseas since April, 1945.

He met his attractive blue-eyed, brown-haired bride while sightseeing in Frankfurt's bomb damaged ZPP in September, 1945. He stayed on in Germany as a War Department civilian employe after his army discharge in hopes of some day being permitted to marry her.

"I am glad I waited," he smiled.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's relief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

2,004 Deaths Occur in State In Car Crashes; Sets Minimum

Albany, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—There were 2,004 deaths from automobile accidents in New York state last year—lowest in the State's history on the basis of miles traveled.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles reported yesterday that the 1946 death rate was 8.4 per 100,000,000 miles, the first time it had fallen below 10, despite a 14 percent increase over 1945 in car registrations and a 36 percent gain in mileage.

However, the actual death toll was approximately 14 percent higher than the 1,763 in 1945, compared with a national increase of 19 percent. Deaths in 1941, last U. S. pre-war year, totaled 2,661.

Non-fatal injuries were the highest in nine years, rising almost 30 percent from 80,776 in 1945 to 104,812 last year.

The non-fatal automobile accident rate was 437 per 100,000,000 miles, compared with 458 in 1945 and 388 in 1941.

Of the 2,004 persons killed, 1,079 were pedestrians.

Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher listed among death causes: Reckless driving 540, speeding 379, driver intoxication 25, and pedestrian intoxication 31.

Motor vehicle fees totaled a record $56,998,853 last year, while car registrations totaled 2,798,655.

Snowstorm Reported Moving Eastward

(By The Associated Press)

A new snowstorm moved rapidly eastward today from eastern Oklahoma toward the Hatteras region of the Atlantic coast where, Weather Bureau forecasters at Chicago said it would center Friday morning.

By late morning, it was snowing over a general area between eastern Kansas and southeastern Nebraska on the west to central Kentucky and northern Tennessee.

The St. Louis area reported six inches of snow had fallen at 6 a. m. (C.S.T.), and accumulations of up to four inches were reported in southern Illinois and southwestern Indiana.

The violent wind and snowstorm which earlier this week spread over the eastern half of the country causing widespread property damage and at least 16 deaths, moved into northern Quebec today.

Winds had diminished, but temperatures dropped, caribou, Me., reporting the nation's minimum of one above zero last night.

Temperatures in the north central region generally were below freezing today, with the mercury dropping to 12 above in Gladwin and Pellston, Mich., to 14 at Duluth, Minn., and to 21 at Minneapolis.

Yesterday's temperature of 22 in New York city came within two degrees of being the coldest March 26 on record, the all time low of 20 for the date being set in 1873. The mercury was expected to climb to the upper 30's today.

Temperatures in the Rio Grande Valley hit 92 yesterday while in California and Arizona the mercury soared into the 80's.

An immediate flood peril to residents of Mandan, N. D., appeared eased today by the breaking of an ice jam on the Heart river which freed high waters to downstream movement.

About 400 people in the United States are killed by lightning every year.

Wallkill Auxiliary Field Declared Surplus

Stewart Field, Newburgh, N. Y.—Montgomery Auxiliary Field No. 1 and Wallkill Auxiliary Field No. 2 have both been declared surplus to the needs of the War Department, it was revealed today.

Colonel Benjamin J. Webster, commanding officer of Stewart Field, who made the disclosure, learned of the War Department's move through General Carl A. Spaatz, commanding general of the Army Air Forces. The new status of the auxiliary fields became effective March 20, 1947.

About 23,000 American Indians are in the U. S. Armed forces.

Huge, Costly B-36 Is Saved By Cool Action of Pilots

Fort Worth, Tex., March 27 (AP)—The army air forces' $20,000,000 B-36, heralded as able to "carry an atomic bomb to any inhabited region in the world and return," is safe to fly another day.

Although the plane's massive right landing gear was damaged, Test Pilot B. A. Erickson and Co-pilot Gus Green nursed the air giant to a smooth stop on the Fort Worth army air field last night as hundreds of soldiers and other spectators cheered.

Two hours earlier, the huge plane, world's largest land bomber, had disgorged 12 of the 14 men aboard. A stiff wind caught their parachutes and tossed them over a wide section of the rolling hill country west of Fort Worth. Six of the men were injured in landing.

The necessity of making an emergency landing became apparent soon after the 139-ton experimental bomber took the air on its 15th test flight at 12:10 p. m. (C.S.T.) yesterday. Through the long intervening hours, as it burned up excess gasoline and dropped its passengers, the plane was in radio contact with the air base control tower.

Roland G. Mayer, manager of the Fort Worth division of Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corporation, builder of the B-36, praised the "wonderful skill" of the pilots, both Convair men.

"I was up in the tower today, listening to Green giving orders to the tower men," Mayer said. "He's a slow-talking Texan from Cleburne and you could tell that it was just another day's work to him."

Balancing the great bulk of the machine so that its weight bore chiefly on its undamaged left landing gear, the pilots rolled it to a gentle stop at 6:20 p. m. It settled slowly on the right wheel, where a strut to hold it in a straight downward position had failed.

An official of Consolidated in New York said the pilots had "saved a $20,000,000 plane," by handling it so "delicately" that no damage was done.

The company said that while subsequent planes of the same type would cost from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000, the original represented a cost of $20,000,000 in research, engineering and production costs.

The statement of the plane's ability to carry an atomic bomb to any inhabited part of the world and return home without refueling was made by the army air forces last fall.

Sound is now recorded by magnetism on hair-fine steel wire.

Confirmed Texan

Jefferson City, Mo., March 27 (AP)—Political affiliation of at least one future voter isn't going to be changed overnight Gov. Phil M. Donnelly learned.

Eighty-nine seventh grade pupils from Kansas City visited the state capital yesterday to see the legislature in session and held an audience with Donnelly.

Remarked Ray Baker, who moved to Kansas City from Fort Worth with his parents six weeks ago:

"I don't think he's my governor. My governor is the governor of Texas and he is down there."

Jolly Funeral

Pueblo, Colo., March 27 (AP)—Mike Makarina, a steelworker, wants his funeral attendants to have a good time when he dies, and he's willing to pay for it.

In his will recorded yesterday by the county clerk, Makarina provided a bequest of $100 "to be expended for the celebration of the attendants at my funeral to have a good and jolly time."

No Shortage Here

San Francisco, Calif., March 27 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has so many diapers on hand its storage capacity can't accommodate them.

U. S. Attorney Frank J. Hennessey took the problem to Federal Judge Michael J. Roche. The judge set June 7 at the final date for owners to establish their rights to the articles. If unclaimed, they will be sold.

In addition to the diapers, the F.B.I. has a wide variety of cosmetics and women's garments. Hennessey said most of the items had been stolen from interstate commerce shipments.

Oblivious of Surroundings

Kalispell, Mont., March 27 (AP)—When the Rev. James V. Schofield arrived from New York to establish a church in Martin City, mushrooming town of the Hungry Horse project site, he found the spiritual needs of the community not altogether neglected, reports the daily Inter Lake.

Sunday school classes were being conducted in an ante-room of the Silver Dollar saloon.

If she only knew that she could put on five pounds of good healthy flesh in perhaps thirty days, she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face, hollow cheeks and neck, and run-down look.

Today, doctors prescribe McCOY'S COD LIVER OIL EXTRACT TABLETS, known as McCOY'S TABLETS, which are sold by good druggists in most parts of the world. These tablets are sugar-coated and as easy to take as candy.

There is nothing better than the vitamins in cod liver oil and the ten important minerals for building up skinny, weak and tired people which are in the formula of McCOY'S TABLETS. These tablets have been proven by more than twenty-three years sales as an aid to restoring health and chasing away nervousness.

If you take the Meal Created for thirty days and don't feel better and look better, your money will be refunded. Get McCOY'S TABLETS today at any good druggist and prove to yourself that you feel and look better after a thirty day trial.

Immanuel Church Confirmation Rite Scheduled Sunday

Ernest L. Witte; Offertory, Triumphal March, Wachs; Confirmands' hymn, Praise to Thee and Adoration, Kingo; The Rite of Confirmation; hymn, Hark, Ten Thousand Harps, Kelly; Postlude, Maetoso, Hesse.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP)—This is the town where they say you have to be 80 years old to get in the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

They have a couple of softball teams on which everybody but the water boy has to be 75 years or over.

"And you ought to see those old-timers play," said one fan. "I never heard of any of those codgers keeling over from heart trouble."

Shuffleboard is a hotter issue here than national politics, and if the local newspapers omit the shuffleboard column readers call up by the dozens to complain.

Elderly tourists flock here by the thousands, and St. Petersburg generally is proud to be known as the nation's winter capital for old people with enough money to follow the robins south when the chilblains season sets in up north.

But some of the young folks here don't want the idea spread around that St. Pete is just a Mecca for Methuselahs.

"Don't write anything about the five thousand green benches we have here for the old folks," said one. "And don't say any more about the sidewalk ramps we got for wheel chair patients."

Another resident complained:

"We don't have an undue number of old people here. You have to remember that you don't see as many young people at resorts for the simple reason that most young people don't have enough money to go to them."

And the old folks have a good time at much less than it would cost them on Florida's east coast. One of their favorite haunts is the city pier, where they can eat picnic lunches, buy live turtles at fifty cents each to send their grandchildren, and listen to some venerable life of the party thump out on the free piano:

"Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms."

"Times were tougher during the depression," a resident said. "The cafeterias had to start throwing out tourists who came in, asked for a bowl of hot water, then poured catsup into it to make free soup."

From a town of 4,000 in 1910, St. Petersburg has grown steadily to a population of between 90,000 and 95,000. But it hasn't quite filled out at the speed dreamed of by city fathers during the boom era.

"It was like a big carnival here then," said one veteran wistfully. "You could always tell the real estate men—they wore plus four knickers. They gave away free lunches at auction sales, and one man passed out saltwater taffy. Every real estate office had a Negro quartet or some kind of entertainment."

Large bond issues were floated to build paved streets and sidewalks in every direction, dream lanes for dream people who were to live in dream houses that never were built. Collapse of the boom ended the dreams and left the real estate dealers nothing but their plus fours and some customers nothing but the memory of the taste of salt water taffy.

The palm, the palmetto and the pine put their roots beneath the abandoned pavements, and grass grew in many streets.

"The city covers fifty-five square miles," said a resident who believes it ranks fifteenth in area among the world's cities. There is one stretch along Tyrone Boulevard where you can drive three miles without seeing a house. There are also numerous "no hunting or trapping" signs posted within the city limits.

"There are no deer left in St. Petersburg," a friend explained. "But plenty of rabbits, squirrels, possums and rattlesnakes."

New housing developments are gradually linking the wilderness outskirts to the city's builtup area, and the boomtime dream of a generation ago is slowly coming true.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Confirmed Texan

Jefferson City, Mo., March 27 (AP)—Political affiliation of at least one future voter isn't going to be changed overnight Gov. Phil M. Donnelly learned.

Eighty-nine seventh grade pupils from Kansas City visited the state capital yesterday to see the legislature in session and held an audience with Donnelly.

Remarked Ray Baker, who moved to Kansas City from Fort Worth with his parents six weeks ago:

"I don't think he's my governor. My governor is the governor of Texas and he is down there."

Jolly Funeral

Pueblo, Colo., March 27 (AP)—Mike Makarina, a steelworker, wants his funeral attendants to have a good time when he dies, and he's willing to pay for it.

In his will recorded yesterday by the county clerk, Makarina provided a bequest of $100 "to be expended for the celebration of the attendants at my funeral to have a good and jolly time."

No Shortage Here

San Francisco, Calif., March 27 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has so many diapers on hand its storage capacity can't accommodate them.

U. S. Attorney Frank J. Hennessey took the problem to Federal Judge Michael J. Roche. The judge set June 7 at the final date for owners to establish their rights to the articles. If unclaimed, they will be sold.

In addition to the diapers, the F.B.I. has a wide variety of cosmetics and women's garments. Hennessey said most of the items had been stolen from interstate commerce shipments.

Oblivious of Surroundings

Kalispell, Mont., March 27 (AP)—When the Rev. James V. Schofield arrived from New York to establish a church in Martin City, mushrooming town of the Hungry Horse project site, he found the spiritual needs of the community not altogether neglected, reports the daily Inter Lake.

Sunday school classes were being cnducted in an ante-room of the Silver Dollar saloon.

Applications Drop Off for G.I. Loans

Contact Representative O'Dell Sees Threat to Adjustment

The number of applications for G.I. loans declined this past January and February to the lowest level since April of last year. Within five months, G.I. loan applicants have decreased over 100 per cent.

This was the statement made today by Edward P. O'Dell, contact representative at the Kingston V.A. office at 286 Fair street. He characterized the downward spiral as the "reflection of a nation-wide situation which threatens to delay the veterans' adjustment to civilian life."

According to Mr. O'Dell, this is how the G.I. loan situation adds up. In August and September of last year, over 1600 veterans secured government back loans. In January and February of this year, the number dropped to less than 950. The total amount borrowed by veterans in August and September came to $7,884,493.46, of which $6,878,260.50 was used for homes; $292,652.51 for farms; and $713,580.45 for business. In January and February of this year, veterans borrowed a total of $4,474,901.32, of which $3,710,094.73 was used for homes; $264,965.80 for farms; and $499,840.79 for business.

In summarizing the reasons for the decline in G.I. loan applications, Mr. O'Dell stated:

Cause of Stalemate

"We find a situation today in which the seller is determined to maintain inflated prices, and the buyer is either unwilling or unable to meet the price. This has brought about a stalemate which can only be broken by a return to more reasonable prices."

The V.A.'s recent policy of reserving the right to appoint appraisers was described by Mr. O'Dell as another "contributing cause to the decline of G.I. loan applications." Before the V.A. took this step, some veterans were allowed to purchase property at excessive prices, he said. "But now appraisers have been issued specific instructions to make sure the prices asked by sellers represent reasonable values."

This move by the V.A. to enforce a strict compliance with the G.I. Bill, which requires a "reasonable value" be placed on property purchased by a G.I. loan, has resulted in a larger number of loan applications being rejected, Mr. O'Dell said.

He pointed out, however, that under the present system of V.A. appointed appraisers, the veteran's interest is being fully protected.

"While the veterans might not be able to secure a government backed loan as easily as in the past, he is certain of paying a more reasonable price for a home, farm, or business," Mr. O'Dell added.

F.B.I. to Conduct 11-State Hunt for Langley Collyer

New York, March 27 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today requested a description of Langley Collyer, 61, as police continued rummaging through his junk-packed Fifth avenue house for the man.

An 11-state alarm has been issued for Langley, reported missing since last Thursday. His brother Homer, 65, with whom he turned the big Harlem house into a hermitage back in 1909, was found dead of a heart attack in the house last Friday.

Oddments of junk, momentoes ranging from old newspapers to parts of an ancient auto which police have turned up in their two-day hunt in the house, have partially satisfied a crowd of the curious gather outside as to the brothers' interests during their seclusion.

Now police doubt that Langley is alive in the house. More likely, they say, if he's alive he has found himself another hideaway. Police said they think that if he still is in the house, he is dead under the debris.

Although the Collyer brothers at first were believed to be in their 70s, Trinity Church records subsequently disclosed that Langley was only 61 and Homer 65.

2 Cuban Senators Hurt In Duel Over Luciano

Havana, Cuba, March 27 (AP)—Two Cuban senators were wounded slightly today in a sword duel in the national capital's fencing room. They had crossed swords over charges arising from the recent stay in Havana of the New York gang chief, Charles (Lucky) Luciano.

Senator Francisco Prio Socarras was wounded in the right arm and Senator Eduardo Chibas received a wound in the right side.

The attending physician said Chibas' wound would not be serious if no complications set in and that Prio Socarras' injury also was slight.

Prio Socarras, 43, had issued the challenge because of accusations in Congress by the 41-year-old Chibas concerning alleged protection extended to Luciano who since has been deported to Italy. Chibas had mentioned "a brother" of Prime Minister Carlos Prio Socarras. The other senator is a brother of the prime minister.

Freedom of Press Is Endangered in View of Educators

Present 'Crisis' Is Called Stage in Struggle for Expression in Free Ways

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—A warning that the freedom of American newspapers, radio, motion pictures, magazines and books was in danger was given today by a commission of educators and others who have just completed a three-year study of the question.

The report of the Commission on Freedom of the Press, headed by Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, was published in book form under the title "A Free and Responsible Press." In its definition of "press," the commission included radio, motion pictures, books and magazines as well as newspapers, and of these five media of expression the report said the "crisis" today is "simply a stage in the long struggle for free expression" and that freedom will not be "swept away overnight."

The danger, it said, "is in part the consequence of the economic structure of the press, in part the consequence of the industrial organization of modern society, and in part the result of the failure of the directors of the press to recognize the press needs of a modern nation and accept the responsibilities which those needs impose upon them."

Proportion Is Decreased

The commission said that while the importance of the press to the people has greatly increased with its development "as an instrument of mass communication," the proportion of people who can express their opinions through the press has "greatly decreased."

"The few who are able to use the machinery of the press . . . have not provided a service adequate to the needs of the society," the commission asserted. It said they "have engaged from time to time in practices which the society condemns and which, if continued, it will inevitably undertake to regulate or control."

The commission made 13 suggestions to improve the press, including a law to give a person injured by libel the chance to obtain a retraction, a "restatement of the facts," or an "opportunity to reply."

Grants of $200,000 from Time, Inc., and $15,000 from the Encyclopedia Britannia, Inc., financed the study. In its April issue, released today, Fortune magazine, published by Time, Inc., includes the complete report as a supplement and prints a detailed commentary on it. This commentary said the "obscurities" of the commission's report are "literally inexcusable." Fortune said:

"The commission is, in fact, complaining about the worst sections of the press, and to them it administers some well-deserved rebukes. Some readers may be disinclined to heed the indictment because its application seems at times to be so universal and indiscriminate."

C. of C. President Talks to Rotary On Civic Projects

President H. V. Clayton Outlines Projects Being Considered Now by Local C. of C.

Harold V. Clayton, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, acquainted Rotarians with projects which the Chamber is currently interested in at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the local service club held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

Included in the civic betterment program to which the Chamber will direct its attention is an up-to-date building program, which long has been advocated by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, a straight forward, long-range zoning law, which cannot be altered at the whim of any alderman and which will protect the investment of property owners and a new assessment roll, which will do away with the inequities that now exist in this city.

Anticipating decisions by the directors of the Chamber that might not please everyone holding membership, the president asked members affected not to use his as an excuse for cancelling their memberships. The decisions to be made will be designed for the betterment of the entire community and not for individuals.

The president also deemed unfair some criticism levied at the Chamber of Commerce. Pointing to labor disputes, he asserted that this was a matter between labor and management and any move by the Chamber would be considered interference in the drawing up of contracts.

In the securing of new concerns, the Chamber has been in touch with several concerns, he said, but the final decision rests with the owners, who usually select the site with the most natural and man-made advantages.

The Chamber also will secure information on a community chest. There have been requests for the community chest plan here and there also is opposition, the speaker said. Community forum radio programs designed to enlighten the public with various civic projects is planned for the month of April.

In the limited time alloted, the local C. of C. leader explained the functions of the various committees and outlined their work. Committees included the retail, industrial procurement, publicity, civic affairs, membership and bridge.

Applications Drop Off for G.I. Loans

Contact Representative O'Dell Sees Threat to Adjustment

The number of applications for G.I. loans declined this past January and February to the lowest level since April of last year. Within five months, G.I. loan applicants have decreased over 100 per cent.

This was the statement made today by Edward P. O'Dell, contact representative at the Kingston V.A. office at 286 Fair street. He characterized the downward spiral as the "reflection of a nation-wide situation which threatens to delay the veterans' adjustment to civilian life."

According to Mr. O'Dell, this is how the G.I. loan situation adds up. In August and September of last year, over 1600 veterans secured government back loans. In January and February of this year, the number dropped to less than 950. The total amount borrowed by veterans in August and September came to $7,884,493.46, of which $6,878,260.50 was used for homes; $292,652.51 for farms; and $713,580.45 for business. In January and February of this year, veterans borrowed a total of $4,474,901.32, of which $3,710,094.73 was used for homes; $264,965.80 for farms; and $499,840.79 for business.

In summarizing the reasons for the decline in G.I. loan applications, Mr. O'Dell stated:

Cause of Stalemate

"We find a situation today in which the seller is determined to maintain inflated prices, and the buyer is either unwilling or unable to meet the price. This has brought about a stalemate which can only be broken by a return to more reasonable prices."

The V.A.'s recent policy of reserving the right to appoint appraisers was described by Mr. O'Dell as another "contributing cause to the decline of G.I. loan applications." Before the V.A. took this step, some veterans were allowed to purchase property at excessive prices, he said. "But now appraisers have been issued specific instructions to make sure the prices asked by sellers represent reasonable values."

This move by the V.A. to enforce a strict compliance with the G.I. Bill, which requires a "reasonable value" be placed on property purchased by a G.I. loan, has resulted in a larger number of loan applications being rejected, Mr. O'Dell said.

He pointed out, however, that under the present system of V.A. appointed appraisers, the veteran's interest is being fully protected.

"While the veterans might not be able to secure a government backed loan as easily as in the past, he is certain of paying a more reasonable price for a home, farm, or business," Mr. O'Dell added.

F.B.I. to Conduct 11-State Hunt for Langley Collyer

New York, March 27 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today requested a description of Langley Collyer, 61, as police continued rummaging through his junk-packed Fifth avenue house for the man.

An 11-state alarm has been issued for Langley, reported missing since last Thursday. His brother Homer, 65, with whom he turned the big Harlem house into a hermitage back in 1909, was found dead of a heart attack in the house last Friday.

Oddments of junk, mementoes ranging from old newspapers to parts of an ancient auto which police have turned up in their two-day hunt in the house, have partially satisfied a crowd of the curious gather outside as to the brothers' interests during their seclusion.

Now police doubt that Langley is alive in the house. More likely, they say, if he's alive he has found himself another hideaway. Police said they think that if he still is in the house, he is dead under the debris.

Although the Collyer brothers at first were believed to be in their 70s, Trinity Church records subsequently disclosed that Langle ywas only 61 and Homer 65.

2 Cuban Senators Hurt In Duel Over Luciano

Havana, Cuba, March 27 (AP)—Two Cuban senators were wounded slightly today in a sword duel in the national capital's fencing room. They had crossed swords over charges arising from the recent stay in Havana of the New York gang chief, Charles (Lucky) Luciano.

Senator Francisco Prio Socarras was wounded in the right arm and Senator Eduardo Chibas received a wound in the right side.

The attending physician said Chibas' wound would not be serious if no complications set in and that Prio Socarras' injury also was slight.

Business Girls Have Meeting On China with Chinese Food

China was the topic for discussion at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Girls Club at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday evening. In accordance with the topic the supper menu offered a variety of Chinese food.

Miss Edna Merritt, a missionary on leave, led the informal talk about China. She spoke of the living habits of the people, the food, housing and some of the experiences of the war. Stationed at a girls' school in the southern part of the country, Miss Merritt said that the section was not greatly disturbed by the war other than a few bombers flying over head.

Plans for future meetings and projects were considered during the business meeting. Next week the club will hear a discussion forum on the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths. The program committee will have charge. An Easter hat contest will be held and each member is asked to bring a hat which she has trimmed.

Following the meeting last night the interest group in bridge met.

Jacqueline McGowan Married to William H. Ball At St. Jarlath's Church, Topanga Canyon, Calif.

Miss Jacqueline Marie McGowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGowan, 220 East Union street, was married Sunday to William H. Ball, Jr., son of Mrs. Anna T. Ball, 346 Albany avenue, at St. Jarlath's Church, Topanga Canyon, San Fernando Valley, Calif. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Father Gallagher in a simple Lenten ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool gabardine suit with navy blue accessories, a corsage of camelias and lilies of the valley and carried a white prayer book with navy blue markers. Miss Lucille Bremer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie star, was maid of honor. She wore a light gray gabardine suit with gray accessories, flowered hat and corsage of camelias. The bridegroom's best man was Lief Jorgensborg, friend of the family.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister. Mr. and Mrs. Monte Proser, Malibu Beach, Calif. Guests were present from Kingston and California and included a number of the screen stars. Mr. and Mrs. Ball left for a wedding trip to San Juan Capistrano and Mexico. They will reside in California.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and is a former employe of the New York Telephone Company's local plant. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Kingston High School and attended New York University. He was graduated and commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve at Kings Point Academy in 1943.

Business Girls Have Meeting On China with Chinese Food

China was the topic for discussion at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Girls Club at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday evening. In accordance with the topic the supper menu offered a variety of Chinese food.

Miss Edna Merritt, a missionary on leave, led the informal talk about China. She spoke of the living habits of the people, the food, housing and some of the experiences of the war. Stationed at a girls' school in the southern part of the country, Miss Merritt said that the section was not greatly disturbed by the war other than a few bombers flying over head.

Plans for future meetings and projects were considered during the business meeting. Next week the club will hear a discussion forum on the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths. The program committee will have charge. An Easter hat contest will be held and each member is asked to bring a hat which she has trimmed.

Following the meeting last night the interest group in bridge met.

Jacqueline McGowan Married to William H. Ball At St. Jarlath's Church, Topanga Canyon, Calif.

Miss Jacqueline Marie McGowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGowan, 220 East Union street, was married Sunday to William H. Ball, Jr., son of Mrs. Anna T. Ball, 346 Albany avenue, at St. Jarlath's Church, Topanga Canyon, San Fernando Valley, Calif. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Father Gallagher in a simple Lenten ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool gabardine suit with navy blue accessories, a corsage of camelias and lilies of the valley and carried a white prayer book with navy blue markers. Miss Lucille Bremer, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie star, was maid of honor. She wore a light gray gabardine suit with gray accessories, flowered hat and corsage of camelias. The bridegroom's best man was Lief Jorgensborg, friend of the family.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Proser, Malibu Beach, Calif. Guests were present from Kingston and California and included a number of the screen stars. Mr. and Mrs. Ball left for a wedding trip to San Juan Capistrano and Mexico. They will reside in California.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and is a former employe of the New York Telephone Company's local plant. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Kingston High School and attended New York University. He was graduated and commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve at Kings Point Academy in 1943.

Part of the charm of Dorris Varnum's clothes for the junior, is the unusual and interesting style touches she puts into Jonathan Logan dresses.

She's always tearing around to fashion high spots to snare an idea or two and she finds them in the strangest places, as well as the most orthodox.

For instance, she found inspiration for the new color she introduced last year "champagne" white — in — guess where? That's right, it was at the Stork Club.

You'd think her dresses were in the hundred dollar price bracket — but no — it's just her ideas that run high. Jonathan Logan dresses still cost you only $12.95

Part of the charm of Dorris Varnum's clothes for the junior, is the unusual and interesting style touches she puts into Jonathan Logan dresses.

She's always tearing around to fashion high spots to snare an idea or two and she finds them in the strangest places, as well as the most orthodox.

For instance, she found inspiration for the new color she introduced last year "champagne" white — in — guess where? That's right, it was at the Stork Club.

Right now, in her new season's presentation, you'll see the result of her recent trip to Paris and the European capitals.

You'd think her dresses were in the hundred dollar price bracket — but no — it's just her ideas that run high. Jonathan Logan dresses still cost you only $12.95

Marchese-Scaccia Duel Tops Tonight's B'nai B'rith Fight Card

First Bout Starts 9 P.M., Sellout Crowd Anticipated

This is boxing night in Kingston and indications are that the municipal auditorium will be crowded with fans for the B'nai B'rith card featuring Johnny Marchese of Buffalo and Don Scaccia, Rochester middleweight, who will be stepping out of his weight class to meet the Niagara district light-heavyweight champion.

Scaccia was added to the ring program yesterday after announcement had been made that Al Hurlibut, Rome Golden Gloves champion has injured his hand. He's rated as good, if not better than Hurlibut, who has two local knockouts to his credit, having defeated the other upstate kayo puncher in Rochester, Monday.

Hurlibut knocked out Macklin Howard of New York and Bobby Brightwell, Oklahoma cowboy Golden Glover at the auditorium, thus establishing himself as one of the biggest local favorites since the days of Mario Severino, (Marty Servo) who held the distinction of boxing about 30 consecutive matches here.

Although the "Ringworms" expressed disappointment about his removal from the card, they are looking for Don Scaccia to put up as good a show as the Rome gladiator. Scaccia not only ruined his Kingston chances, but bumped him out of an opportunity to compete for the national middleweight title in Boston.

Marchese, although a newcomer to Kingston, is expected to make a hit with the fans. He's rated as one of the toughest punchers upstate, and, according to his handler, Tommy Paul, former N.B.A. champion, can stand up under heavy fire from the opposition.

The rest of the card:

Roosevelt Flagg, Albany Golden Gloves featherweight champion, vs. Frankie Biffico, Buffalo, Niagara district titleholder.

Frankie Dolenti, Rome lightweight, vs. Oliver Phillips, Buffalo, who boxed a fast bout with Mike Salle of Schenectady several weeks ago, dropping an unpopular decision.

Alex Ashley, Rome flyweight, vs. Sammy "Peanuts" Spadaro, Albany. This is a return match, Ashley being one-up on the capital city boy.

Dave Brandon, Kingston Golden Gloves finalist, vs. Elbert Carey, Stewart Field middleweight.

Al Jones, Catskill, Golden Gloves featherweight, vs. Johnny Joyce, Albany.

Bobby Bowers, Kingston, will box an Albany opponent in the other preliminary.

Indications are that the auditorium will be crowded for the ring program to start at 9 o'clock.

Binghamton, N. Y.—Jim Rouse, 175, Albany, T.K.O. Nick Barone, 172, Syracuse, 6.

Picture of an Old, Old Story

Since the days when Big Hank Krum was single handedly murdering Grammar School League basketball opposition, School No. 5 has been a powerhouse in cage circles. The 1946-47 quintet lived up to the fine traditions of the school by romping through 14 straight victories to win the city title. Members of the championship squad are from left to right in back row, Frank Spohrer, Wilford Sutton, Bruce Hinkley, John Houghtaling and Donald Murphy. Front row in the usual order, Robert Baumer, Carmen Milano, team captain and Richard Petro. Vincent Hart and William Buckman, were absent when the picture was taken. (Freeman Photo)

Perry's Extended in Opener, Push Streak to 39 Straight

Perry's Restaurant, those amazing Booster League keglers, extended their winning streak to 39 straight games and their season's record to 68 wins and only 7 losses, Tuesday night with a three-game sweep over Company B which has been going in the opposite direction all season long.

Joe Enright sparked the league leaders with games of 152, 211 and 204 for a 567 triple, top performance in the league. The State Guard pinsters made a desperate bid to snap the Perry streak in the first game which they dropped by only 10 pins, 679-689. The Perry power asserted itself in the next two games and they won by wide margins. J. Provenzano rolled 473 for the soldiers.

Don Keyser rolled 469 as Kingston Oil Supply trounced Ramsey Corporation, 3-0. A. Cashara's 200-474 highlighted the Ramsey attack. Cartright Dairy, behind Elwood Robinson's 489 thumped Schneider Lumber, 3-0. C. Speisman paced Schneiders with 433.

Wards Win Two

L. Albert posted 519 to spark Montgomery Ward's in a split decision over Sam's Restaurant. Sam Avnet's 476 was high for the losers. In the Chez Emile 2-1 triumph over the Moose, Roy Houghtaling shot 442 for Chez Emile and Jerry Ausanio 429 for the losers.

Greenkill Restaurant defeated the S. & C. Lunch 2-1. High scoring honors went to Dougherty of S. & C. with 202-539. J. Duffner shot 446 for the winners. Lincoln Park drubbed the I.M.M., 3-0. A. Cross pacing with 519. G. Muller had 389 for the losers.

Haber's Grill won the odd set from B'nai B'rith in a match in which the two teams shot identical team totals of 2199. V. Bruck led Hober's with 519 and Hess Kantrowitz posted 521 for B'nai B'rith.

Johnny Evers Still In Critical Condition

Albany, N. Y., March 27 (AP)—Johnny Evers, 65, former major league star of the Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves, remained in critical condition at St. Peter's Hospital today after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday.

Hospital aides said there was "no change" in the condition of the second baseman in the famous Tinker to Evers to Chance double play combination of the Cubs in the early part of the century.

Evers had been partially paralyzed and confined to his bed much of the time since August, 1942, when he suffered a stroke.

Brosky Signs Contract

State College, Pa., March 27 (AP)—Penn State's Bernard Brosky has signed a contract to play with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. The big Scranton (Pa.) tackle is the latest Nittany Lion star to join pro grid ranks. The N.F.L.'s Pittsburgh Steelers signed Bill Moore of Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Paul Weaver of Harrisburg, Pa., and Bronco Kosanovich of Aliquippa.

Training Camps

(By The Associated Press)

San Francisco, March 27 (AP)—The New York Giants' exhibition series with the San Francisco Seals now stands at 3 all. The Giants won the first three games with the Seals in Honolulu and dropped the last two. Yesterday, in a renewal of the series at Seals Stadium here; Lefty O'Doul's gang squared it by winning 3-2 in 11 innings. After holding the Seals to three hits for eight and two-thirds innings, fanning eight, Bill Voiselle walked three in a row and was replaced by Herb Andrews. With the bases full in the eleventh, Bill Ayres walked in the winning run.

Lindell Hits 2 Homers

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Johnny Lindell, the stand-in for Joe DiMaggio, stood out by belting two homers as the New York Yankees crushed the world champion St. Louis Cardinals 10-1 yesterday. Two other round-trippers were rapped out, one by Tommy Henrich and one by Floyd Bevens. Bevens, who went the longest distance of any Yank pitcher to date, gave up but four hits in seven innings. The victory again placed the Yankees on a .500 status against big league opposition with 9 and 9 and was their second in five against the Cards, who now have won 10 and lost three.

Rutland to Show

Sarasota, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Towering Bill Rutland was to get his chance on the hill today in the Boston Red Sox exhibition with the Yankees. Scheduled to follow him were Harry Dorish and Bill Zuber.

X-ray for Robinson

Havana, March 27 (AP)—Jackie Robinson, the star infielder of the Montreal Royals who Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher wanted to observe in last night's exhibition game here, was due to be X-rayed today to determine the extent of a back injury suffered in the morning's practice. Robinson was missing from the lineup as the Brooks shut out the Royals 6-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Ed Head and Ed Heusser.

Shut Out Braves

Miami, March 27 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns got good pitching again yesterday, backed it up with perfect fielding and timely hitting and trimmed the Boston Braves 3-0. Clarence Iott, rookie southpaw from San Antonio, turned in another fine performance, holding the Braves to two singles in five innings. Fred Sanford blanked them the rest of the way. A timely single by Billy Hitchcock drove in two of the Browns' runs.

Three Games Are Scheduled For 'Y' Tourney Tonight

The second of the Ulster-Green county basketball triple-headers is scheduled for the Y.M.C.A. court tonight starting at 7:30 o'clock. Other tilts are listed for 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

In the opener the local V.F.W. squad, winners of the City "Y" title, will battle the fast Marlborough Legion quintet. The Vets will have Al Thomas, Nick Carl, "Red" Emmick, Joe Woods, Gus Koch, Dan Murphy, Dan McGrane, Buddy Smith and Frank Sass set for action. Marlborough is expected to counter with Valentine and Casey at forwards, Sutton, center and Ralph Petrillo and Gerald Purdy at guards. Petrillo is the former Newburgh Free Academy star.

The 8:30 encounter brings together Coeyman's winners over Gulnick's by 51-31, and the Dawkins Favorites, a team comprised of Kingston High School players who recently won the DUSO championship and the Section Nine tournament.

All of the Maroon players including big Eddie Weaver, Mike Rienzo, George Glaser, Joe Albany and Bob Ghear will be ready to start the game.

The final battle at 9:30 o'clock features Milton and Athens. Milton has played some good ball all season long. Marshall Mannese and Johnny Minadeo, forwards, give Milton a solid one-two scoring punch. Vince Mannese, six-foot star at Marlborough High, will be at center and Jack Kroh, Marlborough High coach and Pete Mannese, are slated for backcourt duty.

Athens, with a record of 16 wins and only two losses, should be one of the teams to beat in the tournament. Two of the Hudson Black Taxi players, John Fandozzi and Jimmy Ban pace the club while such stars as Al Simmons, Mike Peloke and Dan Thorne give the team added strength.

Arlensky Cracks 609 in Midnight

Milt Arlensky featured the Midnight League Wednesday night at the Central Recreation lanes with the lone 600 triple of the night when he rattled the maples for a rousing 609. Arlensky, bowling with Evans, opened with 212 and came back with 200 in the middle and wound up with 197.

High single honors for the night went to John Sweeney of Terry Brick who piled up a 225 game in his final try to give him a 543 series for the night.

Other features of the matches included Tom Amato who hit 214—582, "Boots" Leskie 201—573, Joe Nagy 210—563, Harry Secreto 197—561, F. Fay 209—557, and Larry Weishaupt 191—553.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Joe Matisi, 204½, Endicott, knocked out Clarence Brown, 208, Chicago, 2.

Merle Hapes Gets School Coaching Job

Jackson, Miss., March 27 (AP)—Merle Hapes, presently under suspension from the National Professional Football League, has signed a contract to coach and teach in Byram Consolidated Schools in a rural district ten miles south of Jackson.

His wife, Evelyn Hapes, will coach girls athletics there, Principal W. H. Cochrane said after a meeting of the school board.

Hapes, who has received no definite and final ruling from Commissioner Bert Bell of the National League on his suspension which followed investigation of charges Hapes participated in gambling and other conduct detrimental to football, said he is turning his back on the professional field forever.

Hapes, who played with the New York Giants, was formerly a fullback with the University of Mississippi.

Tennis Starts June 13

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—The Woman's Interclub Tennis Association of Philadelphia announces the Annual Grass Court Matches for the Sears Cup will be held June 13-14 at Orange, N. J. Teams from Philadelphia, Eastern Association (New York area), and the New England and Middle Atlantic (Baltimore-Washington regions) Associations will compete.

Brosky Signs Contract

State College, Pa., March 27 (AP)—Penn State's Bernard Brosky has signed a contract to play with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. The big Scranton (Pa.) tackle is the latest Nittany Lion star to join pro grid ranks. The N.F.L.'s Pittsburgh Steelers signed Bill Moore of Wilkinsburg, Pa.; Paul Weaver of Harrisburg, Pa., and Bronco Kosanovich of Aliquippa.

Training Camps

(By The Associated Press)

San Francisco, March 27 (AP)—The New York Giants' exhibition series with the San Francisco Seals now stands at 3-all. The Giants won the first three games with the Seals in Honolulu and dropped the last two. Yesterday, in a renewal of the series at Seals Stadium here, Lefty O'Doul's gang squared it by winning 3-2 in 11 innings. After holding the Seals to three hits for eight and two-thirds innings, fanning eight, Bill Voiselle walked three in a row and was replaced by Herb Andrews. With the bases full in the eleventh, Bill Ayres walked in the winning run.

Lindell Hits 2 Homers

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Johnny Lindell, the stand-in for Joe DiMaggio, stood out by belting two homers as the New York Yankees crushed the world champion St. Louis Cardinals 10-1 yesterday. Two other round-trippers were rapped out, one by Tommy Henrich and one by Floyd Bevens. Bevens, who went the longest distance of any Yank pitcher to date, gave up but four hits in seven innings. The victory again placed the Yankees on a .500 status against big league opposition with 9 and 9 and was their second in five against the Cards, who now have won 10 and lost three.

Rutland to Show

Sarasota, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Towering Bill Rutland was to get his chance on the hill today in the Boston Red Sox exhibition with the Yankees. Scheduled to follow him were Harry Dorish and Bill Zuber.

X-ray for Robinson

Havana, March 27 (AP)—Jackie Robinson, the star infielder of the Montreal Royals who Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher wanted to observe in last night's exhibition game here, was due to be X-rayed today to determine the extent of a back injury suffered in the morning's practice. Robinson was missing from the lineup as the Brooks shut out the Royals 6-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Ed Head and Ed Heusser.

Shut Out Braves

Miami, March 27 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns got good pitching again yesterday, backed it up with perfect fielding and timely hitting and trimmed the Boston Braves 3-0. Clarence Iott, rookie southpaw from San Antonio, turned in another fine performance, holding the Braves to two singles in five innings. Fred Sanford blanked them the rest of the way. A timely single by Billy Hitchcock drove in two of the Browns' runs.

Three Games Are Scheduled For 'Y' Tourney Tonight

The second of the Ulster-Green county basketball triple-headers is scheduled for the Y.M.C.A. court tonight starting at 7:30 o'clock. Other tilts are listed for 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

In the opener the local V.F.W. squad, winners of the City "Y" title, will battle the fast Marlborough Legion quintet. The Vets will have Al Thomas, Nick Carl, "Red" Emmick, Joe Woods, Gus Koch, Dan Murphy, Dan McGrane, Buddy Smith and Frank Sass set for action. Marlborough is expected to counter, with Valentine and Casey at forwards, Sutton, center and Ralph Petrillo and Gerald Purdy at guards. Petrillo is the former Newburgh Free Academy star.

The 8:30 encounter brings together Coeyman's winners over Gulnick's by 51-31, and the Dawkins Favorites, a team comprised of Kingston High School players who recently won the DUSO championship and the Section Nine tournament.

All of the Maroon players including big Eddie Weaver, Mike Rienzo, George Glaser, Joe Albany and Bob Ghear will be ready to start the game.

The final battle at 9:30 o'clock features Milton and Athens. Milton has played some good ball all season long. Marshall Mannese and Johnny Minadeo, forwards, give Milton a solid one-two scoring punch. Vince Mannese, six-foot star at Marlborough High, will be at center and Jack Kroh, Marlborough High coach and Pete Mannese, are slated for backcourt duty.

Athens, with a record of 16 wins and only two losses, should be one of the teams to beat in the tournament. Two of the Hudson Black Taxi players, John Fandozzi and Jimmy Ban pace the club while such stars as Al Simmons, Mike Peloke and Dan Thorne give the team added strength.

Arlensky Cracks 609 in Midnight

Milt Arlensky featured the Midnight League Wednesday night at the Central Recreation lanes with the lone 600 triple of the night when he rattled the maples for a rousing 609. Arlensky, bowling with Evans, opened with 212 and came back with 200 in the middle and wound up with 197.

High single honors for the night went to John Sweeney of Terry Brick who piled up a 225 game in his final try to give him a 543 series for the night.

Other features of the matches included Tom Amato who hit 214—582, "Boots" Leskie 201—573, Joe Nagy 210—563, Harry Secreto 197—561, F. Fay 209—557, and Larry Weishaupt 191—553.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Joe Matisi, 204½, Endicott, knocked out Clarence Brown, 208, Chicago, 2.

Merle Hapes Gets School Coaching Job

Jackson, Miss., March 27 (AP)—Merle Hapes, presently under suspension from the National Professional Football League, has signed a contract to coach and teach in Byram Consolidated Schools in a rural district ten miles south of Jackson.

His wife, Evelyn Hapes, will coach girls athletics there, Principal W. H. Cochrane said after a meeting of the school board.

Hapes, who has received no definite and final ruling from Commissioner Bert Bell of the National League on his suspension which followed investigation of charges Hapes participated in gambling and other conduct detrimental to football, said he is turning his back on the professional field forever.

Hapes, who played with the New York Giants, was formerly a fullback with the University of Mississippi.

Tennis Starts June 13

Philadelphia, March 27 (AP)—The Woman's Interclub Tennis Association of Philadelphia announces the Annual Grass Court Matches for the Sears Cup will be held June 13-14 at Orange, N. J. Teams from Philadelphia, Eastern Association (New York area), and the New England and Middle Atlantic (Baltimore-Washington regions) Associations will compete.

In The Pocket with CHARLIE TIANO

QUICK, QUICK, WHICH QUICK: Mrs. Allie Quick, of 88 Downs street, is in something of a quandary these days. Mrs. Quick, you see is blessed with a couple of sons who are exceptionally gifted in the ancient art of pocket billiards. Is that anything to be fretting about? Well, just you listen.

The two Sons—Clifton and Harold—are undefeated in the city pocket billiard championships now in progress at Nick Kaslich's Wall street billiard parlor. The chances are better than good that the two Quicks will come up to their epochal meeting for the city title with unblemished records. Somebody is going to get licked, and is will be somebody in the Quick family. That's what makes Mrs. Quick extremely unhappy these days.

The climactic duel between the ivory specialists should attract one of the largest crowds in local billiard history. It is a meeting packed with dramatic possibilities and certain aspects of definitely fratricidal nature. Mrs. Quick, with the natural pride of a mother, would like to see both boys win. Mrs. Clifton Quick, a victim of circumstances in this family argument, even went so far as to suggest the possibility of a tie. Both contestants however, scornfully rejected the idea, proudly asserting that things like that just don't happen in "pool" matches.. At least, not in this one.

If Mrs. Allie Quick has a private choice for the 1947 pocket billiard diadem, she's keeping it a well-guarded secret. The chances are she is rooting for Harold, the younger of the two. Mothers are like that, they tell us, and that's the way it is at our house. We haven't the slightest idea who Mrs. Clifton Quick would like to see win.

The oracles of pocket billiard row have installed Harold a slight favorite. If they are chagrined by his recent disappointing performances, they can't overlook the records—and they say that Harold has clicked runs of better than 100 balls and countless skeins over 100.

This will be the battle between two players of widely contrasting styles, the inevitable showdown between the mongoose and cobra of Kingston pocket billiard circles, so to speak. Clifton is the mongoose—the steel-nerved; calculating cunist, efficient but colorless, who shatters opponents' nerves with tight safety-playing and dilatory tactics. Harold is the cobra, the brilliant, spectacular sometimes careless, ace who can murder you with one, long cluster of the colored ivories. But, if we recall correctly, isn't it the tiny mongoose who always conquers the murderous cobra?

How does Nick Kaslich, the father of pocket billiards in Kingston, feel about his forthcoming four-star attraction? Well, dear readers, let's not put the "Old Man" on the spot. He thinks Clifton is a good player and a nice fellow. And besides, Clifton's brother happens to be Nick's chief assistant. Nick will have trouble enough keeping the boys apart come the night of the big match.

OF ANCIENT BASEBALL: Ernest C. "Duke" Landgraf, president of the North Atlantic League of which Kingston is the baby member, recalls that Kingston was in organized ball some forty five years ago in a league known as the Hudson River League. Kingston was a member of this league for a number of years and in 1903 won the pennant under the management of Hank Ramsey.

The pitchers on this team, the "Duke" relates, were Bill Pounds, Van Riper, Donnelly, Schultz, Farley and Walsh. How many do you remember? Other players were Rice (probably the late Artie Rice, father of Fred Rice, veteran bowling star), Buttermore, Lawson, Rube De Groff, Smith, Ganier, Beckendorf, Fay, Peoples, Daly, Irwin, and Patience. In the pennant race, Hudson, Peekskill, Saugerties, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Catskill finished behind Kingston in that order.

In 1913 Kingston was a member of the New York-New Jersey League. It was the city's last year in organized ball. Other members of the league were the famous Long Branch Cubans with Dolf Luque and Mike Gonzales, Poughkeepsie, Middletown, and Newburgh in New York and Danbury, Conn. Kingston players were Quinn, first base; Kelly and Anderson, second base; Adler, third base; Bradley, shortstop; Lewis and Smith, catchers; Matthewson, McAuliffe and Fallon. The pitchers were Schwab, Hoar, McGarry and Woods.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

Nick Kaslich, the uptown pocket billiard tycoon, who refers to his city championship tournament contestants as "sharks" and wishes they would play that way, is soon to have a seating problem on his hands. . . . When the Quick brothers—Clifton and Harold—clash in the near future there is a better than even chance they will be undefeated and that battle will decide the championship. . . . Bob East's 51 is still high run in the tournament, followed by Julius Tellier's 32 and Harold Quick's 29. . . . Records as of Saturday were: H. Quick 6-0, Clifton Quick 5-0, Jules Tellier 4-2, Bob East 5-3, Eddie Benoit 3-2, Harry Markle 3-3, Ralph Gardner 2-3, Frank Schilling 1-6, Stan Warren 1-6, Mynie Russell 0-6.

THE MAIL BAG: Brings a letter from Earl Mellow, late of Kingston, now of San Diego, Cal., via U. S. Navy. Earl, who was a member of a mad-batting trio that included Dwight McEater and Ken Saunders, says he hasn't thrown a bowling ball since before the war. . . . "And for no good reason at all," he writes. . . . Mellow is hopeful of seeing some Kingston keglers at the Los Angeles A.B.C. tournament. . . . However, only Ad Jones is making the trip, and with a Poughkeepsie team. . . . Earl said he saw the New York Giants work out a few days ago and they showed him just enough to convince him that they will finish exactly where they did last season. . . . This, of course, will occasion considerable tooth gnashing among the local Giant diehards. . . . He thinks Clint Hartung is still two years away and a dangerous man in two departments—he hits hard and is liable to get hit every time he goes after a fly ball.

Rowland to Head Group; 61 Home Games on Schedule

The Kingston Dodgers, newest members of the Class D North Atlantic Baseball League, will play a 140-game schedule, with the Kingston opener scheduled for Saturday, May 3, Clarence Rowland, club president, announced last night at a dinner meeting of club officials and members of the press and radio at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Kingston will have 61 home dates and will open the North Atlantic season away from home on May 1 against the Bloomingdale, N. J. nine. The originally planned date of Friday, May 2, was changed so as to keep the interference with local stores at a minimum, club officials said.

The policy will be to play night games, excluding Sunday and holidays, and twilight-night doubleheaders when it becomes necessary to make up postponed games.

Rickey, Jr., Is Director

The formal introduction of the Dodgers' officials and directors revealed that Clarence S. Rowland is a member of the corporate organization as president, Harold Roettger is vice-president; Fresco Thompson, secretary; and Donald Beach, treasurer. These four men with Branch Rickey, Jr., compose the board of directors.

In addition to this, a group of Kingston professional and business men comprise what is to be known as the honorary board of directors. They are Harry L. Edson, Bernard Feeney, Dr. Saul Goldfarb, Bernard A. Culloton, Edmund J. Coughlin, Addison Jones and Matthew Herzog. These men will act in an advisory capacity, insofar as the local program and policies are concerned.

Paul Taylor, business manager of the club, informed the group that he had received word from Florida yesterday that the Kingston manager would be named within the next week. Mr. Taylor said the selection probably would be a well known "name" player of the Dodger organization.

The Kingston club will be formed at the Thomasville, N. C., training camp. This staging area is the center of training for the Brooklyn organization's Class D farm teams that operate east of the Mississippi. The camp opens on April 1 and approximately three weeks will be spent in conditioning and organizing the various teams from the wealth of baseball talent signed by Dodger scouts and baseball schools during the previous summer.

The local Dodgers are expected to arrive in Kingston about a week before the opening date and will work out at the municipal stadium. The workouts will be open to the sports public.

Local Color Slated

Local color will be furnished by "Red" Gorsline, who was signed to a contract last summer and who reports to Thomasville on April 1. Bobby Newhart, the sensational Highland Falls youngster who was voted the outstanding player in the junior game against Brooklyn staged by the Kingston Athletic Association last year, also is slated for the local squad, along with hard hitting Bob Boyer, of Poughkeepsie, Earl Lane, the Windham catching wizard.

There will be about 20 players in the original group that comes to Kingston, Taylor said. In the North Atlantic League a team is allowed to carry 20 players on its roster for the first 30 days of the season, when the player limit is reduced to 15 for the remainder of the schedule.

The playing roster normally is made up of two catchers, six pitchers, three outfielders and four infielders.

The membership of the North Atlantic League and the major league affiliations are:

Kingston, N. Y.—Brooklyn Dodgers.
Peekskill, N. Y.—New York Giants.
Carbondale, Pa.—Philadelphia Phillies.
Stroudsburg, Pa.—New York Yankees.
Nazareth, Pa.—Detroit Tigers.
Mahanoy City, Pa.—Independent.
Bloomingdale, N. J.—Boston Braves.
Nyack, N. Y.—Philadelphia Athletics.

Kingston is the largest city in the circuit from the standpoint of population. The smallest are Nyack and Nazareth with about 6000 each. The overall attendance in 1946, first year of the league's operation, was approximately 340,000, Taylor said. This figure includes the playoff attendance.

The annual playoffs are conducted according to the popular "Shaughnessy System" which calls for playoff among the first four teams at the end of the regular season.

President Rowland, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Alderman Thomas Coughlin, chairman of the Common Council's building, supplies and repairs committee, and Mayor William Edelmuth as speakers.

Alderman Coughlin said he had never dreamed that about three months ago, he would be summoned to a meeting in the mayor's office to discuss the possibility of bringing a Brooklyn Dodger minor league franchise to Kingston.

Coughlin said Kingston had had good independent teams but that the public had seen both good and bad baseball in the past several years. He referred to the public hearing on the Class D proposition, admitting that "we did have some opposition, strong opposition."

"We believe that at the present this opposition has been overcome," Coughlin continued. "The building committee and the Common Council are behind the movement wholeheartedly."

Coughlin Urges Cooperation

Coughlin asserted his belief that the Kingston Dodgers would survive the 1947 season and grow to a stronger organization offering local boys the chance to make good. "This was something they didn't have in the past," he said. He urged the cooperation of all organizations and the sports-minded people of the city. He said he was confident the Brooklyn Dodger parent organization would give Kingston a strong team.

Mayor Edelmuth declared that he had refrained from participating in the negotiations with Brooklyn because he didn't want the baseball proposition to become a political issue. He lauded the choice of Clarence Rowland as club president and said that Mr. Rowland was a man who had always taken a fatherly interest in the welfare of the youth of the city.

Cites Help to Aid

The mayor said he was impressed by the commercial and advertising potentialities of a minor league franchise. He pointed out that approximately 40 men would be in Kingston at least three nights a week, being housed and fed in the city and spending money here. Kingston would be advertised in seven other cities, he said, and the town would have a nice flavor by reason of their affiliation with the Brooklyn Dodgers, the most discussed major league ball club of modern times. He said Kingston baseball talent would have better chance of development under organized ball.

Attending the dinner were Mayor Edelmuth, Clarence Rowland, president of the Kingston Dodgers; Harry L. Edson, Dr. Saul Goldfarb, Addison Jones and Matthew Herzog, of the honorary board of directors; Alderman Thomas Coughlin; Warren Smith, president of the City Baseball League; Dick McCarthy and Lou Steketee of station WPNY; and Joe Kelly and Charlie Tiano of The Freeman.

Henry's 257 Tops Catholic Keglers

Bob Henry of the Presentations walked off with high single honors in the Catholic League Wednesday night at the Centrals when he suddenly let loose and fired a sizzling 257 game to give him a 541 triple for the night. Henry's other games were 162 and 122.

J. Reis had high triple with his 193-570. Ed Norton posted 214-545 and Jack Hartman came through with 192-536.

Federation League

Austin Hitchcock, Fair Street Team 1, topped the Federation League Wednesday with a 555 triple. His top single was 206. Rappleyea of Clinton Avenue Team 3 had single honors with his 223.

142 Are in Tourney

Augusta, Ga., March 27 (AP)—A field of 142 golfers, representing army, navy and marine posts in all parts of the nation, will tee off tomorrow in the First Annual Inter-Service Invitational Tournament over the Oliver General Hosital course here. Winner of the 36-hole medal play event, the first of its kind ever to be held, will be invited to play in the Masters Tournament here April 3-6.

A.B.C. Tourney Opens

Los Angeles, March 27 (AP)—The American Bowling Congress, annual big show of the nation's keglers, gets underway tonight for the first time west of the Rockies, with a host of dignitaries invited to participate in the launching ceremony of the 47-day tournament. The National Guard armory in Exposition Park, next door neighbor of Los Angeles' huge Olympic games stadium, The Coliseum, was redecorated for the event in a Spanish motif, and, according to A.B.C. custom, 36 new alleys were installed. Gov. Earl Warren of California and Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles were named to send the first balls rolling down the lanes to open the tournament.

Dolson, Markle Top Women's Loop

Evelyn Dolson and Bev Markle split high triple honors in the weekly Colonial Women's League firing Wednesday night at the Central Recreation alleys when they both wound up with 538 triples to pace the Mayorettes to a pair of victories over Elstons.

Miss Dolson uncorked a high single game of 189 while Miss Markle clubbed 181. Rita Markle of the Kingston Knitting Mill team came up with the lone 200 of the night with her 204. She had a 498 series.

Marge Jansen followed with 196-532, Mary Smith had 180-521, petite Betty Boyce 187-520, Marie O'Donnell 175-503, Dot Flemings 178-502, and Marion O'Donnell 192-501.

88 Breeds in Dog Show

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—The bluebloods of dogdom will be exhibited Saturday and Sunday in the International Kennel Club's all-breed dog show, with a record entry of 1,550 dogs. Eighty-eight breeds are listed by 1,102 exhibitors—all time highs for the club. Another record is in geographical representation. The dogs will come from 40 states and three Canadian provinces.

Jimmy Rouse Wins Another Victory; Still After Bettina

Jimmy Rouse, Albany light-heavyweight, former Kingston amateur favorite, extended his victory record as a professional last night, by scoring a technical knockout over Nick Barone of Syracuse.

Rouse, who is angling for a shot at Mello Bettina, former 175-pound world's champion, stopped Barone in the sixth round, according to the Associated Press. Jimmy weighed 175 pounds, Barone 172.

Barney Williams, matchmaker for the Avalon Sporting Club in Newburgh, said he would welcome the opportunity of promoting a Bettina-Rouse fight, and advised sports writers that he intended to start the ball rolling for one.

Word from the Rouse camp is that Jimmy is ready to box Mello or anybody else in Newburgh.

Jimmy Grippo of Beacon, manager of Bettina, seems too busy trying to promote his fighter into a date with Joe Louis for the world's heavyweight title to devote any thought to a match with Rouse.

Concerning Rouse's chances with Bettina, Ben M. Becker, director of bouts for Kingston B'nai B'rith club, who developed him as an amateur and is still coaching him, remarked, "I think Rouse could beat Bettina. He has it on the Beacon Bomber as far as age goes, is faster and can hit. I'm not surprised Grippo is running out on the match."

Nick will have trouble enough keeping the boys apart come the night of the big match.

OF ANCIENT BASEBALL: Ernest C. "Duke" Landgraf, president of the North Atlantic League of which Kingston is the baby member, recalls that Kingston was in organized ball some forty five years ago in a league known as the Hudson River League. Kingston was a member of this league for a number of years and in 1903 won the pennant under the management of Hank Ramsey.

The pitchers on this team, the "Duke" relates, were Bill Pounds, Van Riper, Donnelly, Schultz, Farley and Walsh. How many do you remember? Other players were Rice (probably the late Artie Rice, father of Fred Rice, veteran bowling star), Buttermore, Lawson, Rube De Groff, Smith, Ganier, Beckendorf, Fay, Peoples, Daly, Irwin, and Patience. In the pennant race, Hudson, Peekskill, Saugerties, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Catskill finished behind Kingston in that order.

In 1913 Kingston was a member of the New York-New Jersey League. It was the city's last year in organized ball. Other members of the league were the famous Long Branch Cubans with Dolf Luque and Mike Gonzales, Poughkeepsie, Middletown, and Newburgh in New York and Danbury, Conn. Kingston players were Quinn, first base; Kelly and Anderson, second base; Adler, third base; Bradley, shortstop; Lewis and Smith, catchers; Matthewson, McAuliffe and Fallon. The pitchers were Schwab, Hoar, McGarry and Woods.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

Nick Kaslich, the uptown pocket billiard tycoon, who refers to his city championship tournament contestants as "sharks" and wishes they would play that way, is soon to have a seating problem on his hands. . . . When the Quick brothers—Clifton and Harold—clash in the near future there is a better than even chance they will be undefeated and that battle will decide the championship. . . . Bob East's 51 is still high run in the tournament, followed by Julius Tellier's 32 and Harold Quick's 29. . . . Records as of Saturday were: H. Quick 6-0, Clifton Quick 5-0, Jules Tellier 4-2, Bob East 5-3, Eddie Benoit 3-2, Harry Markle 3-3, Ralph Gardner 2-3, Frank Schilling 1-6, Stan Warren 1-6, Mynie Russell 0-6.

THE MAIL BAG: Brings a letter from Earl Mellow, late of Kingston, now of San Diego, Cal., via U. S. Navy. Earl, who was a member of a mad-hatting trio that included Dwight McEntee and Ken Saunders, says he hasn't thrown a bowling ball since before the war. . . . "And for no good reason at all," he writes. . . . Mellow is hopeful of seeing some Kingston keglers at the Los Angeles A.B.C. tournament. . . . However, only Ad Jones is making the trip, and with a Poughkeepsie team. . . . Earl said he saw the New York Giants work out a few days ago and they showed him just enough to convince him that they will finish exactly where they did last season. . . . This, of course, will occasion considerable teeth gnashing among the local Giant diehards. . . . He thinks Clint Hartung is still two years away and a dangerous man in two departments—he hits hard and is liable to get hit every time he goes after a fly ball.

Rowland to Head Group; 61 Home Games on Schedule

The Kingston Dodgers, newest members of the Class D North Atlantic Baseball League, will play a 140-game schedule, with the Kingston opener scheduled for Saturday, May 3, Clarence Rowland, club president, announced last night at a dinner meeting of club officials and members of the press and radio at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Kingston will have 61 home dates and will open the North Atlantic season away from home on May 1 against the Bloomingdale, N. J. nine. The originally planned date of Friday, May 2, was changed so as to keep the interference with local stores at a minimum, club officials said.

The policy will be to play night games, excluding Sunday and holidays, and twilight-night doubleheaders when it becomes necessary to make up postponed games.

Rickey, Jr., Is Director

The formal introduction of the Dodgers' officials and directors revealed that Clarence S. Rowland is a member of the corporate organization as president. Harold Roettger is vice-president; Fresco Thompson, secretary; and Donald Beach, treasurer. These four men with Branch Rickey, Jr., compose the board of directors.

In addition to this, a group of Kingston professional and business men comprise what is to be known as the honorary board of directors. They are Harry L. Edson, Bernard Feeney, Dr. Saul Goldfarb, Bernard A. Culloton, Edmund J. Coughlin, Addison Jones and Matthew Herzog. These men will act in an advisory capacity, insofar as the local program and policies are concerned.

Paul Taylor, business manager of the club, informed the group that he had received word from Florida yesterday that the Kingston manager would be named within the next week. Mr. Taylor said the selection probably would be a well known "name" player of the Dodger organization.

The Kingston club will be formed at the Thomasville, N. C., training camp. This staging area is the center of training for the Brooklyn organization's Class D farm teams that operate east of the Mississippi. The camp opens on April 1 and approximately three weeks will be spent in conditioning and organizing the various teams from the wealth of baseball talent signed by Dodger scouts and baseball schools during the previous summer.

The local Dodgers are expected to arrive in Kingston about a week before the opening date and will work out at the municipal stadium. The workouts will be open to the sports public.

Local Color Slated

Local color will be furnished by "Red" Gorsline, who was signed to a contract last summer and who reports to Thomasville on April 1. Bobby Newhart, the sensational Highland Falls youngster who was voted the outstanding player in the junior game against Brooklyn staged by the Kingston Athletic Association last year, also is slated for the local squad, along with hard hitting Bob Boyer, of Poughkeepsie, Earl Lane, the Windham catching wizard.

There will be about 20 players in the original group that comes to Kingston, Taylor said. In the North Atlantic League a team is allowed to carry 20 players on its roster for the first 30 days of the season, when the player limit is reduced to 15 for the remainder of the schedule.

The playing roster normally is made up of two catchers, six pitchers, three outfielders and four infielders.

The membership of the North Atlantic League and the major league affiliations are:

Kingston, N. Y.—Brooklyn Dodgers.
Peekskill, N. Y.—New York Giants.
Carbondale, Pa.—Philadelphia Phillies.
Stroudsburg, Pa.—New York Yankees.
Nazareth, Pa.—Detroit Tigers.
Mahanoy City, Pa.—Independent.
Bloomingdale, N. J.—Boston Braves.
Nyack, N. Y.—Philadelphia Athletics.

Kingston is the largest city in the circuit from the standpoint of population. The smallest are Nyack and Nazareth with about 6000 each. The overall attendance in 1946, first year of the league's operation, was approximately 340,000, Taylor said. This figure includes the playoff attendance.

The annual playoffs are conducted according to the popular "Shaughnessy System" which calls for playoff among the first four teams at the end of the regular season.

President Rowland, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Alderman Thomas Coughlin, chairman of the Common Council's building, supplies and repairs committee, and Mayor William Edelmuth as speakers.

Alderman Coughlin said he had never dreamed that about three months ago, he would be summoned to a meeting in the mayor's office to discuss the possibility of bringing a Brooklyn Dodger minor league franchise to Kingston.

Coughlin said Kingston had had good independent teams but that the public had seen both good and bad baseball in the past several years. He referred to the public hearing on the Class D proposition, admitting that "we did have some opposition, strong opposition."

"We believe that at the present this opposition has been overcome," Coughlin continued. "The building committee and the Common Council are behind the movement wholeheartedly."

Coughlin Urges Cooperation

Coughlin asserted his belief that the Kingston Dodgers would survive the 1947 season and grow to a stronger organization offering local boys the chance to make good. "This was something they didn't have in the past," he said. He urged the cooperation of all organizations and the sports-minded people of the city. He said he was confident the Brooklyn Dodger parent organization would give Kingston a strong team.

Mayor Edelmuth declared that he had refrained from participating in the negotiations with Brooklyn because he didn't want the baseball proposition to become a political issue. He lauded the choice of Clarence Rowland as club president and said that Mr. Rowland was a man who had always taken a fatherly interest in the welfare of the youth of the city.

Cites Help to Aid

The mayor said he was impressed by the commercial and advertising potentialities of a minor league franchise. He pointed out that approximately 40 men would be in Kingston at least three nights a week, being housed and fed in the city and spending money here. Kingston would be advertised in seven other cities, he said, and the town would have a nice flavor by reason of their affiliation with the Brooklyn Dodgers, the most discussed major league ball club of modern times. He said Kingston baseball talent would have better chance of development under organized ball.

Attending the dinner were Mayor Edelmuth, Clarence Rowland, president of the Kingston Dodgers; Harry L. Edson, Dr. Saul Goldfarb, Addison Jones and Matthew Herzog, of the honorary board of directors; Alderman Thomas Coughlin; Warren Smith, president of the City Baseball League; Dick McCarthy and Lou Steketee of station WKNY; and Joe Kelly and Charlie Tiano of The Freeman.

A.B.C. Tourney Opens

Los Angeles, March 27 (AP)—The American Bowling Congress, annual big show of the nation's keglers, gets underway tonight for the first time west of the Rockies, with a host of dignitaries invited to participate in the launching ceremony of the 47-day tournament. The National Guard armory in Exposition Park, next door neighbor of Los Angeles' huge Olympic games stadium, The Coliseum, was redecorated for the event in a Spanish motif, and, according to A.B.C. custom, 36 new alleys were installed. Gov. Earl Warren of California and Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles were named to send the first balls rolling down the lanes to open the tournament.

Henry's 257 Tops Catholic Keglers

Bob Henry of the Presentations walked off with high single honors in the Catholic League Wednesday night at the Centrals when he suddenly let loose and fired a sizzling 257 game to give him a 541 triple for the night. Henry's other games were 162 and 122.

J. Reis had high triple with his 193-570. Ed Norton posted 214-545 and Jack Hartman came through with 192-536.

Federation League

142 Are in Tourney

Augusta, Ga., March 27 (AP)—A field of 142 golfers, representing, army, navy and marine posts in all parts of the nation, will tee off tomorrow in the First Annual Inter-Service Invitational Tournament over the Oliver General Hosital course here. Winner of the 36-hole medal play event, the first of its kind ever to be held, will be invited to play in the Masters Tournament here April 3-6.

Dolson, Markle Top Women's Loop

Evelyn Dolson and Bev Markle split high triple honors in the weekly Colonial Women's League firing Wednesday night at the Central Recreation alleys when they both wound up with 538 triples to pace the Mayorettes to a pair of victories over Elstons.

Miss Dolson uncorked a high single game of 189 while Miss Markle clubbed 181. Rita Markle of the Kingston Knitting Mill team came up with the lone 200 of the night with her 204. She had a 498 series.

Marge Jansen followed with 196-532, Mary Smith had 180-521, petite Betty Boyce 187-520, Marie O'Donnell 175-503, Dot Flemings 178-502, and Marion O'Donnell 192-501.

88 Breeds in Dog Show

Chicago, March 27 (AP) — The bluebloods of dogdom will be exhibited Saturday and Sunday in the International Kennel Club's all-breed dog show, with a record entry of 1,550 dogs. Eighty-eight breeds are listed by 1,102 exhibitors—all time highs for the club. Another record is in geographical representation. The dogs will come from 40 states and three Canadian provinces.

Jimmy Rouse Wins Another Victory; Still After Bettina

Jimmy Rouse, Albany light-heavyweight, former Kingston amateur favorite, extended his victory record as a professional last night, by scoring a technical knockout over Nick Barone of Syracuse.

Rouse, who is angling for a shot at Melio Bettina, former 175-pound world's champion, stopped Barone in the sixth round, according to the Associated Press. Jimmy weighed 175 pounds, Barone 172.

Barney Williams, matchmaker for the Avalon Sporting Club in Newburgh, said he would welcome the opportunity of promoting a Bettina-Rouse fight, and advised sports writers that he intended to start the ball rolling for one.

Word from the Rouse camp is that Jimmy is ready to box Melio or anybody else in Newburgh.

Jimmy Grippo of Beacon, manager of Bettina, seems too busy trying to promote his fighter into a date with Joe Louis for the world's heavyweight title to devote any thought to a match with Rouse.

Concerning Rouse's chances with Bettina, Ben M. Becker, director of bouts for Kingston B'nai B'rith club, who developed him as an amateur and is still coaching him, remarked, "I think Rouse could beat Bettina. He has it on the Beacon Bomber as far as age goes, is faster and can hit. I'm not surprised Grippo is running out on the match."

Maroon Five Gets K's During Senior Assembly, K.H.S.

Eight members of Kingston High School's varsity basketball team received block K's Wednesday afternoon during the senior assembly at the school. Seven players and the manager were so honored. They were Ed Weaver, George Glaser, Mike Rienzo, Joe Albany, Harry Koch, Bob Ghnar, Ken Lowe and Paul Donahue, manager.

Clarence L. Dumm, principal, acted as a proxy for Irvin R. Fletcher, superintendent of schools at Port Jervis, who is the league president, in making the awards of two trophies—one for the DUSO title and the other for the Section Nine championship.

Going through the season with 20 wins as against only two losses, this year's Maroon and White team established a new record as far as victories are concerned. It was the first team to amass the 20 games mark in the history of the school.

The Section Nine award is now in the permanent possession of Kingston but the forces of G. Warren Kias still have one year to

Maroon Five Gets K's During Senior Assembly, K.H.S.

Eight members of Kingston High School's varsity basketball team received block K's Wednesday afternoon during the senior assembly at the school. Seven players and the manager were so honored. They were Ed Weaver, George Glaser, Mike Rienzo, Joe Albany, Harry Koch, Bob Ghear, Ken Lowe and Paul Donahue, manager.

Clarence L. Dumm, principal, acted as a proxy for Irvin R. Fletcher, superintendent of schools at Port Jervis, who is the league president, in making the awards of two trophies—one for the DUSO title and the other for the Section Nine championship.

Going through the season with 20 wins as against only two losses, this year's Maroon and White team established a new record as far as victories are concerned. It was the first team to amass the 20 games mark in the history of the school.

The Section Nine award is now in the permanent possession of Kingston but the forces of G. Warren Kias still have one year to go in order to clinch the outright ownership of the DUSO cup.

$8,000 Is Being Spent to Improve WiltwyckGolfClub

Extensive alterations, costing about $8,000, are now going on the Wiltwyck Golf Club, directors of the organization learned Wednesday night at a regular meeting. It was announced that all improvements should be completed between April 15 and May 1.

Danaher to Return

Tommy Danaher, veteran pro, will again return to the Wiltwyck greens this year. He is expected to assume his duties Tuesday, April 1 and will assist in getting the course ready for the summer as soon as weather permits. Danaher will be assisted by Homer Van Aken.

Major improvements to the club house consist of the installation of three modern tile showers, an up to date pro shop, and a large recreation room. These have been made possible by the adding of a large addition to the south end of the building. A modern oil buring heating system also has been provided.

Contract for the work was given to Henry Swart and the heating and plumbing work is being done by Edward Coffey Sons.

The new additions also include new fairway power mowers, new power mowers for the greens and other up to date equipment.

A slight increase in dues was voted by the directors for the coming season to meet the higher costs of operation.

LOCAL STORE MODERNIZES

Kay Sportwair of 46 North Front street is another local store, which recently has completed modernization and general improvements in appearance and efficiencyin its store. The picture above shows a view of one of the departments, which has been modernized. Customers have commented very favorably upon these improvements. (Freeman Photo)

Extensive Changes Find Additions, Improvements

Visitors to the Kaye Sportwair store, 46-48 North Front street, this Easter season, will be surprised and pleased at the transformation which has been wrought during the past months as the result of extensive changes and improvements which have been made under direction of Proprietor Louis W. Kantrowitz.

The entire interior of this old established emporium, familiar to people from all parts of the county who were wont to come there and "Ask Dave," regarding their clothing wants has been opened up so as to give an unobstructed view of every department. It has been completely redecorated and rearranged and with new fixtures and accessories presents a modern and attractive appearance.

A new floor has been laid throughout the large store, with its 2400 square feet of space on the main floor, and over this has been laid linoleum of a unique design. Large square pillars replace the old supporting posts and these with the rest of the woodwork and trim, all of which is new, have been given a pleasing tint of light green.

New fluorescent lighting fixtures have been installed throughout the store, affording daylight lighting that adds greatly to the general effect and which will be appreciated by patrons.

The greatest change, perhaps, is in the arrangement of merchandise. The entire store has been departmentized, which adds to the convenience of customers, while new shelving and cases permits sizable additions to stocks displayed and lines carried.

One notable addition is the sporting goods department, which with increased stock now occupies a place on the main floor. The clothing department, always a leading feature of the Kantrowitz store, has been greatly enlarged. There is a complete new shoe department and dress and sport shirts have been accorded separate departments and the space given over to them greatly enlarged.

Telescope Almost Ready

Pasadena, Calif., March 27 (AP)—It's taken a lot of elbow grease, but— After seven years of grinding and polishing, the world's largest telescope—the 200-inch mirror for Mt. Palomar—will be completed early in August. The California Institute of Technology announced that the big glass should be in operation sometime in October. The $6,000,000 reflector has been polished with iron oxide to within two-millionths of an inch of perfection, scientists reported.

Pennsylvanian Offers Bill Banning 'Shops'

Harrisburg, Pa., March 27 (AP)—Insisting that "a man's right to work is as fundamental as his right to strike," State Senator James S. Berger has introduced a bill in the Pennsylvania Legislature which would outlaw closed shops.

"I consider a closed shop an un-American practice," Berger told a reporter. The Potter county Republican is chairman of the Senate's Labor and Industry Committee.

Berger's measure would make it an unfair labor practice in Pennsylvania "to require membership or non-membership in a labor organization" as a condition of employment.

Employers and unions or their officers would be prohibited from agreeing to any contract requiring employes or applicants for employment "to join, continue their membership in, form or assist labor organizations."

Close Search for Bormann

Berlin, March 27 (AP)—An intensified and widespread manhunt, backed by the U. S. State Department, is under way for the condemned Martin Bormann, missing deputy of Adolf Hitler, it was disclosed today. Pictures of the shadowy Nazi bigwig have been produced and distributed by the State Department to its embassies and ministries in Europe, South America and elsewhere. Bormann, missing since the end of the war and condemned to the gallows in absentia by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg, never has been proven dead. On the contrary, he frequently has been seen alive at scattered places. None of these reports have been substantiated.

Aero Lake Offers Veterans Use of Field Facilities

Kingston's newest and most modern airport, Aero Lake, is making all its facilities available for veterans under the G.I. Bill, it was announced recently.

Larry Lyons, manager of the airport, has said that a complete training program will start in the near future. This will enable any veteran to use his educational benefits either to learn to fly, or, if he now possesses a pilot certificate, to add various ratings to that license. This includes private and commercial licenses; the ratings are flight instructor, instrument, and land and sea single engine. Mr. Lyons also announced that if enough veterans proved interested in acquiring multi-engine ratings, the company will purchase a twin-engine plane for that purpose.

Recent equipment obtained for use on this program include a new Stinson Voyager outfitted with complete instrument panel, radio, and flares for night and "blind" flying. The field is now also furnished with runway lights for night flights. A Link trainer has been installed for teaching instrument or "blind" flying.

Aero Lake Airport has been open to the public for less than a year. It is a model airport, combined with a seaplane base on the adjoining lake, formerly known as Esopus Lake. There are two large modern hangars, with offices, repair shop, and Link room. On the second floor of one hangar is a large lounge and classroom, walled with windows, and overlooking the runway and seaplane dock. This will be used for ground classes on the school program. The planes used will include Cub and Aeronca trainers, Cruiser, Stinson Voyager and Cub seaplane.

The field will continue to operate its usual services and be open to the public at all times. Mr. Lyons will be glad to interview and aid all veterans interested in the school program

Gets Political Job

Washington, March 27 (AP)—John M. Redding, 38 of Suffern, N. Y., newspaper veteran who served as public relations officer for General Omar N. Bradley in Europe, yesterday was appointed publicity director for the Democratic National Committee. He succeeds Sam O'Neal, who resigned in February after two years in the post.

After A.W.O.L.s

Frankfurt, March 27 (AP)—The United States Army early today launched a 48-hour drive to round up soldiers and War Department civilians absent without leave throughout the European theatre.
